Junta Captures Rebels' Radio

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Troops loyal to the civilian-military junta occupied the main rebel radio station today and insurgent resistance in northern Santo Domingo appeared to have collapsed.

Units of the Dominican Air Force police moved into the silent Santo Domingo radio station this morning after a brisk exchange of fire with snipers in nearby buildings.

The junta, scenting victory in the civil war, turned down last night a U.N. appeal for a cease-fire which the rebels were ready to accept.

Troops loyal to the junta appeared to have control of more than half the industrial-suburban area north of the east-west corridor established by U. S. troops leading to the international zone for refugees. The main rebel stronghold lies south of the corridor.

The sound of battle lessened during the day. A military officer who led the occupation of the radio station said "the insurgents have disappeared and we are trying to find them."

There still was no official figure on casualties in the battle, which has been raging for three days. There have been unverified reports of many dead among civilians living in the northern suburbs.

U.S. troops are not involved in the fighting, but a U.S. military spokesman said five American soldiers were wounded by rebel sniper fire in 56 separate shooting incidents in the 24-hour period ending at midnight. U.S. battle casualties stand at 19 dead and 99 wounded.

Jose Antonio Mayobre of Venezuela, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's special Dominican envoy, told a news conference that Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, the junta chief, "indicated he thought he was winning and therefore could not talk of a cease-fire."

Mayobre said Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, the insurgent leader, had expressed willingness to accept a truce.

Two of President Johnson's special envoys, Undersecretary of State Thomas C. Mann and former ambassador John Bartlow Martin, returned to Washington last night.

State Department sources said Mann and Martin reported to Secretary of State Dean Rusk. No details were given out.

McGeorge Bundy, the President's national security affairs adviser, remained in the Dominican Republic to continue the U.S. peacemaking effort.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker told the OAS Council in Washington "there is reason to believe" that able men are available to serve in a new Dominican government which would exclude Communists and other extremist elements.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, the Security Council was scheduled to hear today from Ruben Brache, representative of the rebels, and Guaroa Velazquez, representing the junta.

In Caracas, Foreign Minister Ignacio Iribarren Borges told newsmen Venezuela is considering recognizing the rebel force as the rightful Dominican government but that it will not act alone. He said he is sound-

MORAL: DON'T STOP ON BRIDGE

Carrier-Based Planes Plaster Bases In North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese fighter-bombers killed 85 Viet Cong in an atack in Binh Thuan Province today, a U.S. spokesman announced.

The spokesman said a U.S. forward air controller observed the Viet Cong assembling in company strength in a mountain valley and called in Vietnamese planes that were flying to another target.

THREE BARRACKS

Forty U.S. Navy planes destroyed three military barracks and inflicted heavy damage on other installations in the second consecutive day of air strikes against North Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The spokesman said the aircraft from the carrier Coral Sea struck at two target areas 40 miles north of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

The raid was the second in 24 hours after a six-day suspension of air strikes against the Communist North. Speculation grew that the United States may broaden the air attacks.

The barracks were destroyed at Hoan Lao. It was not known whether they were occupied.

FIRST ASSAULT

Planners' Vote Favors Terra Linda High-Rise

Draper Offers City Four-Acre Park Site

Spurning the organized opposition of Terra Linda residents, six members of the San Rafael Planning Commission last night unanimously recommended approval of the Draper Companies' revised plan for high rise and townhouse apartments on Quail Hill.

City Planner George H. Rodgers predicted the city council would decide June 7 to schedule a June 21 hearing before making its final decision on the matter.

Commissioners were particularly pleased by Draper's offer to the city of four acres at the south end of the development for a park, a feature not in the plan when the first hearing was held two weeks ago.

FIRST HEARING

As at the first hearing, the city council chambers was filled to standing room only during the two-hour hearing.

Sole spokesman for the opposing Terra Landa Valley Property Owners Assn. was attorney Phillip E. Brown, a member of the association. After his 30-minute presentation, acting commissioner chairman Carl S. Brown gave Donald C. Marek, spokesman for the Darper Companies, a rebuttal period.

Attorney Brown said he had no quarrel with proposals for the park and landscaped buffer areas at the south end of the hill.

DENSITY PLAN

He contended that the density of the plan, which Marek had earlier placed at 11.5 units per acre, violated the spirit of the county master plan (drawn up before the hill was annexed to San Rafael), the not-yet-adopted San Rafael General Plan, and earlier statements of the Draper Companies.

Nothing that Marek had said 600,000 cubic yards of dirt would have to be moved, Brown said he had calculated that if this were spread over the homes of Terra Landa property owners, "It would bury us eight feet . . . That's a hell of a lot of dirt."

Marek countered that the im-

Hefty Raise Voted For County Aides

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted hefty increases in the salaries for three county executives.

Pay of the county counsel will go from $17,600 to $22,000 in July. Two years later it will go to $24,000, according to the schedule adopted yesterday. Douglas J. Maloney is county counsel.

The change will put the county counsel's salary $1,000 above that of the county administrator, who was given a $5,000 boost to $21,000 a year in January. It is $5,350 above the present salary of the district attorney, although there is now a bill in the Legislature, endorsed by the county supervisors, to raise the district attorney to $23,000.

The pay for the director of community health service, Clyde G. Miller, will increase from $17,600 to $19,500 in July.

Salary for director of public health, Carolyn B. Albrecht, will go from $16,800 to $18,000 in July.

The increases were recommended by Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker and Thomas T. Storer, who make up the board's executive salary committee.

Eight-In-One U.S. Satellite Launch Bared

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States secretly launched eight military satellites into orbit with one rocket last March 9, the New York Times said today.

This was the greatest number of payloads ever put into space with one booster by this country and it is believed to exceed any multiple launching made by the Soviet Union, a Washington dispatch said.

The story also said in part:

The satellites were launched by an Air Force Thor-Agena rocket from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. They were pushed apart from each other by metal springs, a simple technique first used by the Navy's Vanguard satellite launcher in 1958.

The satellites are circling the earth in orbits ranging between 561 and 585 miles high.

A similar technique will be used by the Air Force several times next year to put eight military communications satellites into orbit at one time from a single Titan-3C rocket.

Sheeks Charges Bias As Marincello Blasted

By DAVID HASSETT

The much-discussed Marincello project was gently booted into the bay at a Mill Valley public hearing last night, despite a sharp accusation from City Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks that some of his colleagues were biased.

"Constructive criticism" was called for by Mayor Michael Wornum at the outset. The criticism heard tore a handful of holes in the Frouge Corp. plan.

Sheeks leaped in with a broadside at the start of the joint city council-planning commission meeting set unofficially to discuss Marincello and make appropriate recommendations. There were quite a few.

Sheeks charged, "This is not an impartial hearing. This is not an objective proceeding aimed at making a decision based on the facts."

He claimed three members of the Mill Valley City Council have long since adopted public positions in opposition to Marincello: Mayor Wornum and Councilman Albert E. White and William Secor.

The developer, Sheeks said, is entitled to full hearing on all the facts and, he predicted, "the county planning commission will give this proceeding exactly the weight it deserves — a bit of pious pompery, a frivolous piece of window-dressing."

Sheeks, an attorney acting for Frouge Corp., held that Mill Valley should not take a position on the issue.

"In view of our past conduct, it is inconsistent in the extreme for us now to be wandering this far afield," he declared. No interest had been taken, he assert-

College Probe Proposal Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature moved closer today toward a broad inquiry into the state's higher education system, including the University of California.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, and Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said they may set up a joint legislative committee to look into every facet of the university and the state colleges.

It would not be restricted to the University of California at Berkeley, scene of student demonstrations, both men emphasized.

Presbyterians To Study New Racial Stand

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Delegates to the 177th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church will begin consideration tomorrow of a new statement of faith for the church's followers.

It is the culmination of seven years of study and gives specific attention to what should be the church's view on matters of race, war and poverty.

The 3.3 million member denomination will be asked to adopt a resolution striking strongly at racism.

(Among those attending preassembly committee meetings in Columbus are Dr. Theodore A. Gill, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, and other seminary officials. Student Body President Harry R. Bremer will leave tomorrow to attend the assembly.)

The statement urges the assembly to "find no theological grounds for condemning or prohibiting marriage between consenting adults merely because of racial origin."

It asks a united effort for repeal or nullification of laws prohibiting interracial marriage

Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced appointment of Garety and Los Angeles attorney Leon M. Cooper, 40, to replace Arthur Belcher of Hillsborough and Robert H. Haden of Merced. The job pays $14,000 per year.

Belcher and Haden resigned from the appeals board following an investigation by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch into a dinner party the two men attended in March with Dominic Tavmission.

Belt Buckle Uniformity Attempt Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is finally giving up on its three-year effort to find a black belt buckle satisfactory to all three branches of the armed forces.

In response to an inquiry, the Defense Supply Agency (DSA) said today:

"A three-year effort to standardize belt buckles and clips for the military services has been dropped. The three separate buckles currently in use will continue to be supplied by DSA."

This means soldiers and sailors will continue to get polished yellow buckles, members of the Air Force will receive nickel-silver buckles and the Marines will keep their traditional red-dish brass buckles.

The standardized buckle was to have been black. Officials had hoped its use would save the government about $24,000 a year.

But a DSA spokesman said 35 companies had made the attempt and none had been able to produce a satisfactory black buckle without increasing costs.

The subject of the buckles ficial revealed that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara once had been asked to decide on a standardized butcher's apron for use in the armed services mess kitchens.

PLUG IN THE TOMATO JUICE

Bacteria Seen As Power Source

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It's breakfast time and the house power has failed, you say?

That was the prospect for the future suggested yesterday by a report to the Institute of Chemical Engineers.

The report, by a research team of the Thompson-Ramo-Wooldridge Corp. of Anaheim, said that bacteria may some day be used to generate electrical energy to light streets and homes.

The scientists said they have already shown that the unusual power source works. Using a compact generating unit, they have run a transistor radio for more than 50 hours on about two tablespoons of coconut juice.

They said the system is based on the metabolism—the chemical processes that provide energy to living things — of bacteria. A digestive by-product of whatever the bacteria ingests is either oxidation or the breakdown of food source ingredients, they explained.

The effect of this process is an increased electron flow, which can be intercepted by an electron "trap" of platinum, silver—some other noble metal—or carbon. Result: electric current.

The team, Jon Braker, Herbert P. Silverman and C. Ronald Townsend, suggested that biochemistry might become "a very cheap source of power" for energy-poor nations.

Light or radio beacons could be run at sea on the energy of the water's tiny marine organisms," they said, or man's wastes could be converted into electricity in a space ship.

The great advantage, they said, is that the system is based on materials found everywhere in nature. The theory is an old one.

Vote Official's Son Killed In Auto Blast

HAZLETON, Pa. (UPI)—An FBI team joined local and state authorities today in an effort to determine what kind of explosive was used to kill an election official's son when he started his father's car.

Michael Ruggiero, 17, was the victim of the blast which rocked a residential area and sent bits of metal flying in all directions.

It was election day yesterday and Mike was home from school. His mother, Antoinette, 43, had to do some grocery shopping so he decided to drive her to the store in his father's automobile.

Mike walked to the firehouse where his father, a power shovel operator for a strip mining firm, was on duty as an election judge and got the key to the 1958 model car, parked only half a block away.

The youth turned on the ignition and the car was blasted to bits in a puff of black smoke. Mike was killed instantly.

The elder Ruggiero heard the explosion and raced from the polling place. Ignoring cuts and burns, he dug into the blazing hot wreckage and reached his son's body.

Mike was hurled into the back seat of the demolished auto. The force of the blast was so great that it tore his clothes and shoes from his body.

Mike, one of eight Ruggiero children, was a member of the high school track team and tuba player in the band. He was scheduled to be graduated June 7.

Broemmel Answers Assessment Protests

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel stepped into a lion's den of assessment protesters last night, to be met with laughter and derisive applause.

An estimated 600 persons jammed the Reed School auditorium on the Tiburon Peninsula, sitting on chairs, tables, the floor and standing outside listening to speakers through open doors.

Broemmel's comment before the throng that assessor's "are governed by one single county-wide desire to be fair" was met with laughter. Broemmel was applauded when he had to leave the meeting before it ended.

Broemmel said it is not appraisals that hike the tax bill, but high tax rates. He pointed to Reed School District, where the statutory limit is 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation but "you have voted a maximum ceiling of $2.25 and an override for bond and loan repayments adds another 59.5 cents.

"Many of us seem to blame the assessor for high taxes and take keen interest in an increase in assessments. Where are all of you when budgets for schools, cities and county government are discussed? What percentage of our citizens vote at school elections, city elections?" Broemmel asked.

The citizens protest group, called CUT, for "Correct Unfair Taxation," organized the meeting in protest of reappraisals on the peninsula. One of its leaders, Mrs. Chester C. Vargas of Belvedere, quoted county officials as saying rises have averaged 66 per cent on the peninsula.

Speakers urged residents to protest reappraisals and outlined the organization of CUT, which plans to open a headquarters.

Spectators included some persons from Mill Valley, Mrs. Vargas reported. She said that 275 valunteered to work for CUT.

"It's the first time in anyone's recollection that the entire area is in accord on any one issue," Mrs. Vargas said. "We could start something nationally here."

and for federal legislation to make "conspiracy to deprive a person of his civil rights which ends in the death of that person" a federal crime.

In other resolutions, the 835 delegates attending the nearly week long sessions will be asked to:

Encourage public and private agencies to develop birth control methods acceptable to all religious faiths.

Advocate "gradual balanced reduction in nuclear arms."

Reaffirm support of the United Nations.

HIGH RISE

portant thing was "not the sheer volume of how much dirt we are going to move, but what will be the end result.

The two "north of the hill" planning commissioners, John A. Miskimen and V. Judson Klein, were first to speak after the hearing was closed.

"I live about two blocks from this hill," said Miskimen, "and I suspect that I shall shudder when the first Caterpillar starts to carve away part of this fine hill.

"It is also true, however, if, when the Homestead Act was passed, each new piece of land development had been restricted by whether the neighbors approved of it or not—well, the Indians might have been happy, but the character of this country would have been very different."

Miskimen argued that it "would be very close to expropriating private property" for the commission not to zone the hill for planned community development as was asked.

As for the plan's density, Miskimen said the 2,400 square feet per unit proposed by Draper was double that of apartment plans which had been approved in other parts of the city.

Klein said he had been "on the other side of that rail" as a member of the property owners group when the commission turned down another Draper plan for the hill last year.

"I think the deficiencies we saw in it then have been solved," he said.

He and another commissioner said they would rather have a planned community, with resulting control, than the virtually uncontrolled building of single family homes on the hill.

After approving the zoning, commissioners voted to grant a use permit for the development. They attached several conditions recommended by Rodgers, including requirements that Draper Companies dedicate landscape easements in areas designated as buffer zones, as well as dedicating several "tot lots" and the four-acre park site.

Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. was absent.

Equipment For Painting Stolen

James D. Ellis told San Rafael police yesterday that $1,700 worth of painting equipment has been stolen from premises at 438 Francisco Boulevard where he rents storage space.

Missing are an air compressor valued at $1,550, nine ladders and 10 drop cloths.

Thieves got in by forcing a rear door leading into a yard and then scaled a dividing wall into the building, reported Patrolman Gerald R. Souza. Ellis, of 112 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, believed his property was taken during the weekend.

ing out other Latin-American governments.

Informants in Buenos Aires said Argentina may call off plans for a foreign ministers' conference on the Dominican crisis because Brazil and Chile had declined to attend.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro said in a broadcast in Havana that U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic shows that instead of being despised as before, Cuba now inspires respect and fear in the United States.

Castro asserted that the landing of U.S. troops in the Dominican Republic "has been a political disaster which has put the Organization of American States in a ridiculous position."

Rapid Transit Gains Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An authority on mass transit says that at least 25 major U.S. cities will have rapid transit systems under construction or completed by 1980.

Donald C. Hyde, vice president of the Institute for Rapid Transit and general manager of The Cleveland, Ohio rapid transit system, predicted yesterday that tomorrow's cities will be linked by high-speed passenger train networks that will be tied in with local transit systems for quick connections.

Hyde spoke at a news conference held in a rapid transit car on display at Washington's Union Station during an institute meeting here.

Hearing Officer Bill Sent On To Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly gave final passage today to a measure that would allow counties to appoint hearing officers.

By a 51-0 vote, the Assembly sent to Gov. Brown a bill that would permit the officers to preside over all hearings except those dealing with planning or taxation. They would submit their findings and recommendations to the county supervisors.

District Elimination Plan Gains Ground

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly passed a bill today that would give local government a means to consolidate California's burgeoning special districts.

The house sent to the Senate on a 53-18 vote a measure by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, that he said would stop the proliferation of "useless, wasteful districts that tax the public but perform no services."

Storer Gets Sewage Cost Study Job

Marin County supervisors yesterday appointed Supervisor Thomas T. Storer to join a committee working out costs of a sewage disposal study in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach watershed.

The county has been asked to help pay for the study, along with the Stinson Beach County Water District and the Bolinas and Bolinas Beach public utility districts, because the watershed includes areas not in the three districts.

The Bolinas Public Utility District faces a May 31 deadline set last December by the Regional Water Pollution Control Board for the district to start working to end pollution in Bolinas Bay.

Chairman Peter H. Behr of the board of supervisors predicted the county's share will be about $3,000. Behr urged that the board not wait until budget hearings to approve its part in the survey if the districts must act swiftly due to the pollution control board deadline.

Marin Park Land Funds In Danger

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—An Assembly committee tonight will receive a sub-committee report which may call for elimination of state purchase of land for Marin Headlands State Park and expansion of Mount Tamalpais State Park in the next fiscal year.

John Williamson, D-Bakersfield, chairman of a subcommittee of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, said his subcommittee of seven members will report to the full Ways and Means Committee tonight.

"But we have not decided yet on which projects to include or defer of the 16 items proposed by the governor," said Williamson.

He said, that if all 16 projects were acquired as recommended, most of the bond money voted last year for park acquisition would be used up.

"We are concerned over exhausting this money," said Williamson. He said there are many other park sites that must be considered.

Among the 16 park acquisitions suggested by the governor are 3,212 acres, including four and one-half miles of ocean front to expand Mount Tamalpais State Park, and 320 acres of military land for Marin Headlands State Park.

Williamson said that some of these projects may have to be put off, but he does not know which ones.

Clergy, Politics Debate Is Slated

Two ministers and a high school teacher will lead a public discussion tomorrow on whether clergy and teachers should participate in politics.

The discussion will be sponsored by the Tiburon Peninsula Democratic Club and will begin at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Pino, 7 Felipe Court, Tiburon.

Rev. Jack Bartlett of Mill Valley Community Church and Charles Fesler, San Rafael High School teacher and assistant dean of students, will advocate active roles. Rev. Ernest Wood of the Tiburon Baptist Church will be on the side of limited participation, based on separation of church and state.

Convention Site Group Forms

Directors of the Marin Visitors Bureau yesterday formed a committee to encourage construction of facilities in the county which could house a convention.

They also passed a resolution asking the supervisors, if they activate their recently passed 4 per cent room tax, to set aside the funds collected for the promotion of the visitor and convention industry in Marin.

Coordinators for the newly formed "Visitors and Convention Facilities Committee" are Ray C. Schultz of Mill Valley and Frank George of Ross.

Governor Brown said Haden and Belcher "exercised poor judgment" in attending the dinner and permitting the owner to pay for their meal and drinks, although there was no evidence they had acted improperly.

The governor described the new appointees, Garety and Cooper, as "outstanding attorneys with fine legal backgrounds admirably suited to this important board."

A graduate of University of Santa Clara and University of San Francisco Law School, he joined the Marin district attorney's staff in 1951 as a deputy. He became district attorney in 1960 and resigned to enter private practice last year.

Garety said he will continue his law practice in San Rafael with the firm of Buresh, Garety and Vallarino. The Alcoholic Beverage Control Appeals board job is a part-time duty.

Viet Cong-held Truong Minh village.

A burst of machine-gun fire wounded one Marine in the operation 9 miles from Da Nang, but the guerrilla fled and no further contact was made.

In the village, the Marines found only 12 women and children and one old man. There were many booby traps, trenches and bunkers.

Vietnamese sources said a six-battalion operation against the Viet Cong near the border with North Viet Nam was called off today without making contact with the Communists.

The operation started yesterday. It was reported bad weather hampered air strikes accompanying it.

The air strikes against the Communist North were resumed after a six-day pause during which the United States reportedly sent out feelers to North Viet Nam for peace talks. Hanoi evidently rejected them.

Lung Cancer Deaths Triple In California

BERKELEY (UPI) — The death toll from lung cancer has tripled in California in 20 years, the Health Department said yesterday.

In a report called "Cancer in California," it said Californians today smoke more and start smoking earlier than most other Americans.

"It should be noted that many studies reveal health damage to be greater among persons who start smoking early in life than among persons who start later," the report said.

It also stated that persons who smoke less than one-half pack of cigarettes a day are three times more likely to die of lung cancer as nonsmokers, and those who smoke more than two packs a day are 14 times more likely to die of lung cancer.

Lucy Marie Rosado, 22, of 605 Manuel Drive, Novato, was reported in satisfactory condition but still "quite confused" at San Francisco General Hospital today, shortly after the Novato police, who had her listed as a missing person, were notified of her whereabouts.

Miss Rosado was admitted to the hospital's psychiatric ward about 3:30 p.m. yesterday in a "mentally disturbed" state, hospital physicians said.

There was no evidence of any physical injury, doctor's reported.

Miss Rosado was reported missing last night by her sister, Mrs. Jane R. Cox, with whom she has lived since coming to California from Hawaii a year ago.

She left home at 8 a.m. yesterday for business school in San Francisco, Novato police said. It was not known how she had reached the hospital.

Bradley said he was told by Kagel, a clerk for a San Francisco grocery store, that his wife went to feed the baby and when the infant did not respond, she called the fire department.

The Kegals have two other children, James and Linita.

Roadside Pickup Plan Meets Discouragement

If Marin County wants to keep its roadsides clean, it will have to hire a crew, the county board of supervisors was told yesterday.

Ruled out were cleanup by (1) county jail prisoners, (2) juvenile hall inmates, (3) Air Force stockade prisoners, and (4) welfare recipients.

The board, liking the idea of using prisoners to keep the roadsides clean, two months ago asked for a report on the proposal from County Administrator Alan Bruce. He said the report would take a month to prepare. It arrived yesterday, not from Bruce but from Public Works Director Donald R. Frost.

Frost's conclusion was that the county would have to invest in a truck and assign a regular crew to it if the sides of roadways are to be kept clear of trash. This would cost $18,000 a year, he said.

Frost said a very limited number of county jail prisoners are available for work and their effectiveness would be reduced by interruptions for visiting hours, medical appointments and court appearances.

He further said decision on whether to work rests with the prisoners.

Use of Juvenile Hall residents is also not practical since children there any length of time are given school work, Frost reported.

He further said it is not possible to use prisoners in the stockade at Hamilton Air Force Base since they are given an "intensive training program" by the military.

Frost also ruled out use of welfare recipients for such a work detail, even though the public works department has in the work training program of the Public Social Service Department (Welfare).

"Although the performance of individuals assigned to us has been impressive in some instances, the overall dependability of the people involved is not high," Frost said.

To Attend U.C.

Louis Laubscher, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Laubscher of 639 Wakerobin Lane, San Rafael, will attend graduate school at University of California, Berkeley, after he graduates from Principia College, Elsah, Ill., in June with an economics degree.

Eugene Charles Payne, 43, of San Francisco, was fined $220 on the charge. He was arrested April 30 by San Rafael police on Highway 101.

Joseph B. Loewy of 49 Harbor Street, San Rafael, was fined $276 for drunken driving. He was arrested Feb. 22 by San Rafael police.

Supervisors Split On Plan To Rezone Bolinas Harbor

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday split 3-2 in favor of the much-discussed open area zone for the 850-acre Bolinas Lagoon.

Although the Bolinas Harbor District would need a use permit for any development under the present agricultural (holding) zone, it has protested the similar use permit requirements under the open area zone.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen sided with the harbor district. He said the open zone would "demoralize" the district's efforts to establish a harbor.

Actually yesterday's vote was only on an intention to change the zone. Board members all agreed that the county must seek a declaratory relief ruling from the District Court of appeals on the authority to zone the lagoon at all.

The harbor district, through its attorney, Kenneth Jones, has contended that the county does not have jurisdiction since the lagoon was deeded to the district by the state in a trust for harbor development. Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Codino, in a lengthy opinion submitted yesterday, said the county does have jurisdiction.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Byron W. Leydecker and William H. Gnoss all said they did not think open area zoning would cause any conflict with the harbor district's plans.

Yesterday's vote was taken at the urging of Gnoss, who said the board should take a stand and stop putting off a decision.

Cold War Veterans Eligible For Loans

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Veterans of cold war conflicts will be eligible for Cal-Vet farm and homes loans under a bill signed into law yesterday by Governor Brown.

An estimated 25,000 veterans would qualify for the benefits under the bill, which extends loans to veterans of military operations for which the federal government has authorized the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal.

Civic Center Contest Likely Over Land Use

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The first battle has not yet taken place, but the declarations have been drawn up for a war between Marin's youth and its older adults for a building site at the Civic Center.

A lengthy "Master Plan for Older Adults" submitted to the county board of supervisors yesterday recommended, among other things, that there be an activity center for seniors at the Civic Center.

The original designation in Civic Center plans was apparently deleted after it seemed the seniors could not raise contributions toward construction of a building. However, Richard Phenix, coordinator for the Council of Community Services which prepared the senior citizens study, said he expected a report this week on a money raising project.

A letter yesterday to the board from Leland H. Jordan, chairman of the YMCA of Marin, said the YMCA has "made good progress" in raising funds for a county headquarters building at the Civic Center.

The building, estimated at $350,000, would include a multipurpose room with a stage, a lounge, three or four smaller meeting rooms, a kitchen and staff offices.

WELL, NO, IT'S NOT EXACTLY POP ART

In case you grownups don't know, these are some of the paintings a bunch of us kids have on exhibit at the Showcase Galleries, 5067 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera. They call it "Sand Box Art," which doesn't make much sense to us, but we guess that's so it won't get mixed up with the grownup's stuff like "Pop Art" and abstract art. That house (left) was painted by Thomas Warton, 6, and he likes a big chimney and a lot of smoke. That person standing under the sun (right) was painted by Freddy Dekker, 5, and the bird (center) that we think is a penguin was painted by a girl named Cathy, who is 5, but we don't know her last name. If you want to see more, come down to the gallery and we'll explain them to you.

MANILA (AP) — An American and his son, given up for lost after their raft drifted away from Guam, have been rescued 1,400 miles from home after 32 days at sea.

Frank H. Cushing, 63, a former aviation stuntman, and Frank Jr., 20, were sighted by a police patrol boat Monday off Camiguin Island, north of the main Philippine island of Luzon. Police at first thought they were smugglers.

The Cushings were on a 20-foot raft made of oil drums, using an improvised sail made of a blanket and parachute cloth.

The constabulary's northern zone headquarters reported that both were well, that their clothes were intact despite their ordeal, and that they still had some provisions.

The two men, who live on Guam, told their rescuers they were searching reefs around Guam for rare fish for young Frank's collection. They anchored off Puto Point on the night of April 15. While they slept, strong currents pulled the raft out to sea.

The Cushings drifted all the way to the Philippines over one of the world's most deserted stretches of ocean. The raft was making about 3 knots when it was sighted.

Cushing's wife, Marjorie, had written to the Manila Times appealing for help in finding her missing men. Today the paper's publisher, Joaquin P. Roces, cabled her: "Your husband and son in good health, now on way Manila."

Leydecker Offers Speaker Change

It was Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, not Supervisor William Gnoss, who suggested that former Supervisor George H. Ludy speak to the West Marin Lions Club.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer who saw a letter from the club as an insult, refused to speak to the group on the Civic Center bond election.

Hitchhiker Arrested After Teacher Reports Kicking

John Valentine Harrell, 33, of Tahoe City, has been charged with the felony assault of a school teacher early yesterday in Sausalito.

He was arrested at 12:15 p.m. yesterday by Sausalito Police Officer Herbert Smith while hitchhiking near the intersection of Bridgeway and Napa Street.

Police said he allegedly broke into the home of Ann Royle, 23, at 195 San Carlos Avenue and kicked Miss Royle, a third grade teacher at Lucas Valley School, in the face.

Miss Royle ran several blocks to the Sausalito police station for help following the attack, and was then taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment. She told officers that Harrell, whom she knew, burst into her home about 3 a.m.

Harrell was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday afternoon and the public defender was named to represent him. Plea entry was scheduled this afternoon. He was held in county jail in lieu of $1,650 bail.

County Parks, Recreation Promoted To Department

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission was increased to seven members and parks-recreation made a separate county department by action of the board of supervisors yesterday.

The ordinance increasing the commission membership will go into effect June 17.

The change was suggested by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen soon after he became a member of the board. It will make it possible to have five members, each representing one of the five supervisorial districts, and two members at large.

The ordinance also contains provisions for a non-reverting fund for property acquisition for parks.

The parks and recreation department was made a separate county department by resolution. It has been a sub-department of the county planning department.

Rocket Test Ends In Blast

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — A Little Joe II rocket exploded in flight shortly after launch today, ending in a failure a severe high altitude test of a safety system for moonbound astronauts.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesmen said the explosion occurred about half way through the mighty rocket's first burning period of 40 seconds.

There was no immediate indication for cause of the failure.

Encore Slated For Musical In Lagunitas

Lagunitas School students will repeat their "San Geronimo!" musical Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Woodacre Improvement Club, this time as a benefit for a burned-out Freedom School in Mississippi and as a memorial to the late Edward Barbano of Lagunitas.

A special performance of the historical pageant, which played to sell-out houses last weekend and raised $300 for the Lagunitas School library, will aid the Indianola Freedom School, which San Geronimo Valley residents have "adopted."

The school, along with the 2,000 books sent from the valley last Christmas, was destroyed by arsonists in March.

Saturday's show will also honor Barbano, former Lagunitas School District trustee and school playground director, who died last Saturday.

Emblems Stolen Off Mustang

Mustang rustlers have struck in San Rafael.

It's not the actual cars they have been stealing, but the horse emblems affixed to the vehicles.

Dolores Cochrane of 165 Novato Street, Apt. 2, told officers that two of her "horses" were pried off Saturday while her car was in her carport.

Hub Council Wrestles With Fire Truck Costs

San Anselmo city councilmen agreed last night that the city should get a new fire truck during the next fiscal year and start preparing to buy two more.

"We need one real bad and need to start replacing the other trucks as soon as possible," City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt reported.

He made his plea for new equipment when he presented his recommended $230,798 fire department budget to a joint session of the council and the Sleepy Hollow Fire Protection District Commission.

Flautt's recommended budget, $25,879 higher than this year's budget for the department, includes $17,500 as half the cost of a 1,200-gallon pumper to replace a 1930 model still in use. He said the new engine, estimated at $35,000, could be paid for over a two-year period.

Robert Keller, chairman of Sleepy Hollow Fire Protection District Commission, said "that $17,500 at one crack in one year is hard to take."

Keller suggested that the council consider financing the new truck over a longer period.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith said he could not understand why the city had not put funds aside in a depreciation fund for such purchases.

Councilman John M. Reichmuth said, "I tried to get more put aside for this purpose."

The council indicated that it would go ahead with the purchase of the engine as proposed by Flautt, but would set up a special fund to finance replacement of the two other fire engines.

Flautt's recommended budget did not include hiring any additional firemen. It included funds for normal salary step increases, but did not include any raises. The question if raises will be decided by the council during budget discussions, he said.

Keller and the Sleepy Hollow district, which pays 18 per cent of the fire budget under a contract with the city.

Keller noted that the district's percentage, based on assessed valuation, probably will increase with completion of the new campus for Dominican Upper and Lower Schools in Sleepy Hollow.

Keller said the district will have to negotiate with the Dominican Order for fire protection payments in lieu of taxes.

Cheap Haircut Ban Bill Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Cosmetologists who advertise cheap haircuts would have the plug to their clippers pulled under a bill pending on the Asmbly floor.

The Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee yesterday approved the measure which would aim to help barbers who complain cosmetologists are offering cheap haircuts.

Sponsored by Assemblyman Bob Moretti, D-North Hollywood it permits the State Board of Cosmetology to restrain those who undercut barbershop prices.

Schools Vote Report Due Supervisors

School elections will no longer be run by the county schools office if the recommendations of County Administrator Alan Bruce are adopted next week by the board of supervisors.

On Monday Bruce is due to make a full report on mistakes and difficulties in the April 20 elections. Bruce would not say today what his recommendations would be, but he said they agree with recommendations of the Marin County Grand Jury.

The Grand jury said school elections should be run by the county clerk under a contractual arrangement.

Bruce said his recommendations will go into much more detail than those of the grand jury. His report will deal with complaints on voter registration and procedures in all elections.

IF CALLER QUESTIONS ON DEFENSE, HANG UP

If someone telephones your home and claims to be making a "civil defense survey," beware.

This was the warning yesterday from the Marin County Office of Disaster and Civil Defense after a Novato woman was taken-in by such a caller.

Civil defense deputy Davina Kosh said the housewife told police she answered several personal questoins before realizing the call was a hoax.

"We do not make telephone surverys," said Mrs. Kosh.

Mother Says Dead Twin's Temper Bad

ROBERTA NICHOLSON
Testifies at son's trial

PASADENA (AP)—The mother of the wealthy Nicholson twins—one of whom is charged with murder in the gunshot death of the other — has described her dead son as a pistol-carrying youth of strong temper.

Mrs. Roberta Nicholson was the first defense witness yesterday at the trial of her 22-year-old son, Timothy.

The two boys were co-heirs to the Cudahy meat packing and Pullman sleeping car fortunes.

Mrs. Nicholson testified that Todd—killed last Dec. 7 with a 22-caliber rifle—had a raging temper at times. She said that he constantly carried a loaded automatic, and that he impersonated Tim to obtain a $1 million insurance policy on Tim's life.

TELLS OF BEATING

The mother also told of a beating she said Todd gave her two years ago.

"Todd struck me in the face," she said. "He knocked my teeth loose and I had two black eyes. My jaw was dislocated and my nose and my mouth were bloodied."

Defense attorney Max Fink, who told the jury earlier that Timothy acted in self defense, asked the twins' mother about Todd's treatment of his brother.

"Todd beat Timothy many times," Mrs. Nicholson replied. "Many times he forced him out of our house and wouldn't allow him to come back. He became enraged and violent and told Timothy to get out. His language was very bad."

FIGHT OVER CAR

She related that on one occasion, the twins had argued over a car Timothy borrowed from a friend. Told that the owner had specified that he wasn't to use the automobile, Mrs. Nicholson said, Todd "went into a rage."

"He stood on his tiptoes," she said, "his hands and his body were rigid. His mouth was drawn down. He couldn't coordinate."

She said that Todd obtained a small pistol from the drawer of her bedstand and went after Timothy. But she said the brother had fled.

Mrs. Nicholson testified that she found Timothy several hours later hiding in the back yard. She said she took him into the house and hid him.

'Headstart' Funds Due Sausalito

The Sausalito School District has not been left behind by "Project Headstart."

Mrs. Santafe J. Moses, district personnel counselor, put in an anxious call to Washington, D.C., today after the district failed to appear on the first list of Northern California centers for the summer school program, announced yesterday by President Johnson.

She was told the district will be included in the next list, expected to appear in a week or two, and to go ahead with plans for the Sausalito program scheduled to start June 28.

The program is intended to help "poverty's children," as Johnson calls them, to overcome cultural deficiencies in facing school work and life in general.

Some 8,000 California youngsters are expected to take part, with the state's centers costing more than $1,430,000.

Mrs. Moses said she was told by Frank Vesser, an assistant to War-on-Poverty director Sargent Shriver, that the Sausalito district's proposal went out for approval Friday, but missed the first list.

Registration is under way for the eight-week program, to be directed by Mrs. Moses. It is expected to draw 60 pupils, with the majority from Marin City.

A second program, for preschool youngsters only, will start in September.

Drunken Driving Plan Introduced

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The first conviction for drunk driving would mean a six - months suspension of a driver's license in most cases under a bill now on the Senate floor.

The measure by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, won approval yesterday from the Senate Judiciary Committee. Only those who need a car in their work would be allowed to drive after their first drunk conviction, and that would be restricted.

Under the bill, the second drunk driving offense within seven years would draw a one-year suspension, and a third within 10 years of the first would cause a three-year suspension.

Fairfax Set To Purchase School Site

Fairfax School District trustees signed agreements last night to buy land for the district's new junior high school and may soon buy more for expansion of the district's oldest school.

The purchase agreement was for 20 acres of the former Smith Ranch property, west of Fairfax on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, now owned by Farr Associates. Sir Francis Drake Elementary School is to open its doors there in December, 1966.

Trustees directed Supt. Homer S. Sisk to explore ways, other than an override tax, to acquire two lots and a house adjacent to Central School on Park Street. The property, 80 by 100 feet, is priced at $24,000.

Preliminary plans for the Drake seventh and eighth grade school presented by school architects Crawford and Banning call for flexible classrooms in a cluster-type building with provision for open-space teaching. It will be designed for 225 students.

Trustees, all present at the meeting, were reported pleased with a demonstration of the district's mathematics program by teachers and pupils.

A progress report of sixth grade camping was given by Ronald Samet, sixth grade teacher, and Victor York, San Francisco State College instructor, who trains counselors used in the district's three-day campouts. Deer Park School sent sixth graders to camp May 5-7, and Manor School sixth grade was to spend three days at Devil's Gulch beginning today.

Modulux Inc., suppliers of the relocatable classrooms leased in February, was asked to build two 5-by-12 foot entryway canopies in lieu of the damages of $1,200 for delay in delivering the classrooms.

The board nominated Dr. Martha R. Allen, 35 Sequoia Road, as honorary senior citizen of Fairfax for the city's month-long Senior Citizen celebration. Dr. Allen, school trustee from May 1, 1932, to June 29, 1950, was cited for outstanding service to the community.

At its June 1 meeting, the board is expected to approve allocation of $500 for the school-city recreation program for the summer, Sisk said.

Heiress Sued For Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. Dolly Fritz MacMasters, the Nob Hill heiress who is within a week of establishing the six-week residence required by Nevada for divorce, has been sued in Paris for divorce by her husband of three years, the Examiner said today.

The newspaper quoted an attorney for Donald MacMasters as saying the husband was asking for custody of the two children and the home and furnishings in Paris but no money.

Mrs. MacMasters left Paris with the children in April and is in residence at Verdi, Nev.

A Dare Leads To Train Death

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Earl Martinez, 13, and Roy Garland, 16 stood on the tracks as the Illinois Central's crack Panama Limited passenger train rushed toward them.

"We had a dare to see who would stay on the tracks the longest before jumping," said Garland.

Garland said he jumped first.

Martinez' foot caught between a rail and cross tie and he was killed yesterday by the train. The accident happened north of Kenner—a New Orleans suburb.

Escape Hole Really Shortcut To Prison

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — The sheriff's office said eight county jail prisoners were caught trying to chisel an escape hole through a wall of the jail last night.

The sheriff's office handed out the report with a smile. Had the hole been completed — it would have led the prisoners into the office of the district attorney, Keith C. Sorenson.

Sausalito Fill Trial Delayed To Tomorow

Second day of hearing in the non-jury suit of Sausalito Properties, Inc., challenging the Cilty of Sausalito's bay fill moratorium is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. tomorrow in Marin Superior Court.

The two-week hearing started yesterday, but was delayed today for other legal matters by Judge Thomas F. Keating, hearing the case.

San Rafael Budget Tax Rate 94 Cents

A San Rafael city budget for fiscal 1966 predicated on total revenues of $4,558,590 has been presented to the city council by City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen.

The budget would be financed with the same 94-cent city tax rate that was levied this year and last year. This would produce $855,400 of the total, according to Andersen's figures.

Biggest share of the budget would be financed from sales taxes, the city's share of which in the new fiscal year is estimated at $1,250,000—up $75,000 from that of the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

Other sources are licenses and permits, fines and penalties, interest, rents, parking meter revenue and various subventions from state and other agencies.

The budget calls for addition of 18 city employees in the new year. These include two in public works, one in police, 10 in the fire department (which will open a fifth fire station during the year), one in the park department, and two to take over street painting.

Street painting has been done under contract, but Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles proposes that the city do the work itself hereafter.

Andersen's proposed budget includes $1,965,914 in the general fund, $87,532 in the parks fund, $129,855 in the library fund, $157,825 in the employees retirement fund, $25,000 in the parking meter fund, $17,580 in the equipment and replacement fund, $2,083,884 in the capital improvement fund, and $91,000 in the parking district fund.

Setting up capital improvements in a separate fund is a new approach this year in San Rafael budget-making.

The budget includes an unappropriated reserve of $90,000, part of which will be used for increasing employees' pay scales.

The city manager, in a letter to the city council accompanying the budget, notes that a two and one-half per cent over-all pay increase to cover the cost-of-living raise would require $35,000. A one-step increase of five per cent over all would cost $70,000.

Breakdown of proposed capital expenditures is to be submitted to the council separately, when completed by Orrin Wendling, city finance officer. Andersen notes in his letter that he is recommending against some projects which have been proposed for the next fiscal year because money will not be available for all, despite a year-end carryover estimated at $1,486,580.

Biggest capital outlay during the year will be for the new city hall, for which a million-dollar contract was awarded Monday night.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said he will schedule budget discussions with department heads to try to complete the budget study in time for adopttion by July 1—probably an all-time record for early adoption if he is successful.

Salinas (County seat, Monterey County) means salt marshes, or chain of salt water ponds.

More Police Being Asked For Larkspur

Greenbrae citizens in Larkspur should demand that two more policemen be hired by the city so that two men will be on duty throughout the night, the board of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. decided unanimously last night.

Two additional policemen are included in the budget proposed by City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper. Association directors took the stand in hope of assuring any budget cut would not strike there.

The board also voted to ask the city and the Kentfield School District to join in paying for supervision of Greenbrae School grounds when school is not in session.

The board agreed unanimously on a resolution supporting the proposed $7,750,000 county Civic Center bond issue.

Larkspur Center Plan Study Urged

Plans to move Larkspur city offices to filled land near Corte Madera Creek should be re-examined, the citizens committee on the Larkspur General Plan decided last night.

Designating the old downtown area as "Larkspur Center," the group suggested perhaps it would be better if city government functions were kept about where they are.

In the meeting with planning consultant John David Erickson, the group called for some open space, such as a public square, to give focus to the center area, and also saw a need for more parking.

Attack Case Nets Man, Year In Jail

The maximum one year county jail sentence and three years probation today were meted out to Kenneth Stewart Grove, 32-year-old former Marinwood man accused in Marin Superior Court of statutory rape of a high school girl.

In pronouncing judgment, Judge Thoms F. Keating followed the recommendation of Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, who asked that Grove be found guilty of a felony, and that the year's jail penalty be administered.

The county probation office had recommended six month jail and three years probation. Jerome Duffy, attorney for Grove, unsuccessfully urged that the matter be considered a misdemeanor.

"I think it would be unnecessarily harsh to stigmatize him as a felon," he said.

Grove, now living at 56 Dominican Drive, San Rafael, pleaded no contest to a charge of having sexual relations with a 14-year-old girl in a rented Santa Venetia house starting last September. He is married and has three children.

Replaces messy powders, oozing pastes, reliners

The nearest thing to having your own teeth is possible by an artificial membrane invented by chemists. This membrane connects dentures to gums and mouth surfaces just as living tissue firmly binds natural teeth. Now many can eat, speak and laugh with little worry of dentures dropping.

FIXODENT elastic membrane absorbs the shock of biting and chewing – protects gums from bruising. You bite harder – eat faster, without pain. You can enjoy hard-to-chew foods like steak, apples, corn-on-cob.

BROWN SIGNS DRUG CURB BILL

Gov. Edmund G. Brown (center) signs into law a bill designed to curb misuse of the pain-killer drug Percodan by putting it on the list of dangerous drugs, yesterday in Sacramento. Looking on are the measure's author, Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, D-Los Angeles, and Los Angeles County Supervisor Warren Dorn. (UPI Telephoto)

State Tax Reform Bill Faces Tough Sledding In Assembly

Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R - Tracy, expressed doubt that any member of the lower house GOP bloc will support the bill.

His announcement came as the legislature all but doomed major tightening of the state's anti-obscenity statute and lawmakers edged toward a decision on Gov. Brown's $4.03 billion budget.

The Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee turned down two anti-obscenity bills. But the author of one of them, Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, R-San Diego, threatened to ask the full Assembly to reverse the committee decision—a move opposed by Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee slashed $4,032,742 from the administration spending program and scheduled a Friday morning vote on the budget bill. The biggest single cut was in state printing costs.

Monagan's warning of no Republican support meant that the tax bill — sponsored by Unruh and Assemblyman Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland — will likely have to clear the lower house without a two thirds majority of 54.

And that, according to Petris, would mean that key sections of the package—a combination of tax increases and property tax reductions — would be inoperative.

Blind Boy Wins Big Settlement

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifteen-year-old James R. McKiel, permanently blinded by a caustic chemical while cleaning a school lavatory, will receive $250 a month for the rest of his life — plus a $55,000 cash settlement.

McKiel, who had asked $750,000, won the award in Superior Court yesterday.

His suit was against the Catholic Archdiocese of Los Angeles and the Drackett Chemical Sales Co. The latter was ordered to pay $5,000. The remainder is to be paid by Lloyds of London, the school's insurance underwriter.

McKiel lost his sight Jan. 5, 1963 in an accident at the Nazareth House Parochial School, where he was a boarding student.

The suit charged that the boy was asked to do the work without proper supervision and that he was too young to handle the potentially dangerous chemical.

Bagley Lashes Back At Cranston Criticism

By WAT TAKASHITA

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, lashed back at State Controller Alan Cranston yesterday in their running feud over a proposed reform of the inheritance tax appraisal system.

"I am happy that the controller has been forced to admit that reforms are desperately needed," said Bagley. "The changes he now recommends, however, are but a facade to maintain the present political patronage system."

For several years Bagley has been trying to eliminate the system under which the state controller appoints inheritance tax appraisers.

One of his bills (AB 1011) introduced this year provides for self-appraisal of estates by the executor or administrator and his attorney, and transfer of other tasks to the state Board of Equalization.

Cranston suggested several reforms of his own, including:

1. Hiring of inheritance tax appraisers through nomination by the state controller and confirmation by the local probate court.

2. Eliminating or lowering fees in the appraisels of cash, bank accounts and stocks.

3. Establishing qualifications for appraisers, and setting staggered four-year terms of office.

Bagley denied his bill was hastily drawn.

"Our proposal (AB 1011) has been put forward after a two-year study by both the Assembly Ways and Means Committee and the Government Organization Committee," said Bagley. "The legislative analyst's office projects a $3.5 million per year savings, and qualified personnel would protect the rights of all involved.

"He (Cranston) wants to seal his appointees in office by establishing for them a four-year term of office. This would certainly add oil to his political machine, but would also add fat to the political fire that might just engulf the controller."

Queen Pays Tribute To War Victims

BONN (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II today paid solemn and silent tribute to Germany's war dead and the victims of Nazi concentration camps.

The visiting British monarch laid a wreath at a monument raised by the new Germany from the ashes of the Third Reich. The memorial, placed in front of the Museum of Arts, is a bronze plaque four feet high and seven feet long.

Its inscription reads, "In memory of the victims of wars and of the rule of force."

Queen Elizabeth stood with slightly bowed head and clasped hands, staring at the monument while a military trumpeter played "Ich Hatt Einen Kameraden" (I had a comrade).

The monarch last night had said in a banquet toast which was broadcast throughout Germany from the Augustusburg palace: "This tragic period in our relations is happily over." This was a reference to the bitter memories of two world wars.

Music Training Program Slated

Teachers from six elementary school districts will participate in a presentation of music training programs at the San Rafael City Schools administration building, Third and E Streets, from 4 to 6 p.m. next Tuesday.

The presentation will conclude a 15-week training program for 94 classroom teachers from kindergarten through eighth grade.

The music department of San Rafael City Schools is sponsoring the presentation. Teachers from San Jose, Reed, San Rafael, Mill Valley, Fairfax and Sausalito districts will participate.

Non-Student Ejection Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has passed legislation allowing state college university officials to eject any person who "reasonably appears" to be "likely to interfere with the peaceful conduct" of a campus.

The measure, stemming fom demonstrations last year at the University of California at Berkeley, passed 27 to 9 yesterday. It was proposed by Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont.

The bill went back to the Assembly for concurrence in amendments.

Student Attacks Seminary Faculty

"And the ass saw the angel of the Lord standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, and the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field . . ."

Borrowing from this Old Testament tale about the God-fearing animal of a man named Balaam, a 36-year-old San Francisco Theological Seminary student has stirred up a controversy over the San Anselmo school's liberal teachings and involvment in such issues as civil rights.

Senior Robert L. Cleath has attacked the faculty in bulletin board statements and articles in the campus newspaper, Challenge. He signs his writings with pen name, "Balaam's Ass."

Dr. Theodore A. Gill, seminary president, said yesterday that the controversy which Cleath has generated could be good for the school "if carried out in the proper mood." But Gill was not sure he found the tone of Cleath's comments to be in this mood.

Cleath, a doctor of philosophy who formerly taught at University of California's Santa Barbara campus, complained in a bulletin board statement last week that he had heard "only a denial or refutation" of "the virgin birth, the vicarious atonement, the bodily resurrection or the second coming of Christ" in his classes.

His strongest student support apparently comes from Dr. Watson M. Lacy, who holds a medical degree from Stanford University. Gill said Cleath and Lacy "came here as much to educate as to be educated."

Admitting he is in "the distinct minority" at the seminary, Cleath has termed himself a "conservative Republican who doesn't disagree with Goldwater's philosophy."

He said he chose the pseudonym because of his resistance to "teaching in a Presbyterian institution which are contrary to the Presbyterian creed."

Dr. Arnold B. Come, dean of the seminary faculty, however, described Cleath's comments as "a rather deliberate and sort of nasty attack."

Gill added, "One thing we try to protect is the students' freedom to speak out on real issues, even if they are trying to do us in."

Harold DePue Gets San Mateo School Position

Horld R. DePue, 45, former superintendent of the Kentfield School District and the last superintendent of the confederated Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax School Districts, was last night appointed superintendent of the San Mateo Elementary School District.

He will assume the $20,000 a year post Monday.

DePue was superintendent of the confederated school districts three years, 1957-60. When the confederation dissolved, he was hired as superintendent of the Kentfield district.

He resigned his position there in June, 1961, to become superintendent of the Oxnard Elementary School District in Ventura County, a position he has held until now.

Police Dog Bill Shelved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature again has refused to bar police from using dogs to control humans.

The Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee—as it did two years ago—sent to between-sessions study yesterday a bill by Assemblyman Willie L. Brown, D-San Francisco.

It would have made illegal use of dogs a misdemeanor, but would have allowed the use of dogs at night to patrol stores and warehouses.

Remedial Reading Program Is Approved

San Anselmo School District will launch a $14,000 remedial reading program and aid to the educationally handicapped next fall, the district board decided last night.

The board took the the action prior to consideration in detail of the budget. During budget discussion, trustees held up decision on whether to defer part of the repayment of a state loan, which would save about 15 cents on the tax rate.

This saving would offset an expected increase in the general operations tax by the district, according to Supt. Stephen Parodi, who urged that the board defer the repayment.

Parodi was ordered to start recruiting two teachers for the special reading program, which will concentrate effort in primary grades, except for especially severe problems of older pupils.

Entire cost of the program --s will be borne by the school district the first year, but part of the cost will be reimbursed by the state in following years, the superintendent explained.

The San Anselmo School District Board Also:

1. Passed resolutions to clear the way for sale of $485,000 of school bonds for construction of the Red Hill School and an addition to Hidden Valley School.
2. Agreed to continue the student accident insurance program.
3. Heard a letter for the Citizens Committee for Sensible Unification, and agreed informally that future study of unification should be carried out by the County Committee on School District Organization, not an ad hoc citizens' group.
4. Hired Mrs. Valeris Carlson to teach at Brookside School and Mrs. Bette Hollis for Sleepy Hollow School.
5. Accepted resignations from Mrs. Patricia Wagner, Brookside School and Richard E. Thurston, Sleepy Hollow School.

Trustee Howard McKinley was absent.

Sausalitan's Trial For Arson Continues

Testimony in the arson trial of Robert F. Kempt, 33, of Sausalito and a co-defendant went into its second day today in Sonoma Superior Court.

Kempf, of 595 Bridgeway, and Michael Mika allegedly burned a house in Sonoma Dec. 16. The jury trial is before Judge Charles J. McGoldrick. Kempf is represented by the public defender's office and Mika by attorney George Walker of San Francisco.

The Sausalito 1960 official U.S. census was 5,331.

Assessment Districts Meeting Set

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has scheduled a public hearing for 3 p.m. June 1 to review the county policy governing formation and operation of special assessment districts.

The board might rule out any further formation of single-owner assessment districts. The City of Novato has adopted such a policy and has requested the county to follow suit.

CHANGES URGED

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost is recommending several policy changes. His proposals do not include banning the single owner district, but, "I would not be unhappy if they adopted such a policy," Frost said.

His resolutions would add a flat $500 fee for county work on the assessment district. Present fees include $20 for processing bond issues and a half of one per cent of the construction cost estimated for the special district. County forces handle all bonding, funds and payments for the districts.

Frost proposes that any subdivider putting in improvements under an assessment district intending to transfer them to another district or company get approval of the district or company on the work before any payments are made by the county.

TRACT SEWERS

This would prevent the situation where sewer lines are installed in a tract, but not accepted by a sewer district because they do not meet the district standards.

Frost also recommends that engineering reports provide a reserve for contingencies in the estimates, that incidental costs over the construction costs be limited to engineering fees, attorney's fees and bond charges, and that there be no assessment district formed to acquire previously constructed facilities.

All his recommendations are aimed at protecting buyers in new tracts who often are not aware of assessment district taxes and are not expert enough to judge the quality of work done.

Sausalito Rejects Request To Delay Planning On Road

The Sausalito City Council turned down last night a request that it await a school board study before having the city engineer prepare a precise plan for Rodeo Avenue.

Councilmen voted unanimously to proceed with precise planning of the road, which passes close by Bayside School and spills into Nevada Street.

"We wish the plan to reflect two lanes only and that proper safeguards for pedestrian safety, and traffic lights if needed," said Mayor Jan Paul Dyk.

David E. Freedheim, a trustee-elect of Sausalito School District, said he spoke for the three trustees-elect and said "I believe for the present board," in asking the council to delay action.

"We are against a four-lane highway and in favor of the Spring Street exit as being less hazardous for children," said Freedheim.

Roy Starbird, city planning commissioner, also urged the council to await the school study.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Endorsed the $7,750,000 bond issue to be voted upon in a special election June 8 for completion of the second stage of civic center, following a presentation by Peter H. Behr of the county board of supervisors.
2. On suggestion of Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck, voted support of legislation to authorize local peace officers to act as such in any part of the state.
3. Voted to endorse legislation supporting property tax relief for senior citizens.
4. Took no action on a request from Richard W. Christian, president of the company which publishes the Sausalito Sentinel, a monthly newspaper, that city council meetings be changed from Tuesday to Monday evenings to "give accurate and up-to-date news coverage of city council activities."
5. Asked Brown for a new television ordinance and "perhaps a separate ordinance setting fees for Television Cable Service" following a letter from Sylvester J. McAtee, 122 Santa Rosa Avenue, who said fees have been raised. Council does not now regulate rates.
6. Accepted low bid of $10,741 by Maggiora, Ghilotti and Madsen, Inc., Corte Madera, to excavate a portion of Langendorf Park, Easterby Street and Woodward Avenue, and place fill in the corporation yard.
7. Continued to June an appeal by Dr. Helen Jambor, 258 Glen Drive, for planning commission denial of a variance to permit her to continue to use her dwelling as a duplex.
8. Agreed to resubmit its request for "701 program" planning funds to the state office of planning for $24,844, of which the state would provide $15,000 and the city $9,844. Money is to be used for a city map, sign ordinance and aerial photography.
9. Accepted .45 of an acre of excess state land at Currey Avenue and Currey Lane to the city of $1.
10. Agreed in principle with spending $200 for an added summer tennis instruction program to be given free each Monday for 10 weeks.

The council, which meets at 7:30 p.m. today as a finance committee on fiscal 1966 budget, will meet again next Wednesday at 8 p.m. to discuss employees salaries as they pertain to next year's budget.

Chamber Employs New Secretary

Barbara Bosl, 21, of Sausalito was hired yesterday as executive secretary of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. She is expected to begin work on a part-time basis June 1 in the office at 3030 Bridgeway.

Miss Bosl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bosl of 1725 Bridgeway, is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and University of California and is now working for Bank of America in San Francisco. She will continue her studies this summer at University of California.

President Launches Fight Against Mail-Order Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration today opened its fight for a bill to curb mail-order traffic in guns with a charge by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach that the National Rifle Association has used "misleading" and "preposterous" arguments against the measure.

Katzenbach, lead-off witness before the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee, devoted a considerable part of his prepared statement to a point-by-point rebuttal of NRA objections to the legislation.

The principal provision of the bill would prohibit unlicensed persons from transporting, shipping or receiving firearms in interstate or foreign commerce.

The attorney general said that the NRA, in a letter urging its 700,000 members to pressure congressmen and senators to oppose the bill, warned that "if the battle is lost, it will be your loss and that of all who follow."

Said Katzenbach: "It is impossible for me to understand the NRA's view of what battle is being fought and what the stakes are. In my view we are all joined in a nationwide battle — a battle against rape and robbery and muggings and murder — and the stakes are public order and safety for every citizen."

The proposed legislation would require retail gun dealers to limit sales of hand guns to residents of their states, raise the annual license fee for dealers and manufacturers and give the secretary of the Treasury discretion on who should be licensed to manufacture, import or deal in deadly weapons covered by the Federal Firearms Act.

Katzenbach also referred to the mail-order, Italian-made rifle used by Lee Harvey Oswald to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

"As long as I live," he said, "I can never forget that it was a mail-order rifle—sent to a post office box, that had been rented under an assumed name, by a man with an established record of defection and mental instability—that killed President Kennedy."

Church Merger Plan Is Backed

LONDON (AP) — The bishops and clergy of the Church of England voted overwhelmingly today in favor of continued negotiations to form one church with the Methodists.

A two-stage program is envisaged: first, separate churches which would recognize each other's clergy and take communion together; then later the two churches would become organically one.

Now the next move is up to the Methodists, who hold their annual conference in July.

Yield Sign Held 'For The Birds' By Supervisor

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted against changing the stop sign at Trestle Glen Boulevard and Paradise Drive to a yield sign.

"Yield signs are for the birds," said Board Chairman Peter H. Behr.

Tiburon city councilmen have been trying since November to get county agreement to change the sign. Agreement is necessary because the intersection is on the city-county boundary.

Councilmen recently agreed the county was "absurd" in requiring board action on such a matter.

Marijuana Case Figure Is Arraigned

John Sturge Steinert, 18, of 26 Hazel Avenue, Mill Valley, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a felony charge of possession of marijuana.

The public defender's office was appointed to defend him and further proceedings scheduled for this afternoon.

Steinert originally was booked in county jail May 3 as a runaway, but jailers said during a routine shakedown they found what appeared to be remains of marijuana in his coat and shirt pockets.

No complaint was filed pending tests by a San Francisco police laboratory, and Steinert was released. However, officers said the laboratory identified the substance as marijuana. The complaint was filed last Friday.

Steinert was re-arrested by sheriff's officers on a warrant Monday. He is being held in lieu of $550 bail.

$3.80 PER PUPIL

School Phone Bill Is Set At $13,351

By JEFF GREER

Last school year, San Rafael High School District taxpayers footed a $13,351 telephone bill for two schools serving 3,478 students — some $3.80 per student.

In the same 1963-64 school year, Tamalpais High School District's telephone bill for three schools plus administrative offices serving 5,110 enrollment was $16,134, for a per-pupil cost of about $3.15.

Mount Diablo Unified School District in Contra Costa County paid $19,156 telephone bills for six high schools serving 9,847 students—an average cost of $1.93 per pupil.

San Rafael High and Terra Linda High are expected to have a combined bill by June 30, of some $19,000 this year. Board of education members were taken aback last week when they learned that the district administration proposes budgeting $17,100 for fiscal 1965-66 telephone service to the two high schools, plus $11,400 for the elementary schools.

Of the three districts, San Rafael's is the only one that uses one central switchboard, with extensions to all schools in the district. Tam has a separate switchboard at each school; so does the Mount Diablo district.

The single, central switchboard, serving both elementary and high schools, means that the two San Rafael districts pay $1,700 a month in telephone line company charges without ever dialing a number, according to Charles L. Condrotte, schools business manager. However, he argued, the central switchboard saves the payroll costs of an operator and standby help at each school—and thus represents a saving.

Following last week's budget discussion, San Rafael school representatives met with telephone company experts — and came up with the answer that San Rafael's system is still the least expensive one possible, Condrotte told the Independent-Journal.

The San Rafael district's charges took a terrific jump this year because of two factors, Condrotte explained. Moving the administrative offices from the San Rafael High School "clear across town" to the former E Street School, added costs for extra trunk lines to the high school and lengthened leased circuits to most of the other schools served. Also, he said, the district had to change to a switchboard capable of handling three-digit numbers, because of the addition of so many new extensions.

Many of the calls made from Terra Linda High involve message unit charges, thus hiking the bill, he added.

Novato Unified School District, which also had a central switchboard in operation last year, paid a total bill of $8,432.40 for service to the high school, one junior high, five elementary schools and the district office. Average daily attendance for the entire district was 4,751 pupils. About $1.80 per pupil, both high school and elementary, was the average telephone bill.

San Jose School Board Receives Five Resignations

Resignations of five San Jose School District employees were accepted by the district board Monday night.

Letters of resignation were received from teachers Norman Ross at Meadow Park School and Mrs. Elaine Post at San Jose Intermediate School; custodian Harry Lehmann at Pacheco School, and Mrs. Faye Settlemyre and Mrs. Barbara Sparrow of the district office, according to Supt. Ralph D. Giovanniello.

He reported the three construction projects in the district, the multi-use rooms at Loma Verde and San Jose Intermediate schools and the six-room addition at Loma Verde School, were progressing according to schedule.

Next meeting of the board will be at 8 p.m. June 14.

Savio Admits Failure To Vote In November

Sheeks Charges Mill Valley Bias As Officials Hit Marincello Plan

ed, in nearer "unsightly developments" in Tamalpais Valley, Tiburon and other areas of southern Marin.

He then went on to make his own position clear. There was no legal sanction against his active participation in the meeting despite commitments to the Frouge concern.

This opening salvo set a lively scene and for the rest of the evening comments came pouring fast.

Mayor Wornum had proposed to allot equal time to both sides. But that fell flat when he threw out an invitation for Marincello supporters to speak first.

Not a murmur stirred the air.

Councilman White stepped in Sheeks's wake and denied the council's alleged inconsistency. "It is the right of a city to take action on any development that may, directly or indirectly, affect it," he said.

Planning director Harvey Bragdon outlined the 2,138-acre Frouge project. He said he felt it would not be an economic burden on the county. The meeting was then thrown open.

Donald J. Batchelder, a member of the city's architectural advisory commission, thought the project was a highly abstract representation of a city, but said "no one seems to know what it will be like."

He maintained you cannot decide on figures whether it is going to be charming, boring, bright or dull.

Naphtali Knox, also a member of the architectural advisory committee, noted the cluster density rate proposed was above the 3.5 dwelling units per gross acre county limit. "If you open the flood gates, other developers will be waiting in the wings," he said.

The proposed high-rise apartments came under heavy fire, but one voice claimed the cluster plan would preserve the rural aspects instead of "gobbling up the land."

Finally a seven-point list of recommendations was accepted in principle by both council and planning commission. It will probably be approved formally at a budget meeting Wednesday to be presented to the county planning commission on June 7 when it discusses the proposed development.

Items which Mill Valley wants the county to study are:

Density: The Marincello plan is two or three times more than the present county limit.

Apartments: These form 60 per cent of the dwelling units; too much, the city feels. Also, there is concern about high rise apartments.

Autonomy: Some 60 per cent would remain under one ownership—that of Frouge Corp. It was questioned how this would affect government.

High School: One will be needed. Who pays?

Roads: Adequate access to Marincello not demonstrated. Concern was felt about traffic impact on Mill Valley.

Economy: Scepticism about the economic base of the proposed community.

Councilman William M. Secor was absent.

Cameraman Dies After Fall In Surf

LIHUE, Hawaii (AP) — Walt Disney cameramen Robert King Baggott was thrown into the surf during the filming of a movie off Kauai Island yesterday and died of shock and hemorrhaging, an autopsy has revealed.

Baggott, 47, of Northridge, Los Angeles County, was hurled from a 16-foot outboard boat when it was hit by a wave. He had been helping to film "Lieutenant Robin Crusoe, USN."

The autopsy report said Baggott's internal bleeding had been due to four broken ribs.

Also pitched into the water was Peter Ellenshaw, winner of a special effects Oscar this year for his work on Mary Poppins. But Ellenshaw reached shore unharmed.

Baggott was unconscious when he was pulled to the beach by Percy Kinimaka but he died a little later.

Man Gets Jail In Forgery Case

A six-month county jail term was given Ray Vernon Mitchell, 33, today by Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court for two counts of forgery.

Mitchell, 605 Glenwood Avenue, Mill Valley, passed forged checks for $138.30 each at Food Villa and at Jolly Store in Fairfax last Nov. 5.

Sausalito May Test Barrier On Busy Road

A sidewalk safety device to be installed near the "Jack London house" in Sausalito will be investigated by police and public works departments, the city council agreed last night.

Action followed comments of Mary Lindheim, ceramist, who lives in the house at 221 Bridgeway. She asked that the device be considered along southern and eastern walks of Bridgeway at the corner of Richardson Street.

"Three children were nearly killed on the sidewalk recently," she said.

She suggested extension of reinforced concrete posts to form a protective barricade on Richardson between Second Street and Bridgeway and to continue along Bridgeway to Tiffany Beach. She also recommended consideration of red blinker lights and a night and day trial check by an officer for possible further controls.

Sausalito To Test Merchant Parking

A parking validation program to benefit merchants and customers was approved last night for a six-month trial period by the Sausalito City Council.

Merchants, under the plan, would buy 100 parking tickets at 10 cents each and give them to customers who could use them at Vina Del Mar parking lot, where there are ahtendants. Merchants, presented evidence by a customer that parking had been paid for, could give customers that amount of credit on purchases.

The council turned down a suggestion by Robert C. Campbell, acting president of the Village Fair Assn. that the parking lot across Bridgeway from Village Fair also be provided with parking attendants.

Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin replied that she could not see taking out parking meters recently installed in the lot across from Village Fair. "I'm sure people walk all over town," she said.

Campbell reported that 12 merchants in Village Fair favored and 23 opposed the parking validation program.

U.S. Quits 'Teach-In'

BERKELEY (AP)—The State Department yesterday said it was pulling out of the Viet Nam "teach-in" slated for next weekend by the University of California because the event will be a protest of U.S. policy rather than a debate.

Also out of the Berkeley lineup will be Gus Hall, general chairman of the Communist Party, USA, who declined an invitation because his appearance might "create problems about the speakers' list." He did not explain further.

Two Berkeley political science professors, Robert A. Scalapino and author Eugene Burdick said they also declined to speak because the Berkeley teach-in sponsors admittedly are conducting a protest not a debate.

RECORD PROFITS

U.S. Prosperity Gladdens Tax Man

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing like a 51-month stretch of prosperity to gladden the heart of a federal tax collector.

Record corporate profits and record personal incomes are bringing the U.S. Treasury a windfall of $1.5 billion this fiscal year. It anticipates a like amount in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The $3 billion is revenue that the Treasury hadn't foreseen when it drew up its budget last January. Cuts in federal income tax rates both for individual incomes and corporate earnings are now being offset in sizable amounts by the increased totals on which to levy the new, if lower, rates.

And the windfall has led the Treasury to agree to share some of its good fortune with the individual and corporate taxpayers. The share will be in the form of a greater than previously planned cut in excise taxes, paid at retail by customers, or levied at manufacturers' level of some items.

The 51-month business expansion, which this month is setting a peacetime record of its own, has flowered this year in higher than expected profits and incomes.

Right now, for instance, the Commerce Department figures that corporate gross profits are running at a record annual rate of $62.6 billion. The increase of $5.6 billion in these pretax earnings from the annual rate of $57 billion in the final three months of 1964 is pure gravy for the Treasury.

Even with corporate income tax rates dropped this year from 50 per cent to 48 per cent, the Treasury will take in a sizable hunk of money, close to $31 billion.

The corporations aren't complaining because they're glad both for the lower rate and for the record profits.

Confidently, the Treasury expects that this business spending, along with increased outlays by individuals with larger incomes, will keep the business expansion going far past this 51th month.

And with the expansion should come still higher corporate profits and larger totals of personal income.

Things could go wrong with all these fine hopes. The expansion rate probably will slow during the traditional summer lull.

But right now the news is all reassuring: records falling month by month, the chance that this summer's slowdown will be less marked than average, the probability that the momentum of the long expansion will keep things going for some time.

And then there are the new stimulants now taking form: the cut in excise taxes that could spur private and corporate spending and the increased government outlays that projects of the "Great Society" imply.

Stock Market Closes With A Small Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a small gain today. Trading was fairly active.

The trend all day was generally higher.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.8 million shares compared with 5.14 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Advances of a point or more were scored by a number of key issues.

U.S. Smelting led thee advance among the key stocks, up about 3¾. Xerox advanced 3⅜ and IBM was up about 2½. Chrysler, which was up and down in price fractionally, moved downward about a point near the end of the day.

Volume leader in the late afternoon was Allegheny Corporation, which moved up a fraction on the strength of a block of 70,300 shares.

Steels were up fractionally, despite reports earlier in the week that production was down for the third week in a row.

Other stocks moving up a point or better included Montgomery Ward, Air Reduction, Control Data and Merck.

Prices were higher in heavy trading on the Ameriican Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. treasury bonds were unchanged.

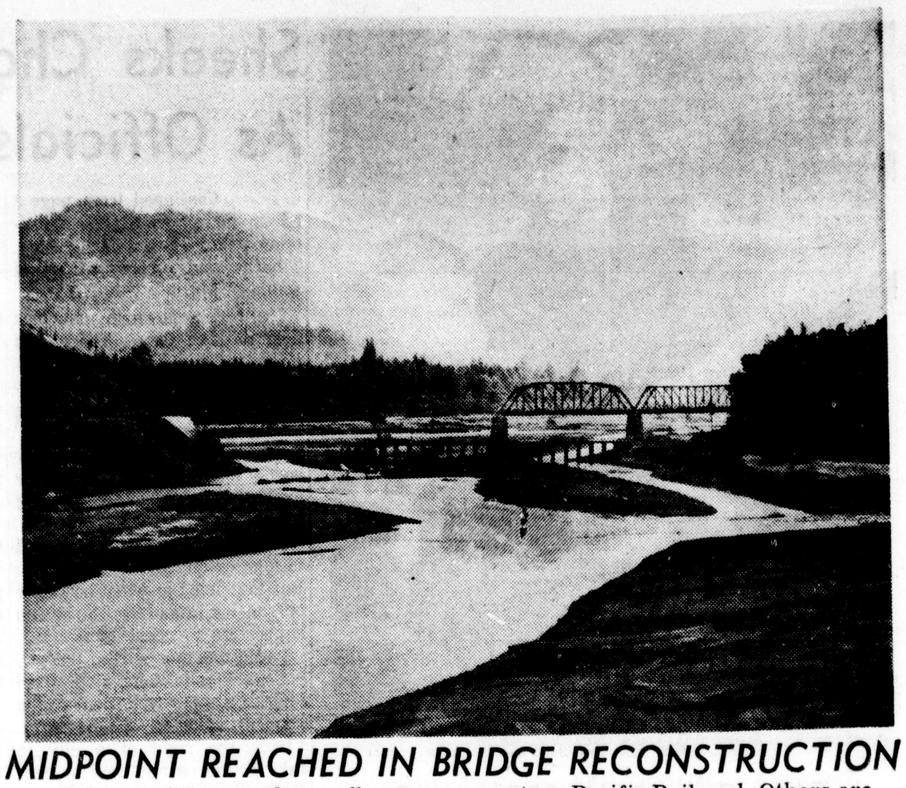
Both figures are up from a year ago, when the company earned $525,000, or 21 cents per share, on sales of $18,175,000.

For the first four months of 1965 net earnings of $2,108,000, equal to 82 cents per share, compare with $1,222,000 and 48 cents per share last year. Sales of $78,119,000 are up 16 per cent from the $67,327,000 of a year ago.



MIDPOINT REACHED IN BRIDGE RECONSTRUCTION

This crossing near the confluence of the Eel River and the South Fork of the Eel is one of three bridge expected to be completed by the American Bridge Division of United Steel Corp. next month for Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Others are located at Alderpoint in Humboldt County and at Island Mountain, Trinity County. Previous bridges were lost as a result of flood damage last winter.

Supervisors Ponder Marinwood Zone Bid

A change to professional zone asked on a .6 of an acre site near Las Gallinas Avenue and Miller Creek Road in Marinwood occupied Marin County supervisors for an hour yesterday.

In the end, the matter was continued until next week so the planning department could analyze the need to increase such zoning.

The planning commission had recommended the change, but supervisors received a letter from Gerald G. Hoytt who said his land, already zoned for professional use across the street, was being purchased by a group of doctors for offices.

Yesterday's applicant, Douglas M.Christensen, said his property now zoned for apartments,was going to a group who intended to build a clinic.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Voted 4-1, with Supervisor Peter H. Behr dissenting, in favor of a telephone dictating device requested by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen for night and weekend dictation. Installation will cost $45 and annual rent will be $450. The board agreed to a six-month trial.

2. Agreed to discuss salary recommendations for county employees on June 7 and begin discussion of the proposed budget at 1:30 p.m. June 9. There will be an evening session at 8 p.m. June 9. Hearings on the budget will continue through that week and at least one more week, every day except on regular board meeting days.

3. Approved Administrator Alan Bruce's request for permission to leave the country Sept. 2 for six weeks of vacation in Scotland and other countries.

4. Authorized payment of $11,576 to Mrs. Jennie Raffi and $15,016 to Armando and Lillian Y. Ambrosini for right of way needed for widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield.

5. Called for bids at 2 p.m., June 7, on Northern Avenue drainage improvement in Tamalpais Valley.

6. Voted $4,500 for extension of leaching lines in Paradise Beach Park where tests showed extremely poor percolation for sewerage.

7. Awarded a $11,379 contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael, lowest of three bidders, for realignment of Novato Boulevard near Bowman Gulch Bridge.

8. Set public hearing at 2 p.m. June 1 on the proposed change of name for Pine Hill Road near Inverness to Kehoe Way in honor of former Supervisor James V. Kehoe, and approved rezoning, from a holding zone to single family residential for the 13-lot Pine Hill Subdivision.

9. Rezoned from agricultural to planned community Alameda Homes Corp.'s 700 acres south of Highway 37 at Black Point.

10. Set hearing at 2:30 p.m. June 14 on proposed annexation to County Flood Control Zone 7 (Santa Venetia) of hillside land to the southeast. Protests to proposed improvements in the zone will also be heard at that time.

11. Appointed Ira Okum superintendent of Juvenile Hall at $870 a month, effective July 1 and Weltha Thurman senior clerk in the Department of Public Social Services (Welfare) at $380 a month effective May 10.

12. Delayed until next week action to keep the Tiburon Flood Control Zone intact for another year to collect, throrugh taxes, a county advance of $6,000. Board Chairman Behr asked the delay to alert the Tiburon City Council, which requested dissolution.

13. Authorized $1 a year lease of Oyster Canal to the National Audubon Society for addition to the Richardson Bay Wildlife Refuge. The society was the only bidder on the lease.

Questions Sent Out On College

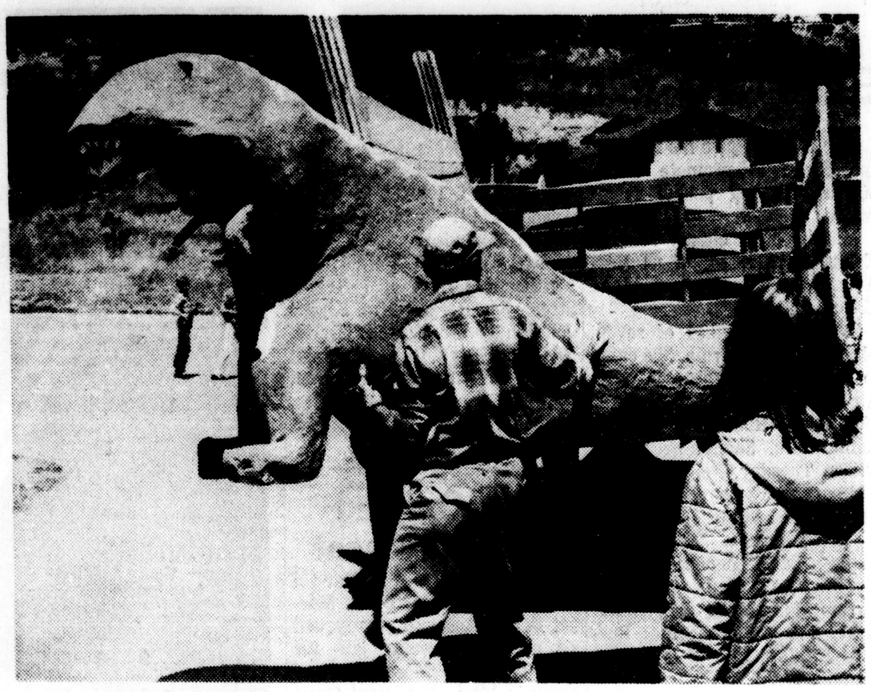
Questionnaires have been mailed to 400 Marin residents, chosen at random, in a survey on attitudes toward programs of the College of Marin.

A similar survey is being made of teachers at the college. The questioning is the work of William Scalopino, acting head of the college's behavioral sciences department, as part of his work toward a doctorate.

But the information will be used to evaluate the college's present courses of instruction and to plan for future, especially whether to emphasize certain areas, such as vocational education, or art, or science.

Questions concern the quality of teaching, whether community needs are being met, effect of class size and suggestions for improvement. Names of persons questioned are kept confidential, but each person has been asked to include information on his education, age, income and family status.

Follow-up questions by telephone will be asked of about 50 persons. Students will then compile the answers.



I'LL NEVER TOUCH ANOTHER DROP — Motorists along Tiburon Boulevard gaped in awe when a chartreuse brontosaurus and a red-orange tyrannosaurus went by in an open truck on their way to Del Mar School for the Reed School District all-arts festival. First and second graders at Tiburon School made the replicas of the pre-historic creatures. Custodian Gordon Bird helps unload one the huge hollow animals.

DRIVERS' DOUBLE-TAKE

Prehistoric Animals Star At Reed School Festival

A chartreuse brontosaurus and a red-orange tyrannosaurus are stars of the Reed School District all-arts festival which opened today and will continue through Saturday.

"Betty Bronte," the brontosaurus with long eye lashes, and "Big Mouth," the tyrannosaurus with the big whitetoothed smile, tower over the other students exhibits at Del Mar School.

The replicas of the prehistoric animals, each more than five feet tall, were constructed with newspapers over a chicken wire frame, then painted by the pupils in first and second grades of Tiburon School who made them.

They were levered out of the school room doors Monday and taken to Del Mar School on a truck as motorists stared in wonder.

They joined exhibits of painting, drawing, collage, graphics work, paperstuffed animals at the art fair which will include a concert at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Members of the elementary chorus orchestra and the Del Mar choral groups, band and the string ensemble will play.

The art festival will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow and Friday; 9-11 a.m. Saturday.

Charter Streamline Fails In Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — Measures to streamline the city charter and increase school taxes from $2.77 to $3.76 were defeated last night by voters in Oakland.

Seymour M. Rose defeated W. Elwyn Dustan and Ann Root Corneille defeated Electra Kimble Price by narrow margins in school board races.

Innocent Pleas In Drive-In Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two brothers pleaded innocent yesterday to the murder of 16-year-old Rodney Garcia on April 19 at a drive-in near Balboa High School. Trial was set for early July.

Cyclists Arrive In Portland

Cyclists John Veloz, 28, of Muir Beach and Robert Crowther, 32, of San Francisco are whizzing northward, Alaska-bound, held back only by 50-mile-an-hour winds.

The pair arrived in Portland, Ore., Friday, about one-fifth of their 3,477 mile trip to Anchorage, Veloz's wife, Evelyn, said today. They left San Francisco May 1 expecting to make Anchorage by September.

Mrs. Veloz said the cyclists are tanned, in excellent health and have slep outside every night except one when "they smelled so badly they had to stay overnight in a motel to get cleaned up."

They had expected to average 30 miles a day but on one day clocked 83. "Robert managed to cycle into John at one point," Mrs. Veloz added, but "they got John's cycle repaired. . . . They manage to spend no more than $1 a day per person to eat.

"Several people have stopped them en route saying, 'Aren't you the ones from San Francisco going to Alaska?' And a honeymooning couple followed them for a way by car."

Mrs. Veloz said the cyclists' next stop is Seattle, then Vancouver, and then the reportedly hole-pocked Alcan Highway.

Just one thing puzzles Mrs. Veloz. "I received a $2 parking ticket from the Garberville Justice Court. That's on their route but I don't see how they could get a parking ticket with bicycles."

Baptist Group Seeks To Quit Church Council

The American Baptist Laymen for Independence, a newly formed group from San Diego, met yesterday on the eve of the Baptists' 58th annual meeting which opened here today.

A resolution the group passed charges that "activities of the National Council of Churches are aiding the cause of communism." It also said that these "activities" were losing churches and church members for the Baptists.

The pre-convention meeting was attended by some 150 persons. Some 10,000 delegates and visitors from 40 states were expected to attend the opening of the official meeting.

New U.S. Citizen Heading For Europe

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

Now that Bjorn Christian Lyche knows how it feels to be a European living in America, he is going to find out what it is like to be an American living in Europe.

If that sounds confusing, it will come as no surprise to Lyche, who has tried, with some difficutly, to explain his plans to friends.

"A lot of people think it is strange that I am going back to work in Europe now that I am an American citizen," he said.

But to Bjorn, who got his citizenship in April and is within a hair's breath of his Ph.D. in chemical engineering, it seems a logical move.

A native of Oslo, Norway, 40-year-old Lyche came to this country "in two installments." The first time, in 1953, he attended University of Wisconsin on a Norwegian government scholarship and had to return home to get the money.

When he came back in 1957, he headed for California and got a job with Standard Oil Co. in Richmond. Later, he bought his home at 2170 Elderberry Lane, Marinwood. Travelling around the country on his vacations, camping out and meeting as many Americans as he could, he decided to stay and take citizenship.

Meanwhile, he found that Standard was eager for its employees to keep studying. It offered to pay 75 per cent of his tuition and re-arrange his working hours so he could attend class. He enrolled at University of California in Berkeley.

In 1963, Lyche quit work and went back to school fulltime so he could get his doctorate. For his thesis, he chose the field of chemical plant automation.

A man with a doctor's degree in that field has no trouble finding a job, and Lyche had plenty of interviews once he knew his studies would end this summer. He was offered several jobs he liked, but the best was with Dow Chemical Co. International.

Dow liked the fact that he had a European background but also had learned to know the Americ viewpoint. The company insisted, however, that he gain his citizenship to get the job.

Last week, his older son, Harold, 8, flew alone to Oslo to stay with his grandparents. In a few weeks, Mrs. Lyche whose parents were Norwegian and Leif, 5, will go there too, while Bjorn sells the Marinwood house and stays in Berkeley until he completes his doctorate.

After joining his family in Oslo for the rest of the summer, Lyche will start work in Holland as Dow's European production training manager.

He hopes to come back to the United States, and perhaps Marin, eventually, but says his new employers may send him to almost any spot on the globe.

Pleased with the chance to mix American technical knowledge with international relations, Lyche hopes to give his two sons the desire to promote understanding among people everywhere.

Another new citizen is Mrs. Esther Sevilla, 60, of 69 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo, a native Colima, Mexico.

She is the mother of seven, all living in California. She came to the United States in 1926. Among her four daughters is Mrs. Alicia Robbins of San Anselmo. Mrs. Sevilla became a citizen Tuesday.

Others who became citizens in April were Alberto Jose Garcia of 40 Marguerite Avenue, Mill Valley; Mrs. Aenne Baerbel-Harding of 769 Clausing Avenue, Novato; Mrs. Jung Ja Seaman of 459 Via Plano, Novato; Bernard Emile Steger of 50 Oxford Avenue, Mill Valley;

Mrs. Ruth Bente Martinsen of 4165 Paradise Drive, Tiburon;

Mrs. Betsy Pye of 63 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley; Richard James Donaldson of 475 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael; Ian McKenzie Burnett of 7 Neame Street, San Rafael; Mrs. Kiyoko Johnson of 505 Entrada Drive, Novato; Edgar Dieter Schmidt of the 78th Air Police Squadron, Hamilton Air Force Base; Mrs. Agnes Smolenska of 25-A Rodeo Avenue, Apt. 21, Sausalito.

Arrest Ordered For Ex-Merchant

Gene Kissinger, 38-year-old former manager of Black Market in San Anselmo who served six months in county jail for petty theft, failed to appear yesteday in Marin Municipal Court for an extradition hearing to Kansas.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson forfeited his $100 bail, issued a bench warrant for his arrest, and set new bail at $2,500.

Kissinger is charged in Great Bend, Barton County, Kans., with passing a $75 worthless check last Dec. 24. He also is free on $2,200 bail on another felony charge in Sacramento.

Guard School Grad

Marine Lance Cpl. Lawrence J. Bersano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Bersano of 89 Park Drive, San Anselmo, has graduated from the Marin Security Guard School in Arlington, Va. He will be assigned as a security guard at the U. S. Embassy in Karachi, Pakistan.

Theft In Jail

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies sadi last night that $334 in cash belonging to prisoners in the public safety building jail had been taken from the jail office.

INTERNATIONAL FIGURES—A metric scale slide rule reads the same in almost any language, which is handy for Norwegian-born Bjorn Christian Lyche, who just received his United States citizenship and will go to work in the Netherlands as soon as he completes his doctorate in chemical engineering. ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

No Malice In Punderland, But Gilmartin Spanked On KSF-OW!

It was a rather innocuous little item, written without a hint of malice in pun-derland. All I wrote was that Russ Hodges said over the radio last week that a pitcher "threw three straight curve balls" and I thought that was kind of funny, for who ever heard of a straight curve ball?

"A typical Gilmartin bum joke," was the way one of my buddies described the item and I agree. But I like those little quips. And if Pope Paul were to accidentally utter anything so pun-derful I would be the first to quote His Holiness.

While the Pope, I am sure, would wince at my corn-fed play on words—and perhaps clamp his proboscis between thumb and forefinger to signify that it stank—I doubt that he would excommunicate me. No papal people hater, he.

However, Mr. Hodges did not take my needle with the good nature I had expected. Having been an admirer of his—and I have clippings to prove my affection—I misjudged the depth of his skin, which turned out to be pretty thin.

RUSS HODGES

I DIDN'T hear Sunday's between-games show, but I understand it was a pip. Mr. Hodges, making like a little ol' whine maker, verbally spanked the living daylights out of little ol' me. Being star subject of a network show is rather flattering, I must admit. It was the greatest exposure I've had since some sharpies caught me short changed in a strip poker game.

I DON'T know whether to thank Russ or throw away my transistor. It's a dilemma, believe me. I think he must have been kidding. A grown man just doesn't get so worked up over anything so innocuous. Or if a grown man DOES get worked up over such an itty-bitty jab from a pun-ograph needle he certainly doesn't bellow so loud and so long over such an expensive toy like KSF-OW. How would you like to pay the freight for Mrs. Hodges' little boy Russ bawling out Mrs. Gilmartin's little boy Jim over a network show? The sponsor of Sunday's program must have felt like the chump who bought the Brooklyn Bridge.

I UNDERSTAND Mr. Hodges invited me over to that playpen he calls a broadcasting booth to see how well I can do in his profession. How would you like to pay for THAT? I'll accept his invitation, but I must warn him I'm pretty expensive. If he'll pay my price I promise I'll buy him another security blanket to replace the one he tore up in his temper tantrum Sunday.

AND, BEING a fan of Russ Hodges the sportscaster—not to be confused with Russ Hodges, the thin-skinned cry baby—I will try to emulate his professional talents—right down to the last "Bye, bye, baby!" And those straight curve balls.

Sadecki Gets First Win As Cards Dump Phils 8-2

By LEONARD A. GRANATO
UPI Sports Writer

It just may be that Ray Sadecki is a slow starter and the slumping St. Louis Cardinals have been waiting for him to get rolling.

Last season Sadecki lost his first five starts and wound up with 20 victories. So, after seeing him lose his first four decisions this season, small wonder that his teammates crowded around him with congratulations after he defeated Philadelphia 8-2 last night for his first triumph.

The victory put the Cardinals barely over .500 and lodged them in a tie for fourth with the Phillies and Braves.

Sadecki went the distance, scattering five hits. He fanned five and walked only three.

In other National League games the Cubs outlasted the Giants 7-6, Milwaukee edged the Mets 4-3 and Houston halted Los Angeles 4-1. Pittsburgh and the Reds were rained out at Cincinnati.

The Cardinals backed Sadecki with an 11-hit attack. Julian Javier had three hits in four trips, driving in two runs. Tim McCarver and Bill White each had two RBI's.

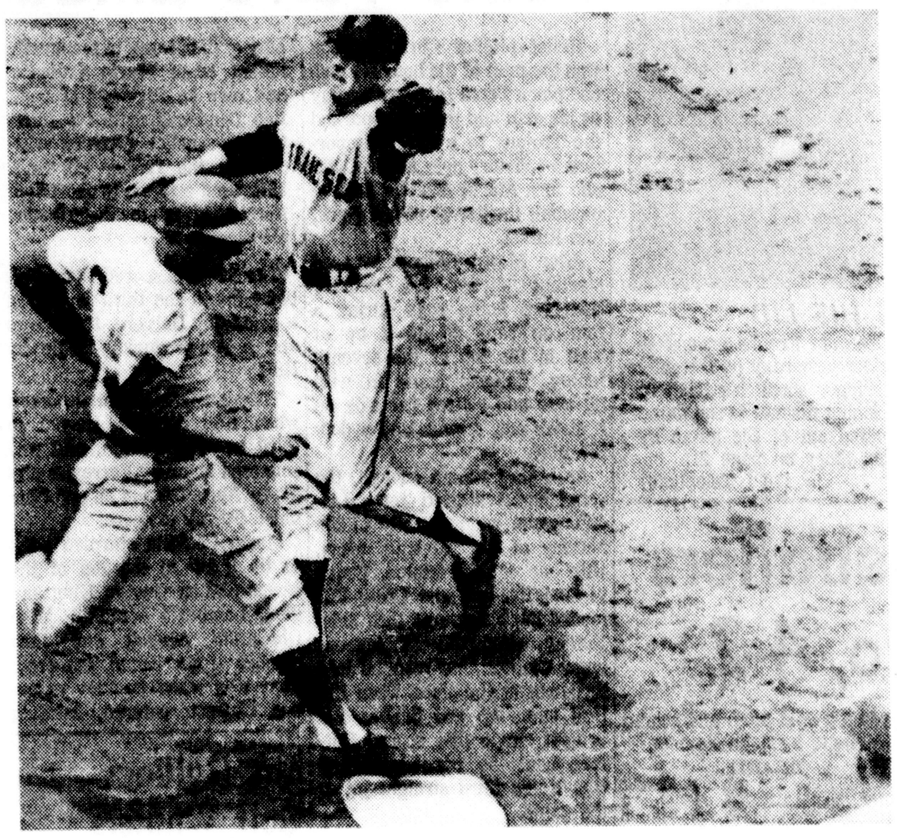
Eddie Mathews made a brilliant play to start a game-ending double play that shut off a Met rally in the ninth. Joe Christopher and Charlie Smith had singled and Ron Swoboda doubled home Christopher. After one was out Jesse Gonder was purposely walked to fill the bases. Pinch hitter Jim Hickman smashed a one-hop liner to Mathews' left. Eddie made a diving stop of the ball, whipped it to Frank Bolling at second and Bolling threw on to first ahead of Hickman.

Swoboda and Rico Carty of the Braves had hit two-run homers in the second that resulted in a 2-2 tie. Bolling doubled in the go-ahead run in the fourth and singled in the eventual winning run in the eighth. Tony Cloninger went the route for his fifth victory.

Ken Johnson pitched six and one-third innings of no-hit ball against the Dodgers before Ron Fairly's grounder hit first base and bounced into the outfield for a double. Johnson, relieved by Hal Woodeshick in the ninth, picked up his third victory against one loss.

The Astros got two runs in the third on an error, a walk, a sacrifice and Bob Aspromonte's two-run single. John Bateman had a solo homer for Houston. Dodger starter Jim Brewer was the loser.



SANFORD ERROR—Chicago Cubs' Dick Bertell reaches first base safely after beating out a bunt against San Francisco yesterday. Giants pitcher Jack Sanford threw wildly to first, past Hal Lanier covering, allowing a runner to score all the way from first. That was the margin of difference as the Giants last 7-6.

Yanks Nip Red Sox In 12th

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It's those bases on balls that give pitchess nightmares.

Take Dick Radatz of the Boston Red Sox, for instance. Last night against the Yankees he struck out six consecutive batters but walked the lead-off man in the bottom of the 12th inning and Tom Tresh tripled him home with the winning run in a 4-3 Yankee victory.

The Monster had come into the game in the ninth inning in relief of Dave Morehead, who had pitched no-hit ball for six innings. It was the first time the Yankees beat Radatz in his six decisions against them.

Ray Barker, who had broken Morehead's no-hitter with a single, homered to lead off the ninth. Radatz came in and gave up the tying run on singles by Horace Clarke, Bob Schmidt and Bobby Richardson.

Then the Monster struck out Mickey Mantle, Joe Pepitone and Barker in the 10th and Clete Boyer, Pedro Ramos and Schmidt in the 11th. The American League record for consecutive strikeouts is seven.

Then came the walk to Phil Linz, a pop-up and Tresh's smash that hit the auxiliary scoreboard in right centerfield, allowing Linz to leg it all the way in.

In other league action, Cleveland edged Baltimore 1-0, Washington pounded Detroit 15-9, Chicago beat Kansas City 5-4 and Los Angeles defeated Minnesota 3-1.

Fred Whitfield's single in the sixth inning drove in Joe Azcue from third base with the only run as Cleveland pitcher Jack Kralick picked up his first victory against two defeats. Don McMahon finished the last two innings for Kralick, who broke a blister on his pitching hand. Robin Roberts went the distance in defeat. It was his third loss against four victories.

Frank Howard had a grand slam homer in the Washington triumph, and Willie Kirkland drove in four runs with a home run and a bases-loaded single.

(Ken Molino photo)

Ron Patten, a pro at the Diablo Country Club for the past six years, has been named head golf pro at the Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael.

The new Peacock Gap pro's golf interest was fostered at an early age since his father, "Pat" Patten, is the head golf pro at Orinda Golf and Country Club.

Ron Patten was assistant pro there prior to a two-year hitch in the Army. He attended St. Mary's College.

Patten has been too busy lately as a golf pro to do much competing in tournaments, but in 1961-62 he qualified for the Bing Crosby Pro Am. In 1963 he set the golf records at Richmond Country Club where he stroked a 63.

Tire Crisis Appears Over At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The big tire crisis appeared over today for pole-sitter A. J. Foyt and seven other drivers who qualified for the May 31 500-mile auto race on Goodyear tires.

J. A. Loulan, manager of Goodyear's racing tire development program, said yesterday that "problems" which developed in practice Monday were being corrected and added flatly that "we are not pulling out of the race."

In practice at moderate to high speeds with full fuel loads Monday, Foyt and two other drivers who qualified last weekend on Goodyear tires ran into trouble with rubber flaking from their tires.

Loulan said the trouble had been traced to a flaw in the molding operation and that new tires were being rushed here from Akron, Ohio.

"All cars qualified on Goodyear tires will be in the race," Loulan said. In all, eight of the 21 cars which qualified on the first weekend used Goodyear tires. The other 13 qualified on Firestone tires. The other qualifiers who ran into trouble in practice Monday were veteran Don Branson and rookie Billy Foster.

Before Loulan announced that the trouble had been cleared up, another Goodyear spokesman had said that if the problem were not resolved the firm might ask to withdraw the tires.

That could have created problems since United States Auto Club rules require that cars run in the race on the same type of tires used in the qualification trials.

How Long Can Mays Bat .400?

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Mays is ripping National League pitching at a .400 plus clip but both he and the San Francisco Giants are holding their breaths in anticipation of a slump.

As great as the Say Hey Kid is, in recent years he has run into periods of drought, a non uncommon occurrence for an aging player. Willie is 34.

Last season Mays had a similar start but finished the year with a .296 average, driving out 47 home runs and driving in 111 runs.

Currently, Mays is hitting .403 with 14 home runs and 29 RBI. Somewhere along the line Willie is going to get tired and he knows it.

The question was put forth to him why he doesn't try a timetable, for example, of playing 35 games and resting for five games. Play another 35, rest another five, play 35 more, rest five more and then finish the last 24 games.

Under such a schedule Mays would miss only 15 games. Mays' analytical mind began to function and after thinking it over Willie said "nope, it would never work."

"I need a rest and nobody knows it more than I do," said Mays, "but a layoff of five games might mean not playing for up to six days.

"I'd be afraid I might get rusty, out of the groove or even put on weight. Then, too, you have to think about the team. Some-

Rain And Cubs Beat Giants In Chicago Series Opener

CHICAGO(UPI) — 'Tis sad but true that when San Francisco Giants manager Herman Franks pulls a pitcher this year, he can't be sure that the new hurler will do any better than the one he is taking out.

The inadequacy of the Giant relief corps and the superiority of the Cubs' bullpen gave Chicago a 7-6 win yesterday in a contest called after 7½ innings because of rain.

That halted the Giants' five-game win string. The two teams were to go at it again today at Wrigley Field when Gaylord Perry (2-2) tries his luck against Dick Ellsworth (3-3) who lost a one-hitter to the Dodgers his last time out.

The Giants scored four runs in the first yesterday off Ernie Broglio and Lindy McDaniel as Matty Alou tripled, Jesus Alou doubled him home and Willie McCovey walked. In came McDaniel and Willie Mays promptly launched his 14th homer in orbit.

But Jack Sanford just could not stand the prosperity and got cuffed for one in the first and three in the second, when he gave way to Ron Herbel. It was a sad way for Sanford to spend his 36th birthday.

The Giants grabbed a 6-4 lead in the third when Jesus Alou and Jimmy Hart tagged homers, but from then on rolled over and played dead before Bob Humphreys and Ted Abernathy, the latter exactly the type of bullpen stopper that is conspicuously absent for the Giants this year.

Herbel and Bob Bolin got clipped for three more as Chicago went ahead in a wild third inning that saw Herbel in a running verbal battle with umpire Mel Steiner. When manager Franks sallied forth to back up his young righthander, he was tossed out of the contest for his first expulsion as a manager.

The Giants finally got some respectable hurling when Bill Henry tossed the last two innings, but by this time the hitters were numbed by Humphries and then Abernathy and rains finally took the Giants' final chance from them.

The Giants got most of their trouble from the bottom of the Cubs' order as Dick Bertell had a hit and two walks, Orlando Pena two hits, and pinch-hitter Len Gabrielson a two-run homer.

Herbel (2-3) was the loser and Humphreys (1-0) the winner.

Ken Venturi Will Defend His U.S. Open Golf Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The original field of 2,304 entries for the U.S. Open Golf Championship next month will be trimmed to 418 — plus automatic qualifiers — when preliminary play begins Monday at 55 locations.

Ken Venturi, the ailing 1964 Open champion who said yesterday he definitely will defend the title although "it may turn out to be foolish," heads a list of 31 top-ranked golfers advancing directly into the 72-hole championship June 17-20 at St. Louis.

But other leading professionals and amateurs, including former Masters winner Art Wall Jr., former U.S. Amateur king Labron Harris, Al Besselink, Charles Sifford, Gardner Dickinson, Joe Campbell and Phil Rodgers will be among 2,232 teeing off Monday or Tuesday in local qualifying rounds.

The survivors move into sectional play June 7-8, with the field reduced to 150 for the championship.

Toughest of the 36-hole local rounds set up by the U.S. Golf Association figures to be at Memphis, where 90 touring pros wind up the Memphis Open Sunday then join four amateurs and compete for 40 Open qualifying places Monday.

Venturi, troubled since last winter by a circulatory ailment that restricts the sense of feel in his fingers, particularly in cool weather, notified USGA officials that he will defend. The Californian, won the 1964 Open at Washington.

The City That Knows How Doesn't Seem To Care About Candlestick

CONNOLLY

It cares less about ball park maintenance; is twice as nasty when asked to complete the grandstand seats in deep centerfield, and seems utterly unconscious of the fact bleacherite fans have to squat on circus type seats. I'm referring to the "City that knows how" but just doesn't seem to care San Francisco.

Beefing about the above conditions isn't anything new but it is about time the fans did a little complaining themslves to the City Fathers. Giant management claims they've been doing it right along but to no avail.

Grandstand reserve seats are so rough and splintery women are always complaining of runs in their hosiery. The Giants claim this is a responsibility of the lessors. So nothing is done and the gals continue to suffer.

It costs the fans 75 cents a pop to park, no charge for hiking a mile uphill to the main entrance and another half mile to find your seat. Some time ago there was mention of an escalator being installed. Nothing has happened so ol' kid cardiac continues to annoy the weary.

Day ball games start at 1 p.m. just in time to catch the jet wind streams that come up to spoil games around 3 p.m. This wind swirls and roars, generally until about 7 p.m. when it dies down until about 10:30 p.m., just in time to spoil the finish of the night game.

What can be done about it?

One suggestion is day games could be started at 12:15; night games at 7:30 and Sunday games at 12:15. In this way the wind blizzards wouldn't smack the fans so hard.

These suggestions are for the City of San Francisco. If they do their part, maybe the Giants will change the starting times to help out. Visiting newspapermen marvel at the page of death notices in S.F. papers. If they are regular customers at Candlestick Park they may find the reason why.

SEEMS PRETTY evident the 1965 season is going to be a stormy one for pitcher Jack Sanford of the Giants. To last five innings, as a starter, used to be a cinch for Jack but lately things have been switched. Take yesterday when he had a chance for a free ride and blew it after 1⅓ innings, after being staked to a four-run lead.

Jack may be recovering slowly from an arm operation due to a circulatory condition, but he isn't helping Manager Frank's nervous system. That could easily lead to ulcers.

THERE SEEMS to be a lot of speculation over the fate of Orlando Cepeda, injured Giant first baseman.

Will he be traded, sold, or placed on the voluntarily retired list until complete recovery?

No matter how the S.F. club feels about Cepeda, the fact remains he's next to Willie Mays in the high salary bracket. Right now pennant contending clubs are giving a wide berth to injured stars, and particularly those of the Cepeda pac-check-type.

Maybe the Mets or Houston, both building for the future, might be eyeing a chance to acquire the Baby Bull. I said mebbe!

AGE BEFORE beauty might have been the answer to who's number one man behind Manager Herman Franks. When Ump Steiner tossed the Giant skipper out of the Chicago game, Cookie Lavagetto became temporary pilot. Those who observe closely might see in that move a demotion for Charley Fox, third base coach, who for a time was a toss-up choice with Franks to succeed Alvin Dark. However, it could be that Boss Franks felt he could take Cookie off first base, rather than afford the loss of Fox at third. Just guessing, that's all.

FRANKS FLIPS HIS LID

San Rafael Nine Stuns Front-Running Redwood

San Rafel's Bulldogs, whose rather toothless 3-5 record disguised their painful bite, ambushed the first place Redwood Giants 7-3 yesterday and tightened the Marin Athletic League's baseball race.

The stunned Giants found their lead over second place Terra Linda reduced to one game. And with two games to play, it's still a hot scramble down to the wire. San Rafael, now 4-5, moved into a fourth place tie with Novato in the standings.

Main Giant-killers for San Rafael were Tim Witt, Jay Widmer and Ken Lampert. Witt drove across three runs—including the decisive third and fourth—with a double and single; Widmer slammed a big three-run homer in the fifth inning to ice the game; and Lampert slugged a solo home run in the third inning to start a three-run rally.

All this was accomplished against Scott Murphy, the ace of Redwood's pitching staff who suffered only his second loss of the league season against six victories.

San Rafael started fast in the first inning when Ken Erdman was safe on an error, Rocky Shone singled and Witt cracked his two-run double for a 2-0 lead.

But, in the third Lampert slugged his home run and, with two out, Shone singled, stole second and came home on Witt's second key hit of the game.

Redwood, tailing now 2-4, halved the deficit in the third when Dan Roby scored on an infield out with the bases loaded, but Bulldog pitcher Joe Cunningham got out of the jam with no further damage and blanked the Giants the rest of the way.

Hurler's Fine Relief Work Paces Terra Linda 5-4 Win

Relief pitcher Chris Calhoon was the man of the hour for second place Terra Linda yesterday as his arm and then bat sparked the Trojans to a vitally important 5-4 victory over Marin Catholic in a Marin Athletic League baseball thriller at Albert Park, San Rafael.

After Marin Catholic chased starting pitcher Ed Beckley with two home runs during a four-run rally to tie it up at 4-all in the top of the seventh inning, Calhoon came in with no outs and retired the side on a strike out, a walk and a double play.

As if that wasn't enough, the relief hurler started Terra Linda's game winning rally in the bottom of the seventh when, with one out, he tripled. Walks to Dan Herrera and Craig Hill loaded the bases, and then John Forrey attempted to squeeze home Calhoon, but resulted in a force out at the plate. Then Bill Hall came up and delivered a two-out single that scored Herrera with the winning run. It was Hall's third straight hit of the game.

Terra Linda also came up with the MAL's first triple play of the season in the fourth inning when Marin Catholic had men on first and second. Bob Lombardi drilled a liner to first sacker Herrera who doubled the runner off first and rifled a throw to shortstop Forrey to triple the runner off second.

The Trojans scored their first two runs in the third inning on a double by Herrera, two errors and a run-producing single by Hill.

They made it 4-0 in the sixth when Hall doubled, moved to third on a wild pitch, and was squeezed home by Forrey. A single by Ken Pike and an error enabled Forrey to score.

Marin Catholic stormed back to tie it up in the top of the seventh when George King singled, Lombardi homered, Mike Giacomini singled and then catcher John Komo homered. That was when Beckley exited and Calhoon entered, snuffing the uprising and setting the stage for the seventh inning rally that gave Terra Linda its seventh victory against three losses and pulled the Trojans to within one game of first place Redwood.

Drake Baseballers Top Novato, 4-2

Gary Kerch's two-hit pitching and some clutch hitting by Russ Damos powered the Drake Pirates to a 4-2 victory over the Novato Hornets yesterday at Novato.

In posting his fourth victory of the campaign against two setbacks, Kerch aided his own cause by starting a double play that killed a Hornet rally in the third inning. Both Novato hits were singles.

The Pirates scored three times in the third inning when Mike Miller singled, Tony Glodnis walked, Don Humphrey singled for one run and Damos drove in two more with a double.

In the fifth Damos collected his third RBI with a single that scored Glodnis who had walked and moved along ahead of Humphrey's single.

Novato's first run came in the third when Dave Antonio tallied while Kerch, Will Curley and Humphrey were clicking off a double play.

The Hornets' final tally came in the sixth when Ron Rowell walked, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a single by John Youngs.

body might fill in for me a day or two but not for five games.

"I know when I get tired now," continued Mays. "All I need is a day or two. If I could only do that, everything would be fine.

"I'm not bragging and it's a compliment to my ability but when I'm out of the line-up I don't mind pinch hitting. Only when I pinch hit, I usually have to go in for a few innings on defense and this doesn't amount to much rest.

"I even know, sometimes, when I'm going to a slump," said Mays. "I don't like doubleheaders anymore. They take too much out of you. When we play a Sunday doubleheader and then have a Monday game, it's rough.

"But when we play a Sunday doubleheader and then don't have a game until Tuesday night, well that amounts to two days rest for me."

One of the things Mays misses out on is the All-Star rest. He hasn't missed an All-Star game since 1954 and he won't miss one this year."

"If I missed an All-Star game it would be a great break to get the rest. But if I missed one, I wouldn't be the player I am.

"There were times when I didn't get tired. Doubleheaders, All-Star games, exhibitions didn't mean a thing. But then, youth has a way of covering all those things."

PENDING LEGISLATION

Many Changes In Gun Bill

By Edwin S. Capps

SACRAMENTO (CNS — It is confusing, but not amusing, that the battle against unfair and useless firearms control legislation in Sacramento has been progressing well but one of the worst bills to be devised is pending in Washington.

As often happens in the legislative process, S1592 by Senator Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., was a good bill when it started. As a result, it gained widespread support throughout the land. Much of this support still is going on the basis of the original bill, not having learned of the many amendments which have been added.

Originally, the Dodd bill was aimed at controlling indiscriminate sales of firearms through mail-order houses. It was a direct result of that black day in American history in Dallas in November, 1963.

The National Rifle Association had worked with Dodd during hearings and was supporting the bill. Many others, who felt something should be done to control who purchased guns through the mail, such as Governor Edmund G. Brown, felt national legislation was the only way to proceed.

But look what has happened to the bill now, as it comes up for committee hearings in Washington, D.C., May 20.

In at least a dozen places in the 20-page bill there occurs the language "under such conditions as the Secretary (of the treasury) or his delegate by regulations prescribe." As much an infringement as the bill may be, it would provide for even more stringent regulations if the secretary so desired.

All mail-order sales of firearms, including handguns, rifles and shotguns would be banned in interstate commerce. This would apply equally to the ranchers in remote areas who normally would order guns from such outfits as Sears & Roebuck, through the catalogue.

A competitive pistol shooter would have to get a permit from each state he might travel through, or have the pistol transported for him under conditions set by the secretary. It's only a short jump from that to requiring a permit for the Californian who does his deer hunting in Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho or Montana.

Handguns could not be sold to anyone under 21, and shotguns or rifles could not be sold to anyone under 18.

The dealer, in any over-the-counter sale, would be responsible that the buyer had not violated any provision of the act or would not be likely to violate any.

A person shipping a firearm by common carrier would have to give written notice to the postmaster general of the carrier.

A person could not ship or receive any firearms or ammunition which might have been stolen or which he might have reasonable cause to believe were stolen.

The fee for dealer's licenses be increased from $1 to $100. Sportsmen who do their own reloading would have to purchase a $1000 reloading license if they reloaded ammunition for anyone but themselves.

Gun collectors would be required to have dealers' licenses.

And so on, and on. But who is naive enough to think that any of these regulations is going to stop the stick-up artist who needs a gun?

TEBBETTS IS REHIRED

Fairy Tale Over, Says Arkansas Grid Coach

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Frank Broyles, the University of Arkansas football coach, admits there is something grim about him this spring, all because a fairy tale came true.

The fairy tale happened last season when the Razorbacks rolled over 11 straight opponents for a perfect football season.

But much remains to be said.

"We've got more stories to be told in September than ever before," says he, meaning some would-be Razorbacks have to prove themselves — not this spring, for it's too late, but in September, on the eve of the campaign.

Two major problems faced Broyles when spring practice started.

They were:

1. Filling eight vacated positions in a defensive unit that blanked its last five foes last year in regular season.

2. Replacing quarterback Fred Marshall who led the Razorbacks to the Southwest Conference championship and a Cotton Bowl victory over Nebraska.

Neither problem was solved in the 20 days of practice allowed under NCAA rules.

Broyles says injuries to key players hampered defensive progress.

"People we were counting on missed as many as 10 to 12 practices. It's hard to evaluate them when they didn't get a chance to practice," Broyles said.

The quarterback slot is still up for grabs. Jon Brittenum, a 1964 redshirt, may have the inside track with his all-around ability, but the passing of Ronny South and the running of Harry Jones must be reckoned with before a choice is made.

Two years ago Broyles could not settle on one field general and Arkansas finished with a 5-5 record. Last year, with Marshall in control, the Razorbacks had a perfect season.

Broyles said all three quarterbacks improved considerably during the spring. They will have 17 days in September to impress Broyles enough to earn a starting berth on a team that holds the nation's longest major college football winning streak, 12, when it meets Oklahoma State at Little Rock Sept. 18.

Baseball Expansion Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six House members joined today in a request to baseball Commissioner Ford Frick for expansion of major league baseball and establishment of teams in Buffalo, Milwaukee, Dallas-Fort Worth and one other unnamed city.

They proposed that there be three major leagues of eight teams each instead of the present two with 10 teams each.

The request, which also went to the heads of the American and National Leagues, was made by Reps. Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y., Earle Cabell, D-Tex., James C. Wright, D-Tex., Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and Clemente J. Zablocki, D-Wis.

"By their control over substantially all baseball players, the owners of the existing clubs can largely determine whether and when another club or clubs can enter the business of baseball," they said. "Congress and the nation are watching how the owners will use their privilege."

They proposed:

1. New major league franchises for the 1966 season for Buffalo, Dallas-Ft. Worth, Milwaukee and whichever other city is ready to qualify.

2. A fair system for providing the new teams with players.

3. Extension of pooling of television revenues.

4. Distribution of the expansion clubs among three eight-team leagues.

In New York, Frick said he had received a copy of the resolution "in a private letter from one of the congressmen and that I feel I should answer him with a private letter before I comment in public."

Revival Of Ancient Yacht Race

Marin's biggest sailing ships will pour on all sail Saturday in a resumption of the Master Mariner's Regatta, the first such race since 1891.

The regatta was the first race organized on the Pacific Coast when it was first run in 1867, pitting brigantines, schooners and other working craft against each other in a battle of giants.

Ships will sail from the starting point off the St. Francis Yacht Club, head for Sausalito, then to Fort Point, around Blossom Rock, to Angel Island and end the race off Aquatic Park.

Under the inverted starting system, boats with various handicaps will leave the starting point at different times, all geared to finish at about the same time off the park. Boats will begin racing at 12:30 p.m.

The race is sponsored by the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Propellor Club of the United States, San Francisco chapter, whose shipping line members each will sponsor a boat in the race.

Most crews will be decked out in yachting attire of yore. Skipper Robert M. Allen of Strawberry will have old fashioned sailing medals dangling from his 1900-vintage blazer as he commands his 47-foot schooner Venus, a backyard-built ship.

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Sacramento lightweight Joey Olguin won a unanimous 10-round decision last night over former champion Joe Brown.

Brown, a 138 - pounder who fights out of Houston, Texas, went into the ring an 8-5 favorite, but was unable to take advantage of his old punching power and experience edge.

Cigarette Smokers Who Quit Finding Themselves Hungry!

Cigarette sales went on the skids on the January day last year when U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry released his report that in the opinion of the best experts, the government could muster, cigarettes can cause cancer.

By DAVID SMOTHERS
United Press International

A bartender in Los Angeles brooded "I quit for six months and gained a pound a day for the first 16 days. I developed a horrible appetite.

"I began smoking again when I got excited at a ball game and a friend shoved a cigarette at me. I've been smoking now for almost six months and I've lost about 18 pounds. I'd like to quit again but I can't see putting on that weight."

IN SAN FRANCISCO a tobacco dealer exhulted "They aren't going to stop smoking. The few that do kick it are being replaced by lots more just starting."

This is the story of what's happened to the nation's cigarette smokers since the great cancer scare of 1964 cooled off. In a nutshell, Americans are smoking more than ever before.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS of Americans swore off. "How to stop" schools and seminars applied the Alcoholics Anonymous treatment to anxiety-ridden nicotine addicts. If a lady was seen puffing a pipe or lighting up a cigar, it was accepted as the healthy, fashionable thing to do.

That didn't last long. Two and half months after Terry's bombshell, a United Press International survey indicated cigarettes were coming back. Now, a year and four months after the report, another UPI survey indicates tobacco men never had it so good.

Of 40 states surveyed, state tax returns from 23 indicated cigarette sales were running better than the record pace of 1963, when 524 billion cigarettes went up in smoke. In nine states sales were at the 1963 level. In only eight states were they down.

IF NOTHING ELSE, it has changed the nation's smoking habits, perhaps permanently. The majority of cigarette smokers no longer get their tobacco straight. It's filtered. Even though many doctors refuse to say a filter makes a cigarette safer, filters now account for 61 per cent of the trade. Menthol cigarettes, a specialty item only a few years ago, now makes up 10 to 15 per cent of the market.

ALL THIS IS LITTLE consolation to those who want Americans to kick the cigarette habit. Despite the discouragingly high sales figures, the anti-cigarette forces have made some progress.

In all likelihood, cigarette sales would be even higher if it weren't for the surgeon general's report and the campaigns which followed.

California state officials figured that under normal circumstances there would have been a 4 per cent increase in tobacco sales in the state last year. There was, in fact, no increase.

It was much the same story in other states. The total advance rarely amounted to much over 2 per cent.

INDUSTRY SOURCES said cigarette sales, keeping pace with population increases, should go up about 3 per cent every year. On this basis, the cigarette boom had been slowed a little, but certainly not stopped. Terry himself said the anti-cigarette forces have just begun to fight.

Last January, on the anniversary of his report, Terry admitted the over all decline in smoking had been small but he still maintained "at least 18 million Americans are now ex-cigarette smokers."

THE SURGEON GENERAL'S report on cigarette smoking dissuaded thousands of Americans from cigarette smoking, but ex-smokers report a new problem—the tendency for an increased appetite for food to replace the nicotine habit. Here Mrs. Reuben Broday, newest member of the Humidor Club of Chicago shows why she has taken up cigar smoking. (UPI Telephoto)

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM, COMFORTABLE, TOO

San Francisco—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new, easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at The Emporium, Foundations, all six stores, phone YU 2-1111.

Use Of Wedding Ring Traced Back To Egyptian Courtship

Couples on the altar-bound path cover many centuries of tradition on their way. Courtship customs as we know them today were practiced in one form or another long, long ago.

When the engagement is announced, a gift of a diamond ring starts the couple off, if the young man can afford it. This custom harks back to medieval Italians who thought the gem had power to maintain everlasting bliss.

BUT RINGS WERE exchanged—for both engagement and wedding—long before. Primitive man wove a ring made of cord around the waist of the woman he wanted—symbol of binding them together.

Egyptians were the first to use wedding rings in the marriage vow . . . and their rings were made of iron. Other early rings were made of brass, rush, leather and even wood.

The fact that the ring is a circle has always had significance . . . that "mutual love and hearty affection should roundly flow from one person to the other . . . continually and forever," as one 17th-century writer put it.

Why are these rings worn on the third finger of the left hand? Because it was once believed that the "vena amoris" ran from this finger to the heart.

ON THE WAY TO the altar, the bride-to-be amasses a trousseau, a tradition started in France, where brides were purchased from their fathers, but given a "trousse" (little bundle) as compensation. The trousseau hardly differed from a dowry, which originally was an indirect way of paying back the bridgroom for the money or goods that he gave his father-in-law to buy a bride.

In many places today, bridal finery and linens—or trousseau—are collected for girls even as early as five years of age.

Superstition cloaks the bridal trousseau, too. Here's one: if a bit of handwork—even one stitch—is placed by the bride-to-be on every piece that goes into the hope chest, happiness and good fortune will be hers throughout life.

Replacing the cattle, horses and land of olden days, the modern trousseau includes silverware, china, crystal, kitchenware and linens.

BEFORE SHE MARRIES, the engaged girl is likely to be the guest of honor at a bridal shower. This custom originated with the Dutch. It happened by chance when a rich man, whose daughter married a poor miller, refused to give a dowry. Friends of the miller, were sorry for the couple without any worldly goods so they got together and decided each would give a gift, meagre though it be, and that they would all give their gifts at one time, so as not to make them appear to be too trifling.

The wedding ceremony as generally conducted in the Western world today has its origins in religion, and is performed in accordance with the religious custom of the bride and groom. But among many primitive peoples, the mere act of eating together constituted marriage. In the Fijis for instance, the marriage ceremony was considered complete as soon as the pair had eaten from the same dish.

OTHER MARRIAGE rites are also interesting: The custom which prevailed among North American Indians was that the woman gathered together a small bundle of rods, piled them before the man's tent, built a fire, and made a meal cake for him. When and if he ate the cake, they were bound together in wedlock.

Then there are the superstitions surrounding the wedding. The practice of throwing rice after the departing bride and groom originated in primitive times. Among early peoples, rice and grain were emblems of productiveness. Rice was not always the grain used. An old Greek custom was to pour flour and sweetmeats over the bride and groom, to symbolize an abundance of all that is sweet, good and desirable. The early Anglo-Saxons used wheat and other people used corn.

THE OLD SHOES that we tie to the back of the bridal car are supposedly tied to an old Egyptian custom. Legend has it that the father of the bride used to give her sandal to the prospective bridgroom, symbolizing the girl's "transfer" to a new man's care.

WEDDING BELLS originated in England. In medieval times it was customary for the church bells to peal as the bride entered, and again when she left the church. This custom has survived and is still in use today.

You've heard the expression, "Happy is the bride the sun shines on." Primitive men recognized the power of the sun and believed, therefore, that the bride who married on a sunny day would be happy and prosperous.

Mihan-Hessin Rite Held On Saturday In Fairfax

Making their home in Fairfax are the newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Mervy Holmes Mihan, who were married Saturday at St. Rita's Church, Fairfax.

The former Janet Louise Hessin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hessin of Fairfax, was given in marriage by her father. Her sister, Mrs. Barbara Muir, was matron of honor.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Mihan of San Anselmo. His brother, Ralph Mihan, was best man. He has one sister, Marjorie Mihan.

Enhancing the bride's full length white organza gown, with bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace, was the Milanese heirloom veil, first worn by the bride's late grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Girimonte at her wedding.

The matron of honor wore a coral empire style crepe gown with bateau neckline and bell sleeves. The bridesmaids, Nancy Capp of San Francisco, Lynne Fletcher of Fairfax, and the bridegroom's sister, Marjorie Mihan, wore gowns designed in a similar style in a soft shade of yellow.

The Rev. Thomas A. Reed officiated.

Both young people were graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Harin. Mihan is employed at the San Rafael Glass Co.

Paternal grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Joseph Hessin, came from her home in Lakewood, O. to attend the wedding.

Sewing On Stretch

The Rev. John Kelly performed the single-ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Schwarz Jr. of San Francisco were attendants.

Following a reception in Kentfield, the couple left for a two-week trip in Hawaii. They also plan to leave in July for a year's stay in Europe.

The bride, who attended St. Mary's College of Nursing in San Francisco, is the sister of Mrs. Barbara Bruemmer of San Rafael, Mrs. Wayne Farlow of San Francisco, Mrs. Arthur Goyales of Davis, Norbert Cook of Healdsburg and Eugene and Edmond Cook of Cloverdale. She is the mother of Mrs. Verne Brink of San Rafael and Alfred J. Jr., and Charles F. Schwarz.

The bridegroom is the brother of Ruth Sebgarth of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Kenneth Stanley of Denver, Colo. He is the father of Robert Segbarth of San Gabriel.

RESOLUTION NO. 4036 N.S.
RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MILL VALLEY, GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED "HIGH SCHOOL-TIDELANDS ANNEXATION"

WHEREAS, the City of Mill Valley has heretofore filed with the Secretary of the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin a proposal for the annexation of the territory more particularly described in EXHIBIT A attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference, and

WHEREAS, said proposal included a map and specific legal description of the boundaries of the territory proposed for annexation, and

WHEREAS, the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin did thereafter prepare a report upon said proposed annexation with respect to the definiteness and certainty of the proposed boundaries, the nonconformance of proposed boundaries with lines of assessment or ownership, the creation of islands or corridors of unincorporated territory and other similar matters affecting the proposed boundaries, and

WHEREAS, in said report the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin did approve said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, the City of Mill Valley has heretofore filed with the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County a notice of intention to annex the territory more particularly described in EXHIBIT A, and

WHEREAS, said notice contained the specific boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed, and

WHEREAS, the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County, after public hearing, did approve said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, thereafter and on January 18, 1965, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley did adopt its Resolution No. 4026 N.S. giving notice of said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, said Resolution No. 4026 N.S. did fix a time and place when and where the City Council of the City of Mill Valley would meet to hear written protests against the proposed annexation made by any person owning real property within the territory, and

WHEREAS, the City Clerk of the City of Mill Valley did thereafter cause notice of said public hearing to be given in the manner required by law, and

WHEREAS, thereafter the Cilty Council of the City of Mill Valley did on March 1, 1965, hold said public hearing and did determine at said public hearing that written protests filed were inadequate to prevent the annexation then pending, and

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley did thereafter adopt its Ordinance No. 624 annexing said territory, and

WHEREAS, GEORGE LEO ZARO, individually, and as a limited partner of ALCAN MARIN, LTD., a partnership, did file In the Superior Court of the State of California In and For the County of Marin a Petition for Writ of Mandate in Civil Action No. 42363, contending that the action of the City Council of the City of Mill Valley in consummating said annexation was invalid for certain reasons, including the following:

(a) That the City Council of the City of Mill Valley was allegedly without jurisdiction to adopt its Resolution No. 4026 N.S. because certain proceedings for the incorporation of some of the same territory were alleged to be pending;

(b) That the City Council of the City of Mill Valley was without jurisdiction to hold its public hearing on said proposed annexation and to adopt its Ordinance No. 624 for the reason that the City of Mill Valley was allegedly required to give notice of said hearing to the State Lands Commission of the State of California, and

WHEREAS, said GEORGE LEO ZARO has contended that because of said claims he was deprived of a fair and proper hearing with respect to said annexation,

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, ORDERED AND DECLARED AS FOLLOWS:

1. This Resolution is adopted and the public hearing hereinafter mentioned is set solely for the purpose of affording to GEORGE LEO ZARO and any and all other owners of property within the area proposed to be annexed and any and all other persons interested therein an additional opportunity to be heard with respect to said proposed annexation and to eliminate any question as to whether such persons were afforded a fair and legal opportunity to be heard on said matter in the proceedings previously had with respect thereto.

2. The boundaries of the territory sought to be annexed by these proceedings are more particularly described in EXHIBIT A attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

3. Said annexation shall be designated the "High School-Tidelands Annexation".

4. The legislative body of the City of Mill Valley has initiated the proceedings for the annexation of said territory on its own motion without requiring a petition. Said proceedings will be conducted pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939.

5. The reasons why the City of Mill Valley desires said annexation are as follows:

(a) Said territory, because of its location and other features, should be governed in its development by the same zoning and planning regulations which govern territory within the City of Mill Valley.

(b) Because of its location, said territory will receive the benefit of and should therefore participate in supporting the municipal services of said City.

6. Notice is hereby given that on the 21st day of June, 1965, at 8:00 o'clock P.M. of said day, or as soon thereafter as said matter may be heard, in the Council Chambers in the City Hall, Mill Valley, California, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley will again meet to hear written protests against the proposed annexation made by any person owning real property within the territory.

7. The City Clerk is hereby directed to cause a copy of this Resolution to be published in the manner prescribed by Section 35311 of the Government Code of the State of California, and said Clerk is further directed to give such other notice of the proposed annexation as may be required by law.

8. The adoption of this Resolution shall in no way affect the validity of or constitute a rescission of Resolution No. 4026 N.S. or Ordinance No. 624 of the City of Mill Valley or any of the proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution or Ordinance.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a meeting of the City Council of the City of Mill Valley on the 3rd day of May, 1965, by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen Wickham, White, Sheeks, Mayor Wornum
NOES: None

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Good Idea To Learn To Use Body Rather Than Abuse It

VAN DELLEN

Growing old involves both mind and body. We do not die as a result of the passage of time but from disease and accidents. The difference between living and existing at 70 often can be traced to misspent early years. Heredity and luck also play a role.

It is better to prevent aging than to patch up the ravages. If the spirit is willing, physicians may be able to maintain the flesh into old age via medical know-how. Some body cells reproduce themselves but not the cells of the nervous system, muscles, and heart. These must last a lifetime and can be spared by paying a little attention to everday living.

FOOD IS ESSENTIAL, but fasting from time to time might be good for us. Most Americans eat too much and could get along on half their daily intake. The quality of food is important and the diet should be balanced to allow the body to carry out normal functions and meet the demands imposed by infections. Excess weight is an added physical burden. Stored fat requires nourishment which in turn demands more blood vessels and puts an additional burden on the heart. Hardening of the arteries is associated with too much fat in the diet.

The body must be used and not abused. Exercise is important because muscles deteriorate, bones become more porous, and the blood vessels lose tone when inactive. The body is stimulated by activity and the tissues function better. Too much work is not advisable when it leads to overfatigue. The body must rest and repair the damage inflicted by abuse and excesses.

EMOTIONAL pressures, such as tension, strain, and worry, raise blood pressure, cause ulcers, and stimulate compulsive eating. Senility is caused by circulatory deficiencies of the brain, but the more common mental disorders are traced to lack of challenge, forced retirement, and feeling unwanted, useless, and out of touch with the modern world.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

VARICOSE VEINS

K.G. writes: I have had trouble with varicose veins. Would surgery help? My friends tell me not to have an operation because drugs can accomplish the same thing. What do you think?

REPLY

Surgery offers the only permanent cure. Take the advice of a physician who has had more experience than your friends with this condition. There are no drugs that eliminate varicose veins.

Behr Speaks For Civic Center Bonds

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr told the Mill Valley Rotary Club yesterday that "the cost of the Sonoma County Courthouse, now under construction, was $2 greater per square foot than the proposed cost for the new Civic Center wing."

"This is proof of the emphasis on economy which has characterized our approach to this new facility," Behr said to the luncheon meeting at the Mill Valley Golf Club, urging passage of a $7,750,000 bond issue for the new Civic Center wing.

Greenbrae School Principal Named

Leonard Heid was chosen Monday night to become principal of Greenbrae School after he and one other candidate were interviewed in closed session by the Kentfield School District board.

Heid, now principal at Ione Olson School in Marina School District in Monterey County, will start in the fall semester at $13,000 a year.

TELEVISION REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV, which can perform such wonders as transmitting color via the Early Bird satellite from Eruope, apparently has trouble correcting a routine list of on-camera credits despite a half-week's notice.

This remarkable fact came to light last night at the start of the network's "The Best on Record" special, which featured performances by some winners of the recording industry's 1965 Grammy Awards, and which listed Louis Armstrong in the opening credits.

Armstrong was to have sung "Hello, Dolly", for which he won the "best vocal performance, male" award. But because of his reported need for dental surgery, he was not able to appear on the hour — a fact which was known to NBC last week and has been in print since.

Yet not only was his opening credit unchanged, misleading and a false come-on, but the pre-planned warmups for him were also included, obviously because of technical reasons, among them the set guest-star introduction by Carol Channing, but still inexcusable.

What happened was that after Miss Channing's introduction, the show took on a pieced-together look when Jimmy Durante appeared to sing "Hello, Dolly" for Louis. This got the hour off to a shaky start, not because of Durante's presence, which is always welcome, but because the whole thing looked sloppy and, obviously, because viewers were not, in fact, hearing the record that won the award for the best vocal performance.

The fact is that, with news and public affairs broadcasts and Early Bird making viewers intensely aware of the quick adaptability of television to technical situations, it is intolerable to accept anything less from video entertainment. This was not a last-minute problem. An NBC spokesman told me of the substitution last Friday.

THE NBC-TV series of specials entitled "Of Men and Freedom" last night presented its second documentary, "The Middle Ages," and, like the first, "The French Revolution," it was a skimpy, pedestrian, paralyzing bore of an hour, coldily impersonal and genuinely insignificant. Someone is bound to give it an award.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV's coverage of next month's planned two-man, four-day Gemini space flight will include live special reports preceding every one of the network's programs during the length of the mission ... Same network's "Wild Kingdom" series, which deals with animals and primitive peoples and places, will return next season.

Broemmel Set To Explain Job

Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, target of criticism for this year's large increases in property assessments on the Tiburon peninsula and in other areas, will explain his methods of operation on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Appearing as guest of Kitty Oppenheimer, Broemmel will answer questions telephoned in by listeners. The hour-long program will be taped for re-play at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Leydecker Hits Aid To Chambers

At nearly every meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors recently, the practice of contributing county money to chambers of commerce and other similar groups has come under attack.

Yesterday Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker went on the attack again, saying the results of the contributions to chambers should be analyzed.

"So far I don't see any appreciable results," Leydecker said. He said, however, that he had an open mind and would be pleased to see evidence to the contrary.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who has attacked the system a rptiromeetis ,gnerqcedy tem at prior meetings, wondered if county contributions might be made on a percentage basis for each chamber's budget.

FEEDING TIME—Katy, a three-week-old lamb who lives in Walter Benson's sixth grade classroom at Laurel Dell Intermediate School by day, Benson's San Anselmo home at night and at a student's home on weekends, is the center of attention at feeding time. Here Ann Ladwig feeds Katy while Craig Martz and Cathi Amorosa await their turns.

SCHOOL 'BARNYARD'

This Little Lamb Is Teacher's Pet

By ELLEN DIETSCHY

Once it may have been a girl named Mary who had an education-seeking lamb. Now it's a sixth-grade teacher at Laurel Dell School, San Rafael, who brings a lamb to school.

The lamb's short, kinked, fleece is tan instead of snow-white but she does go wherever teacher Walter Benson goes, and comes when someone calls her name, Katy.

The three-week-old lamb was bought at an auction for Benson, who is now in his sixth year of bringing barnyard animals into the classroom to teach students how to care for them, according to the principal, Mrs. Lee Heise.

"Many of these youngsters haven't been close enough to barnyard animals before to realize they can be tamed," said Benson, who admits having a "bug" for teaching science with live specimens.

The lamb has a lot of company in Benson's classroom.

There is a grey and white rat who gave birth to several more last week. A caged rattle snake, a gopher and a king snake share their aquarium home with an alligator lizard. And there is a South American boa constrictor.

A tame lamb in a classroom with 35 rambunctious sixth graders might generate concern for the animal's safety in many cases. This is not so in Benson's class, according to Mrs. Heise.

"They have the routine for taking care of Katy down pat," she said.

Benson has a volunteer clean-up crew, called into action often during the day, since three-week-old lambs are seldom house-broken.

Other groups take turns giving milk to Katy in a soft drink bottle topped with a rubber nipple.

"The youngsters are really learning to assume responsibility for the lamb's care, not only in the classroom but also when they get their parent's permissin to bring the lamb home for a weekend," Benson said.

"After I get a note from a parent saying it's all right for the child to have Katy for the weekend, I load the lamb's 'home,' —a refrigerator packing box— and the lamb into my station wagon Friday after school and deliver them to the student's home. Monday morning, before school, I bring the crate and the lamb back to school.

"During class time, Katy usually finds a comfortable place, out from under foot, where she snoozes. If she starts cavorting in the room, I put her in the refrigerator crate to calm down.

"She rarely causes us any trouble at all," Benson said.

But the students and I have an understanding. The moment their attention wanders from classwork to Katy, the lamb goes into her box until recess.

"I do think my neighbors in the 100-block of Brookside Drive in San Anselmo, after seeing Katy in the backyard, were extremely relieved to learn I was not starting a sheep ranch."

'Smashing' Sundae Is Ginger Peach-y

Considering the fact that Californians consumed almost 63 million gallons of ice cream (the read McCoy) last year, it becomes apparent that ice cream is a favored dessert in our part of the country. With this in mind we present this Ginger Peach Sunday which, to use today's vernacular, has proven to be a "smashing" success with teenagers and all-other-agers as a grand finale for a party dinner or for snacking anytime. Recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

GINGER PEACH SUNDAE

- 3 to 4 fresh ripe peaches OR 1 can sliced cling peaches, well drained
- 1 cup maple syrup
- 2 tablespoons chopped crystallized ginger
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream

Peel and slice peaches. Combine syrup, ginger and walnuts. Add peach slices and let stand a half hour or so. Spoon over scoops of vanilla ice cream.

Tropical Fruits Add Zest To Refreshing Tiki Salad

Combining familar tropic favorites like golden pineapple tidbits and smooth, mellow banana slices with bite-size pieces of delightful papaya, a luscious peach-colored, melon-like fruit results in a usually delightful fruit mixture that's marvelous as a refreshing breakfast treat, wonderful as an appetizer, salad or dessert. And one that's a truly exiciting ingredient in recipes, too. Just try it in the Tiki Fruit Salad recipe below.

TIKI FRUIT SALAD

Sesame Dressing:

- ¼ cup sesame seeds
- 2 cans (1 lb. size) tropical fruit salad
- ¼ cup powdered sugar
- ½ tsp. dry mustard
- ½ tsp. paprika
- ½ tsp. worcestershire sauce
- ¼ tsp. salt
- ½ cup salad oil
- 3 tbsp. vinegar

Heat dry sesame seeds in dry fry pan, stirring till golden brown. Set aside. In jar, combine ¼ cup syrup from the Tropical Fruit Salad with remaining ingredients and shake well.

Mix 2 cans (6½ or 7 oz. size) tuna, drained and flaked, with 1 cup sliced celery. Moisten lightly with dressing and spoon into 4 to 6 cantaloupe halves, seeded. Top tuna with drained fruit, sprinkle with sesame seeds. Pass additional dressing. Serve with crackers or hot rolls. Makes a hearty luncheon salad.

Use Of Citrus Marmalade Brightens Breakfast Table

Cooks who enjoy having their own batches of preserves on hand may be interested in putting up some marmalade. If you are a marmalade fan, you know how delicious the homemade product is on hot buttered toast or English muffins.

The following recipe, using oranges, lemons and grapefruit, was tasted in our kitchen and produces a pleasant preserve. Because citrus fruits are high in pectin, they jell well. The trick in making marmalade is to have the fruit tender, and this recipe gives directions for achieving this result.

Marmalade-making does take time because several processes are involved. But if you gain satisfaction from being a "from scratch" cook, you'll probably think the results worth the effort.

CITRUS MARMALADE

- 2 large navel oranges
- 2 large lemons
- 1 large grapefruit
- Sugar and salt.

Wash and dry oranges; cut into 4 to 6 lengthwise wedges. Discard any seeds and the stringy white centers. Slice paper-thin.

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes; slice sections into smaller pieces and add (without juice) to orange-lemon mixture. (Drink juice! Discard grapefruit peel, dividing membranes and any seeds.)

Measure the combined prepared fruit; there should be from 4 to 4½ cups; add 3 cups of hot water for each cup of fruit. Cover and let stand in a cool place overnight.

The next morning, boil gently until lemon peel is tender—30 to 45 minutes. (The test for lemon peel is given because it takes a little longer than orange peel to become tender.)

Divide the fruit mixture into 2 batches. To do this, dip up cup by cup from the bottom of the kettle so that the liquid and solids are evenly distributed. For each cup of prepared fruit, add 1 cup sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt.

Cook each batch separately: stir over moderate heat until sugar dissolves, then boil rapidly until barely at, or not quite at, the jellying stage—this usually takes from 15 to 20 minutes. Quickly skim off any foam and pour boiling hot marmalade to within ⅛-inch from the top of pint or half-pint fruit jars. Place dome lids on jars; screw bands tight. Invert jars for 2 or 3 minutes, then stand upright to cool. If fruit rises in jars, wait until syrup begins to thicken, then shake jar to redistribute fruit. Makes 4½ to 5½ pints. (Prepare jars and lids according to manufacturer's directions.)

New Recipe For Date Pudding Adds Walnuts

Curried Chicken Rice
Chutney Sanad Bowl
New Date Pudding Beverage

NEW DATE PUDDING

- 1¼ cups unsifted regular flour
- ¼ teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 container (10 ounces) diced dates
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 cup boiling water
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 large eggs
- 1 cup coarsely broken walnuts

Grease the bottom of a baking pan (9 by 9 by 1¾ inches); line bottom with wax paper; grease paper. On wax paper, stir toghether the flour, baking powder and salt. Turn dates into a mixing bowl; sprinkle them with the baking soda; add boiling water. Cream butter and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Stir in flour mixture, then date mixture and walnuts. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in a slow (300 degree) oven one hour — pudding should shrink from sides of pan. Turn out; remove paper; turn right side up. Serve warm with whipped cream.

Molded Ham Salad Pleases At Luncheon

When you have a pretty special molded ham loaf ready for luncheon, it's easy to approach the occasion with a feeling of confidence for its success.

Tomato sauce gives a good base for this ground ham loaf, advises widely-known meat authority Reba Staggs. Capers and horseradish add interesting flavor touches to sharpen its taste.

There are enough vegetables in this loaf to give it crunchiness, so it might be served with spiced pears or peaches and small muffins or toast triangles such as raisin or rye. An easy dessert would be brownies a la mode served with iced tea or coffee.

PARTY BEST HAM SALAD

- 2 cups ground cooked ham
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- ⅓ cup cold water
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1 cup water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- ¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
- ¼ cup drained pickle relish
- ½ cup thinly sliced celery
- 1 hard cooked egg, sliced

Soften gelatin in ⅓ cup cold water. Combine tomato sauce and 1 cup water in saucepan and heat to boiling. Add softened gelatin and lemon juice and chill until slightly thickened. Stir in ham, capers, horseradish,, mayonnaise, onion, green pepper, pickle relish and celery. Arrange sliced egg lengthwise in a slightly greased 9x5-inch loaf pan. Pour in ham mixture. Chill 4 to 5 hours or until firm. Unmold. Serves 6 to 8.

County Moving To Meet Mental Health Demands

By coincidence, several events have occurred in Marin to focus local attention on mental health services during this Mental Health Month of May.

A memorial lecture fund was set up last week for the late Dr. Ernest J. Long, who was clinical director of the Marin Mental Health Center at Ross.

The Center is an outpatient program of the Marin Mental Health Foundation. In January of 1964, this private, non-profit organization opened the first outpatient clinic in the community to serve patients near their homes, as opposed to sending them away to far away institutions.

Men like Dr. Long and groups like the Mental Health Foundation demonstrated the value and pointed out the need of this psychiatric service at the local level.

Since its opening, the Center has served 349 patients, for an average of 28 per month. One-third of these were children and adolescents.

To supplement this private clinic, the county's Short-Doyle clinic opened last January under the direction of Dr. Clyde Miller of the Community Mental Health Services. This clinic provides outpatient psychiatric services for those unable to pay for private care.

The county's concern with the growing need for psychiatric services is not stopping there. Marin General Hospital District directors last week began eyeing the possibility of a million-dollar mental health facility on the hospital grounds.

All of these developments point to a growing recognition, both among private and public agencies, of the importance of local mental health care.

It is also encouraging to see that the public and the private agencies are working in harmony to supplement each other rather than to compete and clash.

Dr. Miller of the county agency reports that there may be some duplication between the county program and the one at Ross. But he believes Marin can more than absorb both services.

Furthermore, within the foreseeable future, it is unlikely that a public program can meet all the treatment needs of those who cannot afford the care of physicians in private practice.

Private agencies can supplement public programs by offering patients and referral sources a choice of service. Also, private agencies can help increase the quality of service to the community.

We take this occasion, Mental Health Month, to laud the efforts, both in the public and private sectors, to provide Marin residents with mental health care—care on a personal level close to home, where other members of the family, close friends, and familiar surroundings can aid in a patient's recovery.

New Zealand Tea Plant

Marin's cool, damp climate resembles that of New Zealand in many ways. Thus, a number of New Zealand native plants thrive here.

One of these, the New Zealand Tea Plant, or Leptospermum, has been blooming in Marin gardens since February and will continue flowering for at least another month. A large evergreen shrub, the New Zealand Tea Plant has pink or red blossoms interspersed with the small, dark-green, needle-like leaves along its branches.

The profligate manner with which it blooms and blooms and its generally handsome appearance, make it a favorite of many Marinites.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The bottom dropped out of the case against the topless-costumed waitresses in San Francisco's North Beach area.

THE ASSEMBLY Committee on Criminal Procedure, after considering several bills to outlaw topless bathing suit shows and topsy-curvy waitresses, decided the whole area needed a careful study.

But James O. Reimel, state director of alcoholic beverage control, said this has not deterred him in his drive to proceed against licensed premises which employ waitresses or barmaids with only half a costume. As a matter of fact, disciplinary action against two of the North Beach spots currently is pending.

Reimel said he has authority, under the Constitution, to require that waitresses be properly clad. He emphasized he will not take action against entertainers who might leave little to the imagination, so long as they stay on the stage.

"Some of these entertainers, however, are coming down into the audience afterward, often with clothes on," Reimel said, "and accepting drinks from patrons. This is nothing more than the old B-girl routine and will not be tolerated."

So Reimel said he will continue to file accusations against licensees who use topless-clad waitresses and also will take action against premises which feature "phoney fashion shows."

WOMEN ARE NOT allowed behind the bar in premises licensed for on-sale liquor sales, unless they are owners or part-owners of the bar. However, women are permitted to dispense beer from behind the bar in premises licensed only for beer.

"This has been a problem, too," Reimel said. "These girls work behind the bar on raised platforms and they're taking more and more clothes off as time goes on."

Because of the sensitive nature of the alcoholic beverage business, the ABC director has discretionary powers in issuance of licenses and taking action against licensees which are not affected by certain court findings.

If a licensee is charged with sales to a minor, but wins acquittal on the charges in a municipal or superior court, the department still may take action against him. Many have argued that this amounts to double jeopardy and there have been numerous attempts in the Legislature to change this law.

A bill to do this, in fact, is currently before the Legislature, by Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan, R-Chula Vista. It has been approved by the Assembly and now is before the Senate.

This might be the year that such a bill is approved. but it will become law only over Reimel's serious objections.

AS FOR THE topless-clad waitresses, some showing has been made and many lawyers will argue that the mere abbreviation of a costume is not a showing of lewd or dissolute conduct, as defined in the penal code. Reimel, of course, must disagree.

In an industry in which there are specific requirements that bars must have a certain amount of light, that they may not become resorts for perverts, and that female employees may not accept drinks purchased for them by customers, it would be a bit ridiculous to permit semi-nude cocktail waitresses to be moving among the customers.

Junior Cotillion's Leader Pens Thanks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

May I take this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed so generously to the success of the Junior Cotillion Trophy Ball held May 8 . . . to benefit the Campership Fund of the Easter Seal Society? It seemed appropriate that the efforts of my Junior Cotillion students, their parents and friends would make possible the experience and benefits of summer camp for some crippled children.

In particular I want to thank our Mayor Paul Bettini for awarding the trophies . . . assisted by the Dance Masters of America's northern California president, Mrs. Gladys Blankenship and Ed Mulligan, one of baseball's all-time "greats."

Very special thanks go to Don Keown of the Independent-Journal and Bill Thompson of KTIM for their support . . .

Greatest thanks of all go to my students who demonstrated to our guests that there are young people who can really dance . . . standard dances . . . with apparent enjoyment and skill.

Policeman Defended For Use Of Weapon

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In regards to May 12th editorial and Letters to the Editor how easy it is for us to sit in judgment on the police officers who daily risk their lives for us.

Let's face it . . . Today's criminal knows very well that the police officer's weapon is fast becoming obsolete, he really doesn't need it and our crime rate proves it. After all, these burglars, car thieves and felons are just confused and misunderstood.

In the case of Ferranti it really doesn't matter that in his flight he nearly caused several highway fatalities. The officer should have used quiet diplomacy.

When are we going to wake up to the facts of life? With the criticism and abuse heaped on our policemen, it is a miracle we have any at all.

When one does his duty as he sees it he is still crucified. "They are damned if they do, and damned if they don't."

Dancing Teacher Frolich Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Bravo to your Don Keown for recognition of Mrs. Bari Frohlich, director of the Junior Cotillion of Marin. Mrs. Frohlich's resolute efforts to teach preteen and teen-agers proper deportment, and proper dancing skill and style, deserves encouragement from all responsible adults.

Most adults have been misled into lumping together all teenage dances with sloppy attire, fist fights, and such fad dances as the swim, jerk, monkey, etc. The model youngsters found in Mrs. Frohlich's classes and dances are not publicized simply because they are so well behaved.

Parents would do well to observe her classes and see properly dressed youngsters behaving as young ladies and gentlemen, and smoothly dancing foxtrot, waltz, cha cha cha, swing and others. It was quite typically a Frohlich gesture that when she recently staged her annual Cotillion Ball on May 8, all net proceeds were donated to the crippled children's fund of the Easter Seal Society.

Marincello's Major Threat Is In Crime?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The debate on Marincello so far has concentrated largely on the aesthetic aspects . . . to the exclusion of the more important social ramifications.

The greatest curse of excessive density of population is not what is does to the landscape, but what it does to the people involved. There is that anonymity that permits people to act their worst. . . .

San Francisco certainly is not the worst city in the world. But . . . in San Francisco it is not safe to walk alone on the streets at night. . . . One does not open the front door incautiously. . . . Especially in those sections like the Panhandle, where the apartments front on the "green belt," it is best to lock yourself in your car if you have to drive there at night. Otherwise, even while you are halted at a stop light, you might find yourself in real trouble. . . .

It is a weird, unhealthy way of life. This weird way of life never has come to Marin because we have not allowed the population density that breeds it. Despite all the money that is being spent in the present effort, we still have faith that our officials have sufficient integrity so that they will not tamper with this safeguard.

No Marincello For Beautiful Marin

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . The incomparable beauty of our county. To preserve it for our children, un-Frougeized, is the sole motivation of Marincello opponents. Contrary to your recent editorial, no "unsavory" motives impel us to opposition.

But what motivates Frouge (and Gulf Oil)? Simple: To make money. No matter what it does to Marin. With the cold shrewdness marking a business venture, which it is; with unlimited money; and a calculated campaign to put Marincello over on Marin residents, Frouge has bought the services of numerous "consultants" . . . has flooded local newspapers with advertising and press releases to gull us, our Supervisors and Planning Commissioners into believing the unbelievable—that Marincello is inevitable and

(1) will be "the most beautiful planned community in the world"; (2) will return millions in taxes to the county; (3) will be near-invisible with its skyscrapers; (4) will not add to traffic problems with its 31,500 residents; and other fanciful fables.

To erect in the uniquely beautiful Marin headlands area 53 16-story earth-to-sky towers, would be a desecration to haunt us and our children forever. . . .

We are confident that our Supervisors and Planning Commissioners will withstand the lavish brainwashing, blandishments, pressures and influence-peddling of the Frouge-Gulf organizaion; will safeguard the overriding public interest and reflect the sound judgment of Marin residents, by disapproval of this drastic, irreversible character-change for Marin.

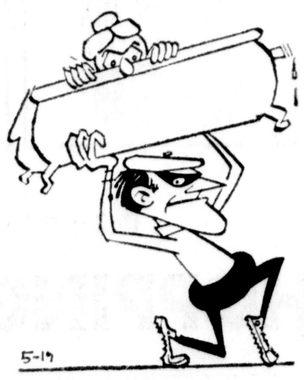
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

WE HAVEN'T heard too much lately about Charley Weaver—or his letters from his ma back home in Mount Idy. But he reported receipt of this new one from the good lady: "Birdie Rodd is pretty upset. Saturday night somebody broke into her house and stole her bathtub. She says whoever did it can keep the washrag, soap, and tub—but she would like to get back her Aunt Minnie."



BOB SATRE, indefatigable researcher of American Revolution data, claims that a British soldier, on the eve of the Battle of White Plains, tripped while he was raiding a well-stocked chicken coop. He fell heavily to the ground, where he was pinned down by a belligerent Rhode Island Red until the Chinese cook employed by the American owners burst upon the scene. "Ho, ho," chuckled the Chinese cook, "Chicken catch a Tory!"

Steel, Aerospace Union Crises Threaten LBJ's Summer Calm

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Substituting for Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson's hands-off policy toward big labor disputes faces a severe test this summer in two critical industries—steel and aerospace.

A strike in either industry would be a severe blow to Johnson's domestic, defense and space programs, and early trouble signs indicate tough sledding in both sets of negotiations.

THE DOUBLE-BARRELED crisis—if it crystallizes—will come at the height of the summer heat in August and could melt the White House resolve to let labor and management work out their own problems.

The steel industry is already balking at a pointed White House hint that it can afford to raise wages 3 per cent without a price hike.

In aerospace, militant union spokesmen predict a crisis if their demands for a union shop—plus a big wage hike—aren't met.

THE STEEL TALKS—resuming May 18 after a May 1 strike deadline was narrowly averted—cover more than 400,000 members of the United Steelworkers Union, AFL-CIO.

Talks in the aerospace industry involve some 150,000 members of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO International Assn. of Machinists.

The earliest new steel strike deadline is Sept. 1, with Aug. 1 the date for serving notice to the 10 major firms involved.

Aerospace contracts with Douglas, Lockheed, Boeing and North American expire at various dates from July to September but auto workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock views August as the critical month.

Steel and aerospace union leaders complain recent contracts have not kept pace with White House guidelines, which judge noninflationary wage hikes on the basis of man-hour productivity increases. For industry as a whole, the figure suggested by the president's Council of Economic Advisers is 3.2 per cent.

In a special report on steel, the council suggested 3 per cent as the guidelines.

THIS NETTLED steel industry officials, who contend it gave union negotiators extra ammunition to carry back to the bargaining table. But the Steelworkers Union says the guideline figure is too low—it wants 17 or 18 cents an hour. Wages and fringe benefits now average $4.40 an hour.

The auto workers say aerospace production and maintenance workers at $2.95 an hour lag behind average wages of $3.07 in the auto industry. The machinists have already laid down a demand for 57 cents an hour spread over three years.

But it is the demand for union security that is expected to trigger the most trouble in aerospace.

The union shop would require all workers covered by the contracts to join the union.

THE AUTO WORKERS are willing to settle for the agency shop, under which every nonmember would have to pay the equivalent of union dues but would not have to join the union.

Congressional hearings scheduled soon on the repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which permits the states to outlaw the union shop, will doubtless heighten the tension in the aerospace talks.

In both steel and aerospace, any strike would shut down the entire industry—not just a few firms.

If this happens, President Johnson might claim the national interest is being injured and he could step in to halt the strike.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Job Corps Criticized By Lawmakers, Boys

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Encouraged by Shriver's backdown to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's demands for a bigger voice in New York's anti-poverty program, an increasing number of congressional delegations are lambasting Shriver for failing to consult them on projects for their states.

Sen. Clinton Anderson, D-New Mexico, a former Cabinet member and one of the president's original political supporters, notified the White House, "If Sarge Shriver hasn't any more control over this program in other states than he has in New Mexico, it's a mess."

HE SARDONICALLY reported, "Shriver never needed any help on a single appointment in New Mexico. His organization is terrible and his aides apparently made all the appointments. He can't run the Peace Corps and the poverty program at the same time and expect to do a half decent job with either organization."

To underscore his complaint, Anderson had all members of the New Mexico delegation sign a letter to Shriver, with copies to the White House, stating:

"We are disturbed that we were not notified of the Office of Economic Opportunity's approval of Camp Luna in San Miguel County as a job corps conservation camp.

"We can well appreciate the president's desire to announce a new series of conservation camps at his press conference. We have no quarrel with that. Following the press conference, our office received inquiries as to which facilities had been approved for New Mexico. We had no information on which to base replies.

"Earlier, one of our offices (Anderson's) inquired of the Office of Economic Opportunity as to the status of Camp Luna; there was no indication that action was imminent. It was not until an hour and a half after the press conference, and after a good deal of telephoning, that we were able to obtain the information from OEO.

"WE STRONGLY suggest that in the future, if the White House should make announcements on other OEO activities in our state, your liaison people promptly notify our offices."

The legislators were less diplomatic in their telephone calls. They made it clear to aides of the president that they wanted to be consulted in advance on poverty projects in their states, and all major appointments cleared through their offices.

Other Democratic congressional delegations have served similar notices on Shriver and the White House. They frankly warned that if the administration expects their help in voting larger amounts for these programs, they must be given a "voice" in the projects and hiring within their states.

Humphrey Is Target Of Kennedy Strategy

By LYLE WILSON
U. P. International

That Johnson-Kennedy feud you have been reading about is no feud at all but merely a perfectly legitimate play by the power-hungry Kennedys to regain the White House when LBJ moves out.

THE KENNEDYS are shooting at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. They have disliked Humphrey for years and now more than ever because Hubert got the vice presidential job Bobby wanted. The Kennedys appear to be thinking in terms of 1972 when it is properly assumed that President Johnson after two terms will attempt to hand over the White House to Humphrey.

Any idea that the Kennedys aspire to block LBJ's renomination in 1968 is ridiculous. It is not possible to prevent the renomination for a second term of even an unpopular president. For proof, examine the political history of 1932 and 1948 when Herbert Hoover and Harry S. Truman, respectively, were renominated.

Johnson would not flinch from a Johnson-Kennedy feud. He invited trouble on that front last year when he disqualified Robert F. Kennedy for the vice presidential nomination. Later LBJ connived with Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York to prevent Robert Kennedy from accumulating a political power base in New York State. The Johnson-Wagner effort is a flop so far.

NOW JOHNSON is tossing Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. into the political ring with Kennedy. He has designated Frank Jr. to be chairman of a five-member Equal Opportunity Commission (EOC).

Roosevelt had been serving obscurely as undersecretary of commerce by appointment of the late John F. Kennedy. Chairmanship of EOC will invite political attention to Roosevelt and increase his availability for nomination to high state office in New York. He is a legitimate New Yorker and he wants to be governor.

FDR Jr. possesses a magic name. His pedestrian political record does not match his initials. After his father's death but while his politically powerful mother was alive and active, New York Democrats refused in 1954 to nominate FDR Jr. for governor. He won the nomination for attorney general, however, and was defeated by Republican Jacob J. Javits, now a U. S. senator and then a member of the House of Representatives.

ON HIS RECORD so far, Robert F. Kennedy should be able to seize control of the New York Democratic organization from the second- and third-raters now in charge. Frank Jr. and his inherited political glamor may help them to check Bobby. But Kennedy will remain the ablest operator in the New York State Democratic Party.

What Bobby needs now to help him in 1972 to send Humphrey back to full-time chairmanship of Americans for Democratic Action is a solid power base in New York State. Of course he needs brother Teddy's Massachusetts, too. So far the Kennedys are doing all right. It is their misfortune that to stop Humphrey they must affront Johnson. That is a dangerous play.

Civil Rights Protest Tactics Filtering Down To Family Level

WASHINGTON — The real problem with all the sit-ins, stand-ins, teach-ins, etc., is that college students are not the only ones involved. They're now trickling down to high school and even grammar school students.

At the Alice Deal Junior High School in Washington eighth-graders have not only protested the quality of the food in the cafeteria, but have also demanded the right to chew gum in school as well as to have television and music at noon.

IT'S NO SECRET that American youth is in revolt. Even in my own family I've seen the effects of all the newspaper coverage of the various protest movements on my three children.

In the morning, for example, we have a lie-in, with all three children refusing to get out of bed to get ready for school.

Using an umbrella, which is the nearest thing to a cattle prod that we've got, I usually manage to make them move.

When they're finally dressed, we are then faced with a sit-in at the kitchen counter. Our sit-in is different than the civil rights sit-in in that, while we are willing to serve them breakfast, they're protesting the fact that they have to eat it.

If we yell at them, they scream, "Police brutality!" and leave the house in a huff.

THE NEXT demonstration usually takes place around 3:30 in the afternoon when the kids start picketing the house. They usually do their picketing where we've just planted new grass seed or tulip bulbs.

The big difference between our children's picketing and civil rights picketing is that in civil rights picketing the dogs are on the side of the police, while at our house the dogs are on the side of the pickets—and if we try to move the pickets away the dogs will growl and jump us.

Some of the larger issues that the pickets feel strongly about are baths before dinner, or, on the other hand, baths after dinner, our reactionary policy against skate boards, and the fact that they have to change their school clothes before they go out to play.

There is also a feeling that their rights are being violated because we make them put their bikes away before they come in.

In the evenings the demonstrations consist of sit-ins in front of the television set. Every time we try to drag them away, they link arms and start to sing "We Shall Not Be Moved." When we start prodding them again, they go limp and we have to carry them off.

THE FINAL PROTEST takes place between 9:30 and 10 o'clock at night, when they hold a stand-in in the hall and refuse to go to bed.

This is the time when we would prefer a lie-in, but they insist on remaining on their feet until we practically knock them down.

Once again the forces of law and order in our house are charged with brutality and an unwillingness to treat them as equals.

There is no doubt that all the children in the counry are being affected by the civil rights and college demonstrations and no one knows where it will end.

JUST THE OTHER DAY my eight-year-old found out what a boycott was, and now none of the children are speaking to us at all.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Peter Lind, bartender in San Rafael for two years, opened a tavern at 1541 Fourth Street, named the 40 Thieves.

Rehabilitation of Tamalpais High School won support of voters but a $640,000 bond issue for expansion failed.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, locked the senate in its chambers for more than an hour while he argued and cajoled senators into passing his bill to take the Golden Gate Bridge into the state highway system. (It later failed in the Assembly.)

Vocation Training Will Be Topic

The role of vocational training in schools will be discussed during a public meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the Presbyterian Church of Novato.

Speakers will be Stanley Friese, assistant superintendent of Marin County schools; Robert Ingraham, coordinator of a study of vocational education in Marin County, and Paul Mobley, assistant superintendent of Novato Unified School District.

The meeting is sponsored by the Novato Branch, American Assn. of University Women.

Captain Assigned

Army Capt. Samuel Trock of 15 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, has been assigned to the U. S. Army Medical Service Group, on Okinawa, as a physician.

Larkspur Woman Injured In Crash

Eunice Garlid, 47, of 26 Baltimore Avenue, Larkspur, injured her right hand when her car collided with another vehicle at Fourth and E streets, San Rafael, about 7:15 a.m. Monday.

She was treated for bruises at San Rafael General Hospital and later released. Driver of the other car involved was Robert W. Crain of 16 Oak Avenue, San Anselmo.

Psychiatrist To Talk

Dr. George M. Burnell, psychiatrist of 363 Devon Drive, San Rafael, will participate in a panel discussion of social work with the elderly at the Forum of the National Conference on Social Welfare in Atlantic City May 25.

Today is Wednesday, May 19, the 139th day of 1965 with 226 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

Dame Nellie Melba, the Australian operatic soprano, was born on this day in 1859.

On this day in history:

In 1536, Anne Boleyn, wife of Henry VIII of England, was beheaded in London.

In 1940, William Allen White, the editor of the Emporia, Kan., Gazette, helped organize the Committee to Defend America by aiding the Allies.

In 1945, more than 400 U.S. Superfortress bombers soared over Japan, attacking Tokyo and laying mines in vital sea lanes.

In 1964, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama won 42 per cent of the votes in a primary election in Maryland. It was one of several primaries Wallace entered and the voting was viewed as reaction to civil rights activities.

A thought for the day—Greek playwright Epictetus said: "No man is able to make progress when he is wavering between opposite things."

Attack The Weak Spot Rather Than Strength

When the opponents bid three suits but never suggest notrump you may usually assume that the unbid suit is their weak spot.

Lead the unbid suit on the principle that the opening lead should attack weakness, not strength.

Opening lead — ♡ 2

West paved the way for his own downfall when he failed to open diamonds, the unbid suit. A diamond lead would develop four tricks for the defender: two diamonds and their two aces.

ACTUAL HEART

South played the jack of hearts from dummy at the first trick, losing to the queen. Unable to attack diamonds from his side of the table, East returned a trump.

Declarer won in dummy with the king of clubs, ruffed a heart, and drew two rounds of trumps.

LED SPADE

Then he led a spade to dummy's king. East wisely refused the trick, whereupon South ruffed another heart, dropping East's ace.

Declarer next led another spade. East had to take the ace this time, since otherwise dummy could cash a good heart.

But now East could not keep dummy out of the lead. If East returned a spade, dummy would obviously gain the lead with a high spade.

REST EASY

When East desperately returned a low diamond, declarer let it ride around to dummy's queen. The rest was easy.

West might have had reason to fear a diamond opening lead if his diamonds had been headed by the king.

But there was nothing dangerout about leading from J-x-x-x when the bidding made it clear that the opponents had nothing much in the suit.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond.

You have only 13 points in high cards, but you also have three tens and a nine. Open a borderline hand when you have good intermediate cards.

Marin's Civic Center Becomes Art-Lovers' Showcase

The Marin County Civic Center is playing host this month to the natural offspring of its own dazzling design.

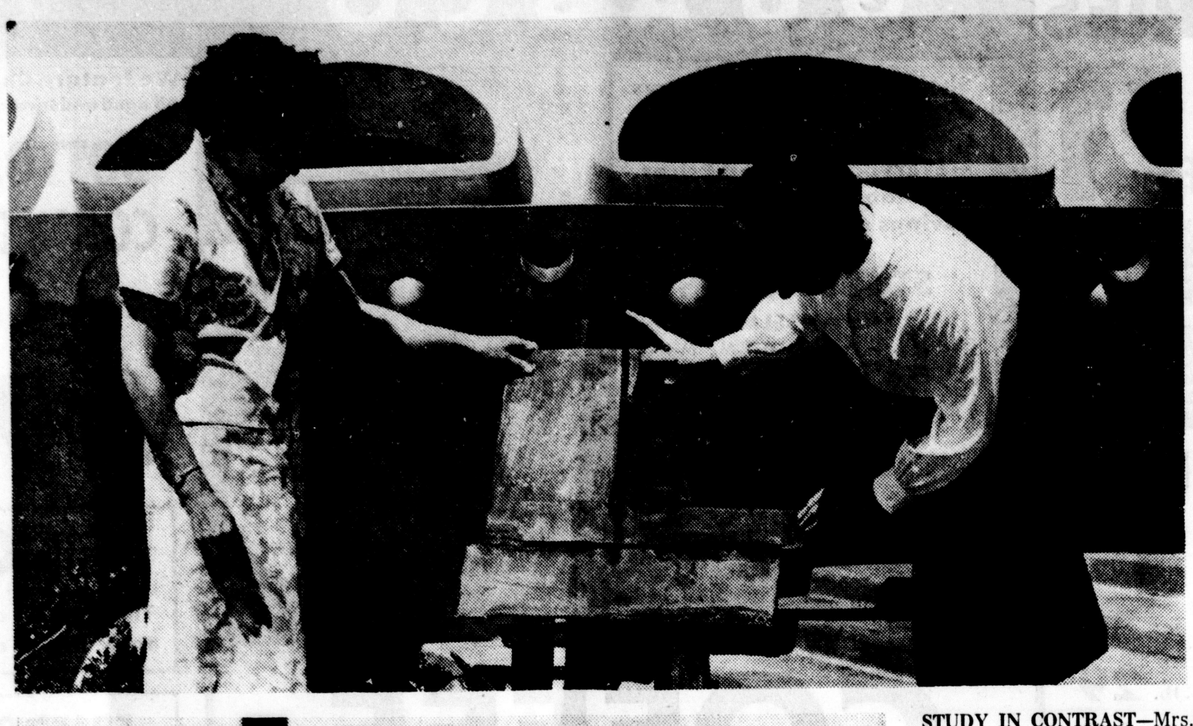
Looming in the corridors and popping up behind the plants in the center's interior gardens is the new breed of sculpture.

The exhibit of sculpture, with the sweeping curves of welded steel and bronze that are the trademark of the avante garde art, has been somewhat ominously named "The Growing Edge of California Sculpture" by its sponsor, the Marin Museum Assn.

But when viewed in the context of the architecture of the building itself, the sculpture is not ominous; it is hardly unusual.

The center and the exhibit are, artistically, two of a kind and—because of this—complement each other to the extent that people passing through might well ask:

"Where does the building end and the sculpture begin?"



STUDY IN CONTRAST—Mrs. Gordon Lowe and Mrs. Marston Hecht inspect the work adorning the Civic Center fourth floor west deck. Entitled "Vestigo," it is by Henri Marie-Rose, and is priced at $750. Its squared, chunky form contrasts strongly with the long, curving lines of the unique building, adorned with innumerable spheres and semicircles.

SAINT AND STEED—A more representational work by Henri Marie-Rose is this metal "Saint Denis." Its neighbor in the Marin Museum Assn. exhibition at the Civic Center is sculptor Robert Howard's "Horse," a spirited, small mobile that has fascinated viewers.

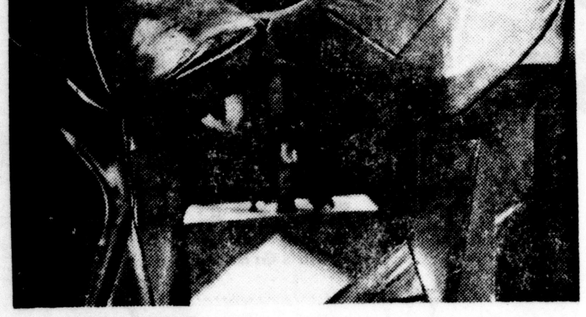
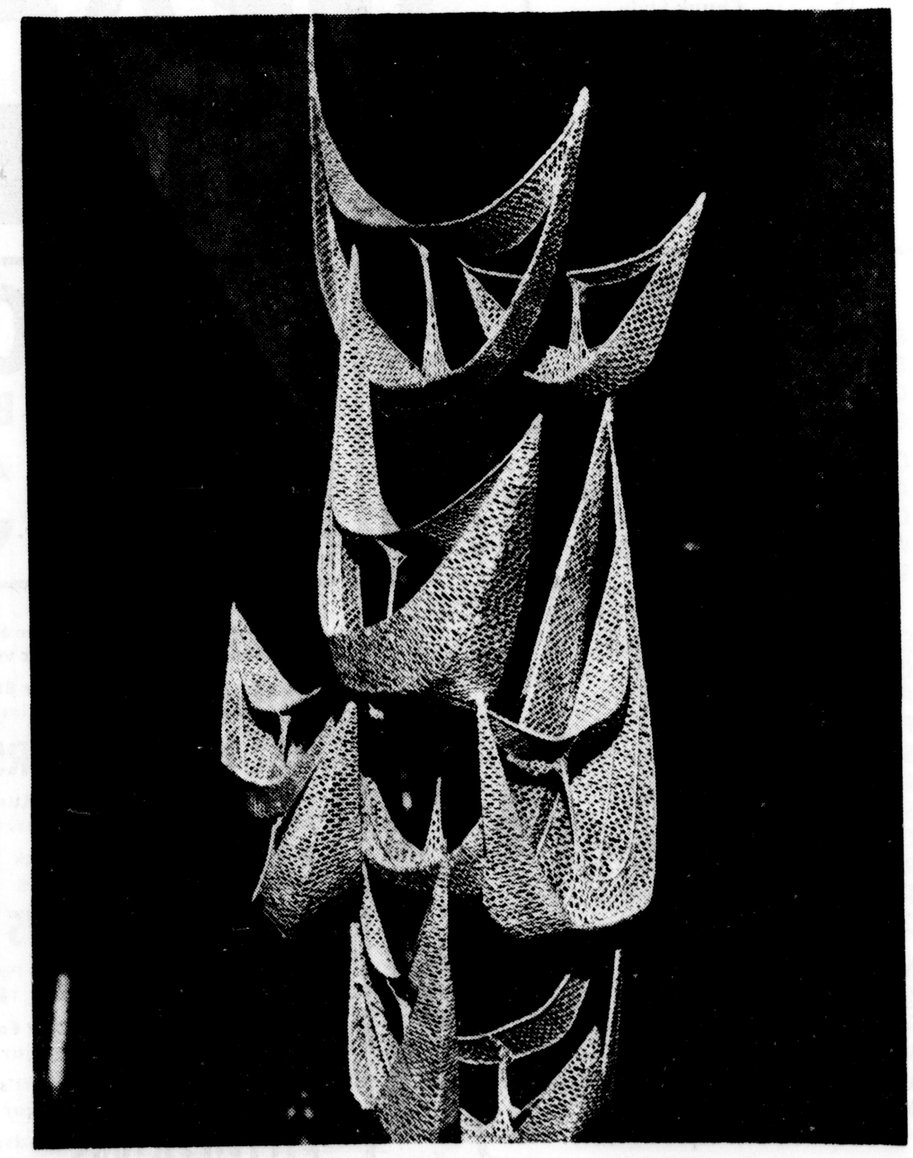
AMONG THE FLOWERS—Brilliantly lighted from the curving roof of the Frank Lloyd Wright skywell, the sometimes static, sometimes mobile works of "The Growing Edge of California Sculpture" are remarkably set off by the sweeping lines of the building and the forms and colors of living plants. After close-up inspection of the sculptors' works, the viewers may get additional views of them from many other positions.

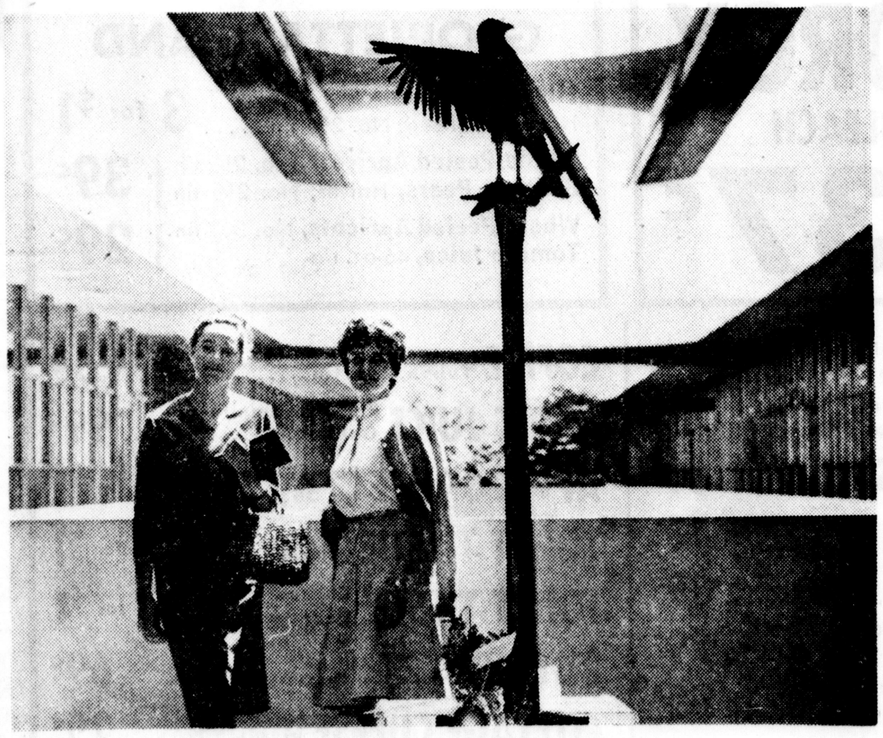


UNIQUE MATERIAL—"Two Figures," by Mel Henderson, is fashioned of leather, a material usually more favored by craftsmen than by full-fledged artists. The sculpture, shown on the first floor of the Civic Center, is priced by the artist at $225.

LUNCHEON COMPANIONS — Among the more monumental works in the Civic Center "May In Marin" display is this anodized aluminum creation, named "Exulation" by its creator, Anthony Melendy. The Los Angeles sculptor received a $250 award from the exhibition's judges, for his entry in the show sponsored by the Marin Museum Assn. The tall composition accents the open-air lunchroom and fountain outside the building's third level. Its price tag is $5,000. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)



GOSSAMER METAL — One of the highlights of the many pieces on display among the plantings in the first floor light well of the Civic Center is "Sails," created of welded iron by Priscilla Kapel and valued at $1,000. Some of its viewers have agreed with the title, some have expressed a feeling of flamelike quality in the forms of the work.



ANCIENT BUT MODERN—Robert Kingsbury's creation in wood of "Hawk With Dead Finch" on the Civic Center's second floor is admired by Miss Linda Koehler and Mrs. Robert Adams. The stylized bird forms suggest to some onlookers the murals and sculptures of ancient Egypt. The sculptor's price on the work is $700. Few sculptors create works they think will regularly be viewed from far above, and some may have been surprised by what happened to their forms and outlines when seen from the third deck light well of the Civic Center (left photo). Art-lovers, though, are happy with the opportunity to view many of the sculptures thus.

TO SPEAK — Dr. Thomas P. Lantos, economics professor at San Francisco State College, will speak on "The Coming Breakthrough in American Education" at the Marin County School Boards Assn. dinner meeting at 7 p.m. Friday. A native of Hungary, he is well known as a television news commentator and is director of international programs for all state colleges.

Veterans Continue To Hit Memorial Auditorium Plans

Veterans criticism of plans for the Veterans memorial auditorium to be built at the Civic Center still has not been quieted.

W. P. Duhamel, former county veterans service officer, told the board of supervisors yesterday that the preliminary plans had at least two serious faults which should be reviewed.

He said he wrote the board about it, but was told by Administrator Alan Bruce that the suggestions would not be taken up until June 15.

Duhamel said the proposed ticket office for the auditorium is separated from the main building by a breezeway for autos. This would mean that anyone on foot trying to buy a ticket would have to dodge cars.

He also pointed out that when the building is partitioned with the sloping floor separated from the flat floor area, those using the flat floor area will have no accesss to restrooms.

Duhamel thought these things should be taken up as soon as possible to assure their correction before it is too late. The board, however stuck by its decision to consider all suggestions June 15.

Youth Committee

The Mill Valley Youth Advisory Committee will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall, chairman Richard Parino said today. The meeting was originally set for last night.

San Francisco, Marin May Study Transit

Marin County and the City and County of San Francisco may be getting together, at least on the committee level, over the transportation problem.

Peter H. Behr, chairman of the Marin Board of Supervisors, asked fellow supervisors yesterday if he could be authorized to negotiate for a committee session on mutual transportation problems. They agreed.

$100,000 Suit Filed In Injury

Ralph E. Pherson, 1111 Lincolin Avenue, San Rafael, Monday filed a $100,000 personal injury suit in Marin Superior Court against Regal Stations, Inc.

Pherson, represented by Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini of San Rafael, alleges negligence by Regal Service Station at Lincolin and Fifth avenues in San Rafael caused him to fall on gasoline-slick pavement last Sept. 8.

He suffered body injuries and shock, the suit charges.

Non-Com Is Honored

Sgt. 1/c James D. Reddick, former administrative noncommissioned officer of the safety division, sixth region, Army Air Defense Command, Fort Baker, received a certificate of achievement for his duty from Sept. 21, 1962, to April 30 when he retired.

Half Of Family Slated For Europe Trips

Half of the Theodore E. Smith family of 457 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax, will visit Europe this summer under the Experiment in International Living program.

Roberta E. Smith, 16-year-old junior at Sir Francis Drake High School, will live with a family in France, and her sister, Rosemary, a senior at University of California at Santa Barbara, will live with a family in Poland.

Roberta is to leave New York June 29 for a two-month stay. Rosemary will start on her trip June 12, the day after graduation.

Roberta was selected for the trip by the Experiment in International Living Committee at Drake High School, who raised $600 for trip expenses at a rummage sale in February. She is vice president and past president of the student art club and a member of the Drake Diplomats, an international friendship club.

It will be the third trip to Europe for Rosemary, who went to France under the Experiment in International Living after her graduation from Drake High, and studied a year at University of Aberdeen, Scotland.

The two are the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Smith, who are scheduled to remain in the United States this summer.

Angel Island 'Train' Set For Service

An "elephant train" (for lack of a better description) is expected to begin operation on Angel Island next month.

McDonogh explained that the "train" will consist of a small motor-driven vehicle for the driver which will tow behind it a low, open vehicle seating 35 persons. Passenger automobiles are not allowed on the island.

Visitors to the island state park still will not be allowed to walk outside the Hospital Cove area until brush is cleared to cut the fire hazard and until some non-historic buildings are demolished, park supervisor John A. Biggio said. The island draws more than 1,500 persons a weekend during the summer.

County Flood Control Zone Proposal Backed

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday heard several arguments in favor of creating a countywide flood control zone and one argument against it.

The opposition came in a letter from the City of Belvedere, which told the board that Belvedere flood problems are minor and citizens are not willing to pay taxes there in support of flood control work elsewhere in the county.

Supervisors adopted a resolution backing State Senate Bill 1389, which would permit a county to create a countywide flood control zone, and told Frost to attend a hearing in Sacramnto Monday to testify in favor of the bill before the Senate Committee on Water Resources.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said a countywide zone would have the additional advantage of solving his current problem with the cities of San Anselmo, Ross and Fairfax. He has been trying to persuade the cities to join a flood control district to finance maintenance of the Corte Madera Creek project. He has been unable to get cities to agree to this.

Frost said a countywide zone would eliminate the present multiplicity of zones, greatly reduce administrative paper work, make it possible to establish a revolving fund for interim financing, make it easier to explore sources of money other than local taxes, and resolve the problem created through lack of conformity between watershed boundaries and political boundaries.

Why so many Dentists Say Clean Dentures This Way...

Special "fast-soak" formula restores original whiteness

Abrasive pastes or hard brushing may scratch dentures . . . cause 'teeth' to be dropped or broken. But today dentists know how soaking in KLEENITE beats even the hardest brushing with an ordinary dentifrice.

Fast-acting KLEENITE combines three stain-removing actions: (1) detergent; (2) oxidizer; and (3) solvent.

With this special triple-action formula, KLEENITE safely soaks away discolorations and dingy smoke stains . . . soaks away embedded stains that pastes and brushes can't even reach. Get KLEENITE today at drug counters.

Junta Captures Rebels' Radio

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Troops loyal to the civilian-military junta occupied the main rebel radio station today and insurgent resistance in northern Santo Domingo appeared to have collapsed.

Units of the Dominican Air Force police moved into the silent Santo Domingo radio station this morning after a brisk exchange of fire with snipers in nearby buildings.

The junta, scenting victory in the civil war, turned down last night a U.N. appeal for a cease-fire which the rebels were ready to accept.

Troops loyal to the junta appeared to have control of more than half the industrial-suburban area north of the east-west corridor established by U. S. troops leading to the international zone for refugees. The main rebel stronghold lies south of the corridor.

The sound of battle lessened during the day. A military officer who led the occupation of the radio station said "the insurgents have disappeared and we are trying to find them."

There still was no official figure on casualties in the battle, which has been raging for three days. There have been unverified reports of many dead among civilians living in the northern suburbs.

U.S. troops are not involved in the fighting, but a U.S. military spokesman said five American soldiers were wounded by rebel sniper fire in 56 separate shooting incidents in the 24-hour period ending at midnight. U.S. battle casualties stand at 19 dead and 99 wounded.

Jose Antonio Mayobre of Venezuela, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's special Dominican envoy, told a news conference that Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, the junta chief, "indicated he thought he was winning and therefore could not talk of a cease-fire."

Mayobre said Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, the insurgent leader, had expressed willingness to accept a truce.

Two of President Johnson's special envoys, Undersecretary of State Thomas C. Mann and former ambassador John Bartlow Martin, returned to Washington last night.

State Department sources said Mann and Martin reported to Secretary of State Dean Rusk. No details were given out.

McGeorge Bundy, the President's national security affairs adviser, remained in the Dominican Republic to continue the U.S. peacemaking effort.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker told the OAS Council in Washington "there is reason to believe" that able men are available to serve in a new Dominican government which would exclude Communists and other extremist elements.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, the Security Council was scheduled to hear today from Ruben Brache, representative of the rebels, and Guaroa Velazquez, representing the junta.

In Caracas, Foreign Minister Ignacio Iribarren Borges told newsmen Venezuela is considering recognizing the rebel force as the rightful Dominican government but that it will not act alone. He said he is sound-

MORAL: DON'T STOP ON BRIDGE

Huge two-trailer truck driven by Oscar L. Hook Jr. of El Sobrante plowed into the stopped car with the result shown here. Viet Bombers Kill 85 Congs In Mountains

Carrier-Based Planes Plaster Bases In North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese fighter-bombers killed 85 Viet Cong in an atack in Binh Thuan Province today, a U.S. spokesman announced.

The spokesman said a U.S. forward air controller observed the Viet Cong assembling in company strength in a mountain valley and called in Vietnamese planes that were flying to another target.

THREE BARRACKS

Forty U.S. Navy planes destroyed three military barracks and inflicted heavy damage on other installations in the second consecutive day of air strikes against North Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The spokesman said the aircraft from the carrier Coral Sea struck at two target areas 40 miles north of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

The raid was the second in 24 hours after a six-day suspension of air strikes against the Communist North. Speculation grew that the United States may broaden the air attacks.

The barracks were destroyed at Hoan Lao. It was not known whether they were occupied.

FIRST ASSAULT

Planners' Vote Favors Terra Linda High-Rise

Hefty Raise Voted For County Aides

Pay of the county counsel will go from $17,600 to $22,000 in July. Two years later it will go to $24,000, according to the schedule adopted yesterday. Douglas J. Maloney is county counsel.

The change will put the county counsel's salary $1,000 above that of the county administrator, who was given a $5,000 boost to $21,000 a year in January. It is $5,350 above the present salary of the district attorney, although there is now a bill in the Legislature, endorsed by the county supervisors, to raise the district attorney to $23,000.

The pay for the director of community health service, Clyde G. Miller, will increase from $17,600 to $19,500 in July.

Salary for director of public health, Carolyn B. Albrecht, will go from $16,800 to $18,000 in July.

The increases were recommended by Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker and Thomas T. Storer, who make up the board's executive salary committee.

Draper Offers City Four-Acre Park Site

Spurning the organized opposition of Terra Linda residents, six members of the San Rafael Planning Commission last night unanimously recommended approval of the Draper Companies' revised plan for high rise and townhouse apartments on Quail Hill.

City Planner George H. Rodgers predicted the city council would decide June 7 to schedule a June 21 hearing before making its final decision on the matter.

Commissioners were particularly pleased by Draper's offer to the city of four acres at the south end of the development for a park, a feature not in the plan when the first hearing was held two weeks ago.

FIRST HEARING

As at the first hearing, the city council chambers was filled to standing room only during the two-hour hearing.

Sole spokesman for the opposing Terra Landa Valley Property Owners Assn. was attorney Phillip E. Brown, a member of the association. After his 30-minute presentation, acting commissioner chairman Carl S. Brown gave Donald C. Marek, spokesman for the Draper Companies, a rebuttal period.

Attorney Brown said he had no quarrel with proposals for the park and landscaped buffer areas at the south end of the hill.

DENSITY PLAN

He contended that the density of the plan, which Marek had earlier placed at 11.5 units per acre, violated the spirit of the county master plan (drawn up before the hill was annexed to San Rafael), the not-yet-adopted San Rafael General Plan, and earlier statements of the Draper Companies.

Nothing that Marek had said 600,000 cubic yards of dirt would have to be moved, Brown said he had calculated that if this were spread over the homes of Terra Landa property owners, "It would bury us eight feet . . . That's a hell of a lot of dirt."

Marek countered that the im-

Eight-In-One U.S. Satellite Launch Bared

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States secretly launched eight military satellites into orbit with one rocket last March 9, the New York Times said today.

This was the greatest number of payloads ever put into space with one booster by this country and it is believed to exceed any multiple launching made by the Soviet Union, a Washington dispatch said.

The story also said in part:

The satellites were launched by an Air Force Thor-Agena rocket from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. They were pushed apart from each other by metal springs, a simple technique first used by the Navy's Vanguard satellite launcher in 1958.

The satellites are circling the earth in orbits ranging between 561 and 585 miles high.

A similar technique will be used by the Air Force several times next year to put eight military communications satellites into orbit at one time from a single Titan-3C rocket.

Sheeks Charges Bias As Marincello Blasted

By DAVID HASSETT

The much-discussed Marincello project was gently booted into the bay at a Mill Valley public hearing last night, despite a sharp accusation from City Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks that some of his colleagues were biased.

"Constructive criticism" was called for by Mayor Michael Wornum at the outset. The criticism heard tore a handful of holes in the Frouge Corp. plan.

Sheeks leaped in with a broadside at the start of the joint city council-planning commission meeting set unofficially to discuss Marincello and make appropriate recommendations. There were quite a few.

Sheeks charged, "This is not an impartial hearing. This is not an objective proceeding aimed at making a decision based on the facts."

He claimed three members of the Mill Valley City Council have long since adopted public positions in opposition to Marincello: Mayor Wornum and Councilman Albert E. White and William Secor.

The developer, Sheeks said, is entitled to full hearing on all the facts and, he predicted, "the county planning commission will give this proceeding exactly the weight it deserves — a bit of pious pompery, a frivolous piece of window-dressing."

Sheeks, an attorney acting for Frouge Corp., held that Mill Valley should not take a position on the issue.

"In view of our past conduct, it is inconsistent in the extreme for us now to be wandering this far afield," he declared. No interest had been taken, he assert-

College Probe Proposal Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature moved closer today toward a broad inquiry into the state's higher education system, including the University of California.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, and Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said they may set up a joint legislative committee to look into every facet of the university and the state colleges.

It would not be restricted to the University of California at Berkeley, scene of student demonstrations, both men emphasized.

Presbyterians To Study New Racial Stand

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Delegates to the 177th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church will begin consideration tomorrow of a new statement of faith for the church's followers.

It is the culmination of seven years of study and gives specific attention to what should be the church's view on matters of race, war and poverty.

The 3.3 million member denomination will be asked to adopt a resolution striking strongly at racism.

(Among those attending preassembly committee meetings in Columbus are Dr. Theodore A. Gill, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, and other seminary officials. Student Body President Harry R. Bremer will leave tomorrow to attend the assembly.)

The statement urges the assembly to "find no theological grounds for condemning or prohibiting marriage between consenting adults merely because of racial origin."

It asks a united effort for repeal or nullification of laws prohibiting interracial marriage

LA CANADA (UPI) — Twins Christopher and Courtland Jones, 2, drowned yesterday in only two feet of water in a neighbor's partially completed swimming pool, sheriff's deputies reported.

Kennedy Children's Nanny Retiring

LONDON (UPI) — The British nanny who has cared for Jacqueline Kennedy's children since birth said today she has not told them about her retirement plans.

"I have told them I am going home for the summer," Miss Maud Shaw said. "I can't tell them now that I am leaving for good because it would spoil their summer holidays."

Miss Shaw

The qualifications for the new nanny were set forth in an ad published in the London Times. It said:

"Extremely reliable and competent young woman, 25-35, needed to look after girl of seven and boy of four in New York City; English or French native language."

Blind Boy 'Swings' On Bike

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Lou Schreiber is 17 and he swings.

He's an accomplished jazz artist, equally adept at the piano or with the clarinet.

Lou

Lou had never ridden a bicycle until yesterday. His twin brother, Ed, who has only partial sight, decided to change things.

With an assortment of old parts Ed put together a tandem bike which he was able to maneuver with his limited vision. Lou did the pumping from the back.

"It was groovy," Lou said later. Ed explained his handiwork simply: "It bothered me that Lou couldn't ride."

Lou and Ed, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schreiber live in suburban Bellevue, have been enrolled in the Western Pennsylvania School for Blind Children since kindergarten. They now are sophomores. Lou majors in academic subjects and Ed in industrial arts.

Belt Buckle Uniformity Attempt Fails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is finally giving up on its three-year effort to find a black belt buckle satisfactory to all three branches of the armed forces.

In response to an inquiry, the Defense Supply Agency (DSA) said today:

"A three-year effort to standardize belt buckles and clips for the military services has been dropped. The three separate buckles currently in use will continue to be supplied by DSA."

This means soldiers and sailors will continue to get polished yellow buckles, members of the Air Force will receive nickel-silver buckles and the Marines will keep their traditional reddish brass buckles.

The standardized buckle was to have been black. Officials had hoped its use would save the government about $24,000 a year.

But a DSA spokesman said 35 companies had made the attempt and none had been able to produce a satisfactory black buckle without increasing costs.

The subject of the buckles ficial revealed that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara once had been asked to decide on a standardized butcher's apron for use in the armed services mess kitchens.

PLUG IN THE TOMATO JUICE

Bacteria Seen As Power Source

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It's breakfast time and the house power has failed, you say?

That was the prospect for the future suggested yesterday by a report to the Institute of Chemical Engineers.

The report, by a research team of the Thompson-Ramo-Wooldridge Corp. of Anaheim, said that bacteria may some day be used to generate electrical energy to light streets and homes.

The scientists said they have already shown that the unusual power source works. Using a compact generating unit, they have run a transistor radio for more than 50 hours on about two tablespoons of coconut juice.

They said the system is based on the metabolism—the chemical processes that provide energy to living things — of bacteria. A digestive by-product of whatever the bacteria ingests is either oxidation or the breakdown of food source ingredients, they explained.

The effect of this process is an increased electron flow, which can be intercepted by an electron "trap" of platinum, silver—some other noble metal—or carbon. Result: electric current.

The team, Jon Braker, Herbert P. Silverman and C. Ronald Townsend, suggested that biochemistry might become "a very cheap source of power" for energy-poor nations.

Light or radio beacons could be run at sea on the energy of the water's tiny marine organisms," they said, or man's wastes could be converted into electricity in a space ship.

The great advantage, they said, is that the system is based on materials found everywhere in nature. The theory is an old one.

Vote Official's Son Killed In Auto Blast

HAZLETON, Pa. (UPI)—An FBI team joined local and state authorities today in an effort to determine what kind of explosive was used to kill an election official's son when he started his father's car.

Michael Ruggiero, 17, was the victim of the blast which rocked a residential area and sent bits of metal flying in all directions.

It was election day yesterday and Mike was home from school. His mother, Antoinette, 43, had to do some grocery shopping so he decided to drive her to the store in his father's automobile.

Mike walked to the firehouse where his father, a power shovel operator for a strip mining firm, was on duty as an election judge and got the key to the 1958 model car, parked only half a block away.

The youth turned on the ignition and the car was blasted to bits in a puff of black smoke. Mike was killed instantly.

The elder Ruggiero heard the explosion and raced from the polling place. Ignoring cuts and burns, he dug into the blazing hot wreckage and reached his son's body.

Mike was hurled into the back seat of the demolished auto. The force of the blast was so great that it tore his clothes and shoes from his body.

North Viet Nam's President Is 75

TOKYO (AP) — Communist congratulations poured into Hanoi for the 75th birthday today of Ho Chi Minh, who stood in a borrowed dress suit to plead at Versailles after World War I for Vietnamese independence and now is president of the Communist half of his country.

The straggly bearded old revolutionary was acclaimed for his support of the war against the United States and the pro-American government of South Viet Nam.

Broemmel Answers Assessment Protests

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel stepped into a lion's den of assessment protesters last night, to be met with laughter and derisive applause.

An estimated 600 persons jammed the Reed School auditorium on the Tiburon Peninsula, sitting on chairs, tables, the floor and standing outside listening to speakers through open doors.

Broemmel's comment before the throng that assessor's "are governed by one single county-wide desire to be fair" was met with laughter. Broemmel was applauded when he had to leave the meeting before it ended.

Broemmel said it is not appraisals that hike the tax bill, but high tax rates. He pointed to Reed School District, where the statutory limit is 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation but "you have voted a maximum ceiling of $2.25 and an override for bond and loan repayments adds another 59.5 cents.

"Many of us seem to blame the assessor for high taxes and take keen interest in an increase in assessments. Where are all of you when budgets for schools, cities and county government are discussed? What percentage of our citizens vote at school elections, city elections?" Broemmel asked.

The citizens protest group, called CUT, for "Correct Unfair Taxation," organized the meeting in protest of reappraisals on the peninsula. One of its leaders, Mrs. Chester C. Vargas of Belvedere, quoted county officials as saying rises have averaged 66 per cent on the peninsula.

Speakers urged residents to protest reappraisals and outlined the organization of CUT, which plans to open a headquarters.

Spectators included some persons from Mill Valley, Mrs. Vargas reported. She said that 275 valunteered to work for CUT.

"It's the first time in anyone's recollection that the entire area is in accord on any one issue," Mrs. Vargas said. "We could start something nationally here."

Advocate "gradual balanced reduction in nuclear arms."

Reaffirm support of the United Nations.

HIGH RISE

portant thing was "not the sheer volume of how much dirt we are going to move, but what will be the end result.

The two "north of the hill" planning commissioners, John A. Miskimen and V. Judson Klein, were first to speak after the hearing was closed.

"I live about two blocks from this hill," said Miskimen, "and I suspect that I shall shudder when the first Caterpillar starts to carve away part of this fine hill.

"It is also true, however, if, when the Homestead Act was passed, each new piece of land development had been restricted by whether the neighbors approved of it or not—well, the Indians might have been happy, but the character of this country would have been very different."

Miskimen argued that it "would be very close to expropriating private property" for the commission not to zone the hill for planned community development as was asked.

As for the plan's density, Miskimen said the 2,400 square feet per unit proposed by Draper was double that of apartment plans which had been approved in other parts of the city.

Klein said he had been "on the other side of that rail" as a member of the property owners group when the commission turned down another Draper plan for the hill last year.

"I think the deficiencies we saw in it then have been solved," he said.

He and another commissioner said they would rather have a planned community, with resulting control, than the virtually uncontrolled building of single family homes on the hill.

After approving the zoning, commissioners voted to grant a use permit for the development. They attached several conditions recommended by Rodgers, including requirements that Draper Companies dedicate landscape easements in areas designated as buffer zones, as well as dedicating several "tot lots" and the four-acre park site.

Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. was absent.

Equipment For Painting Stolen

James D. Ellis told San Rafael police yesterday that $1,700 worth of painting equipment has been stolen from premises at 438 Francisco Boulevard where he rents storage space.

Missing are an air compressor valued at $1,550, nine ladders and 10 drop cloths.

Thieves got in by forcing a rear door leading into a yard and then scaled a dividing wall into the building, reported Patrolman Gerald R. Souza. Ellis, of 112 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, believed his property was taken during the weekend.

ing out other Latin-American governments.

Informants in Buenos Aires said Argentina may call off plans for a foreign ministers' conference on the Dominican crisis because Brazil and Chile had declined to attend.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro said in a broadcast in Havana that U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic shows that instead of being despised as before, Cuba now inspires respect and fear in the United States.

Castro asserted that the landing of U.S. troops in the Dominican Republic "has been a political disaster which has put the Organization of American States in a ridiculous position."

Rapid Transit Gains Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An authority on mass transit says that at least 25 major U.S. cities will have rapid transit systems under construction or completed by 1980.

Donald C. Hyde, vice president of the Institute for Rapid Transit and general manager of The Cleveland, Ohio rapid transit system, predicted yesterday that tomorrow's cities will be linked by high-speed passenger train networks that will be tied in with local transit systems for quick connections.

Hyde spoke at a news conference held in a rapid transit car on display at Washington's Union Station during an institute meeting here.

Hearing Officer Bill Sent On To Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly gave final passage today to a measure that would allow counties to appoint hearing officers.

By a 51-0 vote, the Assembly sent to Gov. Brown a bill that would permit the officers to preside over all hearings except those dealing with planning or taxation. They would submit their findings and recommendations to the county supervisors.

District Elimination Plan Gains Ground

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly passed a bill today that would give local government a means to consolidate California's burgeoning special districts.

The house sent to the Senate on a 53-18 vote a measure by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, that he said would stop the proliferation of "useless, wasteful districts that tax the public but perform no services."

Storer Gets Sewage Cost Study Job

Marin County supervisors yesterday appointed Supervisor Thomas T. Storer to join a committee working out costs of a sewage disposal study in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach watershed.

The county has been asked to help pay for the study, along with the Stinson Beach County Water District and the Bolinas and Bolinas Beach public utility districts, because the watershed includes areas not in the three districts.

The Bolinas Public Utility District faces a May 31 deadline set last December by the Regional Water Pollution Control Board for the district to start working to end pollution in Bolinas Bay.

Chairman Peter H. Behr of the board of supervisors predicted the county's share will be about $3,000. Behr urged that the board not wait until budget hearings to approve its part in the survey if the districts must act swiftly due to the pollution control board deadline.

Marin Park Land Funds In Danger

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—An Assembly committee tonight will receive a sub-committee report which may call for elimination of state purchase of land for Marin Headlands State Park and expansion of Mount Tamalpais State Park in the next fiscal year.

John Williamson, D-Bakersfield, chairman of a subcommittee of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, said his subcommittee of seven members will report to the full Ways and Means Committee tonight.

"But we have not decided yet on which projects to include or defer of the 16 items proposed by the governor," said Williamson.

He said, that if all 16 projects were acquired as recommended, most of the bond money voted last year for park acquisition would be used up.

"We are concerned over exhausting this money," said Williamson. He said there are many other park sites that must be considered.

Among the 16 park acquisitions suggested by the governor are 3,212 acres, including four and one-half miles of ocean front to expand Mount Tamalpais State Park, and 320 acres of military land for Marin Headlands State Park.

Williamson said that some of these projects may have to be put off, but he does not know which ones.

Clergy, Politics Debate Is Slated

Two ministers and a high school teacher will lead a public discussion tomorrow on whether clergy and teachers should participate in politics.

The discussion will be sponsored by the Tiburon Peninsula Democratic Club and will begin at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Pino, 7 Felipe Court, Tiburon.

Rev. Jack Bartlett of Mill Valley Community Church and Charles Fesler, San Rafael High School teacher and assistant dean of students, will advocate active roles. Rev. Ernest Wood of the Tiburon Baptist Church will be on the side of limited participation, based on separation of church and state.

Convention Site Group Forms

Directors of the Marin Visitors Bureau yesterday formed a committee to encourage construction of facilities in the county which could house a convention.

They also passed a resolution asking the supervisors, if they activate their recently passed 4 per cent room tax, to set aside the funds collected for the promotion of the visitor and convention industry in Marin.

Coordinators for the newly formed "Visitors and Convention Facilities Committee" are Ray C. Schultz of Mill Valley and Frank George of Ross.

Death Row Has Another Inmate

None of the Death Row inmates has an execution date set.

Governor Brown said Haden and Belcher "exercised poor judgment" in attending the dinner and permitting the owner to pay for their meal and drinks, although there was no evidence they had acted improperly.

The governor described the new appointees, Garety and Cooper, as "outstanding attorneys with fine legal backgrounds admirably suited to this important board."

A graduate of University of Santa Clara and University of San Francisco Law School, he joined the Marin district attorney's staff in 1951 as a deputy. He became district attorney in 1960 and resigned to enter private practice last year.

Garety said he will continue his law practice in San Rafael with the firm of Buresh, Garety and Vallarino. The Alcoholic Beverage Control Appeals board job is a part-time duty.

Viet Cong-held Truong Minh village.

A burst of machine-gun fire wounded one Marine in the operation 9 miles from Da Nang, but the guerrilla fled and no further contact was made.

In the village, the Marines found only 12 women and children and one old man. There were many booby traps, trenches and bunkers.

Vietnamese sources said a six-battalion operation against the Viet Cong near the border with North Viet Nam was called off today without making contact with the Communists.

The operation started yesterday. It was reported bad weather hampered air strikes accompanying it.

The air strikes against the Communist North were resumed after a six-day pause during which the United States reportedly sent out feelers to North Viet Nam for peace talks. Hanoi evidently rejected them.

Lung Cancer Deaths Triple In California

BERKELEY (UPI) — The death toll from lung cancer has tripled in California in 20 years, the Health Department said yesterday.

In a report called "Cancer in California," it said Californians today smoke more and start smoking earlier than most other Americans.

"It should be noted that many studies reveal health damage to be greater among persons who start smoking early in life than among persons who start later," the report said.

It also stated that persons who smoke less than one-half pack of cigarettes a day are three times more likely to die of lung cancer as nonsmokers, and those who smoke more than two packs a day are 14 times more likely to die of lung cancer.

Lucy Marie Rosado, 22, of 605 Manuel Drive, Novato, was reported in satisfactory condition but still "quite confused" at San Francisco General Hospital today, shortly after the Novato police, who had her listed as a missing person, were notified of her whereabouts.

Miss Rosado was admitted to the hospital's psychiatric ward about 3:30 p.m. yesterday in a "mentally disturbed" state, hospital physicians said.

There was no evidence of any physical injury, doctor's reported.

Miss Rosado was reported missing last night by her sister, Mrs. Jane R. Cox, with whom she has lived since coming to California from Hawaii a year ago.

She left home at 8 a.m. yesterday for business school in San Francisco, Novato police said. It was not known how she had reached the hospital.

A Fairfax infant, just one week old, was dead on arrival at a local hospital at 7:15 p.m. yesterday after Fairfax Fire Department efforts at mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and closed heart massage failed to revive her.

Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley said Diana Hera Kegal, daughter of James C. and Marie Kegal of 47 Willow Avenue, apparently died of natural causes. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Bradley said he was told by Kagel, a clerk for a San Francisco grocery store, that his wife went to feed the baby and when the infant did not respond, she called the fire department.

The Kegals have two other children, James and Linita.

Roadside Pickup Plan Meets Discouragement

If Marin County wants to keep its roadsides clean, it will have to hire a crew, the county board of supervisors was told yesterday.

Ruled out were cleanup by (1) county jail prisoners, (2) juvenile hall inmates, (3) Air Force stockade prisoners, and (4) welfare recipients.

The board, liking the idea of using prisoners to keep the roadsides clean, two months ago asked for a report on the proposal from County Administrator Alan Bruce. He said the report would take a month to prepare. It arrived yesterday, not from Bruce but from Public Works Director Donald R. Frost.

Frost's conclusion was that the county would have to invest in a truck and assign a regular crew to it if the sides of roadways are to be kept clear of trash. This would cost $18,000 a year, he said.

Frost said a very limited number of county jail prisoners are available for work and their effectiveness would be reduced by interruptions for visiting hours, medical appointments and court appearances.

He further said decision on whether to work rests with the prisoners.

Use of Juvenile Hall residents is also not practical since children there any length of time are given school work, Frost reported.

He further said it is not possible to use prisoners in the stockade at Hamilton Air Force Base since they are given an "intensive training program" by the military.

Frost also ruled out use of welfare recipients for such a work detail, even though the public works department has in the work training program of the Public Social Service Department (Welfare).

"Although the performance of individuals assigned to us has been impressive in some instances, the overall dependability of the people involved is not high," Frost said.

To Attend U.C.

Louis Laubscher, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Laubscher of 639 Wakerobin Lane, San Rafael, will attend graduate school at University of California, Berkeley, after he graduates from Principia College, Elsah, Ill., in June with an economics degree.

Drunken Driving Fines Imposed

Peggy LaVonne Devin, 37, of 295 Flamingo Road, Mill Valley, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. She was arrested May 14 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

George Martin Hellerich, 62, of 36 Lucky Drive, Corte Madera, was fined $193 for drunken driving. He was arrested April 4 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by Larkspur police.

Eugene Charles Payne, 43, of San Francisco, was fined $220 on the charge. He was arrested April 30 by San Rafael police on Highway 101.

Joseph B. Loewy of 49 Harbor Street, San Rafael, was fined $276 for drunken driving. He was arrested Feb. 22 by San Rafael police.

Supervisors Split On Plan To Rezone Bolinas Harbor

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday split 3-2 in favor of the much-discussed open area zone for the 850-acre Bolinas Lagoon.

Although the Bolinas Harbor District would need a use permit for any development under the present agricultural (holding) zone, it has protested the similar use permit requirements under the open area zone.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen sided with the harbor district. He said the open zone would "demoralize" the district's efforts to establish a harbor.

Actually yesterday's vote was only on an intention to change the zone. Board members all agreed that the county must seek a declaratory relief ruling from the District Court of appeals on the authority to zone the lagoon at all.

The harbor district, through its attorney, Kenneth Jones, has contended that the county does not have jurisdiction since the lagoon was deeded to the district by the state in a trust for harbor development. Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Codino, in a lengthy opinion submitted yesterday, said the county does have jurisdiction.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Byron W. Leydecker and William H. Gnoss all said they did not think open area zoning would cause any conflict with the harbor district's plans.

Yesterday's vote was taken at the urging of Gnoss, who said the board should take a stand and stop putting off a decision.

Cold War Veterans Eligible For Loans

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Veterans of cold war conflicts will be eligible for Cal-Vet farm and homes loans under a bill signed into law yesterday by Governor Brown.

An estimated 25,000 veterans would qualify for the benefits under the bill, which extends loans to veterans of military operations for which the federal government has authorized the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal.

Civic Center Contest Likely Over Land Use

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The first battle has not yet taken place, but the declarations have been drawn up for a war between Marin's youth and its older adults for a building site at the Civic Center.

A lengthy "Master Plan for Older Adults" submitted to the county board of supervisors yesterday recommended, among other things, that there be an activity center for seniors at the Civic Center.

The original designation in Civic Center plans was apparently deleted after it seemed the seniors could not raise contributions toward construction of a building. However, Richard Phenix, coordinator for the Council of Community Services which prepared the senior citizens study, said he expected a report this week on a money raising project.

A letter yesterday to the board from Leland H. Jordan, chairman of the YMCA of Marin, said the YMCA has "made good progress" in raising funds for a county headquarters building at the Civic Center.

The building, estimated at $350,000, would include a multi-purpose room with a stage, a lounge, three or four smaller meeting rooms, a kitchen and staff offices.

WELL, NO, IT'S NOT EXACTLY POP ART

In case you grownups don't know, these are some of the paintings a bunch of us kids have on exhibit at the Showcase Galleries, 5067 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera. They call it "Sand Box Art," which doesn't make much sense to us, but we guess that's so it won't get mixed up with the grownup's stuff like "Pop Art" and abstract art. That house (left) was painted by Thomas Warton, 6, and he likes a big chimney and a lot of smoke. That person standing under the sun (right) was painted by Freddy Dekker, 5, and the bird (center) that we think is a penguin was painted by a girl named Cathy, who is 5, but we don't know her last name. If you want to see more, come down to the gallery and we'll explain them to you. (Independent-Journal photos)

Month-Long Raft Saga Ends, Two Men Safe

MANILA (AP) — An American and his son, given up for lost after their raft drifted away from Guam, have been rescued 1,400 miles from home after 32 days at sea.

Frank H. Cushing, 63, a former aviation stuntman, and Frank Jr., 20, were sighted by a police patrol boat Monday off Camiguin Island, north of the main Philippine island of Luzon. Police at first thought they were smugglers.

The Cushings were on a 20-foot raft made of oil drums, using an improvised sail made of a blanket and parachute cloth.

The constabulary's northern zone headquarters reported that both were well, that their clothes were intact despite their ordeal, and that they still had some provisions.

The two men, who live on Guam, told their rescuers they were searching reefs around Guam for rare fish for young Frank's collection. They anchored off Puto Point on the night of April 15. While they slept, strong currents pulled the raft out to sea.

They woke to find themselves lost.

The Cushings drifted all the way to the Philippines over one of the world's most deserted stretches of ocean. The raft was making about 3 knots when it was sighted.

Cushing's wife, Marjorie, had written to the Manila Times appealing for help in finding her missing men. Today the paper's publisher, Joaquin P. Roces, cabled her: "Your husband and son in good health, now on way Manila."

Leydecker Offers Speaker Change

It was Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, not Supervisor William Gnoss, who suggested that former Supervisor George H. Ludy speak to the West Marin Lions Club.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer who saw a letter from the club as an insult, refused to speak to the group on the Civic Center bond election.

The Independent-Journal yesterday incorrectly reported that Gnoss suggested Ludy as a speaker.

Miss Royle ran several blocks to the Sausalito police station for help following the attack, and was then taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment. She told officers that Harrell, whom she knew, burst into her home about 3 a.m.

Harrell was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday afternoon and the public defender was named to represent him. Plea entry was scheduled this afternoon. He was held in county jail in lieu of $1,650 bail.

PRISONER RUNS FOR FOOD

Paul Babb (second from left), serving an 18-year safe-cracking term at Central Prison in Greenville, S.C., entered and won a soft drink shopping spree contest. Prison officials let Babb out of jail yesterday long enough to collect his winnings—all he could carry to a supermarket checkout stand in 10 minutes. Babb racked up $596 worth of groceries. County Parks, Recreation Promoted To Department

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission was increased to seven members and parks-recreation made a separate county department by action of the board of supervisors yesterday.

The ordinance increasing the commission membership will go into effect June 17.

The change was suggested by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen soon after he became a member of the board. It will make it possible to have five members, each representing one of the five supervisorial districts, and two members at large.

The ordinance also contains provisions for a non-reverting fund for property acquisition for parks.

The parks and recreation department was made a separate county department by resolution. It has been a sub-department of the county planning department.

Someone Must Have A Pair Of Left Feet

A woman returned a pair of shoes she had bought there when she found both were for the right foot. No one has complained of buying two left shoes.

Rocket Test Ends In Blast

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — A Little Joe II rocket exploded in flight shortly after launch today, ending in a failure a severe high altitude test of a safety system for moonbound astronauts.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesmen said the explosion occurred about half way through the mighty rocket's first burning period of 40 seconds.

There was no immediate indication for cause of the failure.

Encore Slated For Musical In Lagunitas

Lagunitas School students will repeat their "San Geronimo!" musical Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Woodacre Improvement Club, this time as a benefit for a burned-out Freedom School in Mississippi and as a memorial to the late Edward Barbano of Lagunitas.

A special performance of the historical pageant, which played to sell-out houses last weekend and raised $300 for the Lagunitas School library, will aid the Indianola Freedom School, which San Geronimo Valley residents have "adopted."

The school, along with the 2,000 books sent from the valley last Christmas, was destroyed by arsonists in March.

Saturday's show will also honor Barbano, former Lagunitas School District trustee and school playground director, who died last Saturday.

Emblems Stolen Off Mustang

Mustang rustlers have struck in San Rafael.

It's not the actual cars they have been stealing, but the horse emblems affixed to the vehicles.

Dolores Cochrane of 165 Novato Street, Apt. 2, told officers that two of her "horses" were pried off Saturday while her car was in her carport.

Hub Council Wrestles With Fire Truck Costs

San Anselmo city councilmen agreed last night that the city should get a new fire truck during the next fiscal year and start preparing to buy two more.

"We need one real bad and need to start replacing the other trucks as soon as possible," City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt reported.

He made his plea for new equipment when he presented his recommended $230,798 fire department budget to a joint session of the council and the Sleepy Hollow Fire Protection District Commission.

Flautt's recommended budget, $25,879 higher than this year's budget for the department, includes $17,500 as half the cost of a 1,200-gallon pumper to replace a 1930 model still in use. He said the new engine, estimated at $35,000, could be paid for over a two-year period.

Keller suggested that the council consider financing the new truck over a longer period.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith said he could not understand why the city had not put funds aside in a depreciation fund for such purchases.

Councilman John M. Reichmuth said, "I tried to get more put aside for this purpose."

The council indicated that it would go ahead with the purchase of the engine as proposed by Flautt, but would set up a special fund to finance replacement of the two other fire engines.

Flautt's recommended budget did not include hiring any additional firemen. It included funds for normal salary step increases, but did not include any raises. The question if raises will be decided by the council during budget discussions, he said.

Keller and the Sleepy Hollow district, which pays 18 per cent of the fire budget under a contract with the city.

Keller noted that the district's percentage, based on assessed valuation, probably will increase with completion of the new campus for Dominican Upper and Lower Schools in Sleepy Hollow.

Keller said the district will have to negotiate with the Dominican Order for fire protection payments in lieu of taxes.

Cheap Haircut Ban Bill Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Cosmetologists who advertise cheap haircuts would have the plug to their clippers pulled under a bill pending on the Asmbly floor.

The Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee yesterday approved the measure which would aim to help barbers who complain cosmetologists are offering cheap haircuts.

Sponsored by Assemblyman Bob Moretti, D-North Hollywood it permits the State Board of Cosmetology to restrain those who undercut barbershop prices.

Schools Vote Report Due Supervisors

School elections will no longer be run by the county schools office if the recommendations of County Administrator Alan Bruce are adopted next week by the board of supervisors.

On Monday Bruce is due to make a full report on mistakes and difficulties in the April 20 elections. Bruce would not say today what his recommendations would be, but he said they agree with recommendations of the Marin County Grand Jury.

The Grand jury said school elections should be run by the county clerk under a contractual arrangement.

Bruce said his recommendations will go into much more detail than those of the grand jury. His report will deal with complaints on voter registration and procedures in all elections.

IF CALLER QUESTIONS ON DEFENSE, HANG UP

If someone telephones your home and claims to be making a "civil defense survey," beware.

This was the warning yesterday from the Marin County Office of Disaster and Civil Defense after a Novato woman was taken-in by such a caller.

Civil defense deputy Davina Kosh said the housewife told police she answered several personal questoins before realizing the call was a hoax.

"We do not make telephone surverys," said Mrs. Kosh.

Mother Says Dead Twin's Temper Bad

ROBERTA NICHOLSON
Testifies at son's trial

PASADENA (AP)—The mother of the wealthy Nicholson twins—one of whom is charged with murder in the gunshot death of the other — has described her dead son as a pistol-carrying youth of strong temper.

The two boys were co-heirs to the Cudahy meat packing and Pullman sleeping car fortunes.

Mrs. Nicholson testified that Todd—killed last Dec. 7 with a 22-caliber rifle—had a raging temper at times. She said that he constantly carried a loaded automatic, and that he impersonated Tim to obtain a $1 million insurance policy on Tim's life.

TELLS OF BEATING

The mother also told of a beating she said Todd gave her two years ago.

"Todd struck me in the face," she said. "He knocked my teeth loose and I had two black eyes. My jaw was dislocated and my nose and my mouth were bloodied."

Defense attorney Max Fink, who told the jury earlier that Timothy acted in self defense, asked the twins' mother about Todd's treatment of his brother.

"Todd beat Timothy many times," Mrs. Nicholson replied. "Many times he forced him out of our house and wouldn't allow him to come back. He became enraged and violent and told Timothy to get out. His language was very bad."

FIGHT OVER CAR

She related that on one occasion, the twins had argued over a car Timothy borrowed from a friend. Told that the owner had specified that he wasn't to use the automobile, Mrs. Nicholson said, Todd "went into a rage."

"He stood on his tiptoes," she said, "his hands and his body were rigid. His mouth was drawn down. He couldn't coordinate."

She said that Todd obtained a small pistol from the drawer of her bedstand and went after Timothy. But she said the brother had fled.

Mrs. Nicholson testified that she found Timothy several hours later hiding in the back yard. She said she took him into the house and hid him.

'Headstart' Funds Due Sausalito

The Sausalito School District has not been left behind by "Project Headstart."

Mrs. Santafe J. Moses, district personnel counselor, put in an anxious call to Washington, D.C., today after the district failed to appear on the first list of Northern California centers for the summer school program, announced yesterday by President Johnson.

She was told the district will be included in the next list, expected to appear in a week or two, and to go ahead with plans for the Sausalito program scheduled to start June 28.

The program is intended to help "poverty's children," as Johnson calls them, to overcome cultural deficiencies in facing school work and life in general.

Some 8,000 California youngsters are expected to take part, with the state's centers costing more than $1,430,000.

Mrs. Moses said she was told by Frank Vesser, an assistant to War-on-Poverty director Sargent Shriver, that the Sausalito district's proposal went out for approval Friday, but missed the first list.

Registration is under way for the eight-week program, to be directed by Mrs. Moses. It is expected to draw 60 pupils, with the majority from Marin City.

A second program, for preschool youngsters only, will start in September.

Drunken Driving Plan Introduced

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The first conviction for drunk driving would mean a six - months suspension of a driver's license in most cases under a bill now on the Senate floor.

The measure by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, won approval yesterday from the Senate Judiciary Committee. Only those who need a car in their work would be allowed to drive after their first drunk conviction, and that would be restricted.

Under the bill, the second drunk driving offense within seven years would draw a one-year suspension, and a third within 10 years of the first would cause a three-year suspension.

Fairfax Set To Purchase School Site

Fairfax School District trustees signed agreements last night to buy land for the district's new junior high school and may soon buy more for expansion of the district's oldest school.

The purchase agreement was for 20 acres of the former Smith Ranch property, west of Fairfax on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, now owned by Farr Associates. Sir Francis Drake Elementary School is to open its doors there in December, 1966.

Trustees directed Supt. Homer S. Sisk to explore ways, other than an override tax, to acquire two lots and a house adjacent to Central School on Park Street. The property, 80 by 100 feet, is priced at $24,000.

Preliminary plans for the Drake seventh and eighth grade school presented by school architects Crawford and Banning call for flexible classrooms in a cluster-type building with provision for open-space teaching. It will be designed for 225 students.

Trustees, all present at the meeting, were reported pleased with a demonstration of the district's mathematics program by teachers and pupils.

A progress report of sixth grade camping was given by Ronald Samet, sixth grade teacher, and Victor York, San Francisco State College instructor, who trains counselors used in the district's three-day campouts. Deer Park School sent sixth graders to camp May 5-7, and Manor School sixth grade was to spend three days at Devil's Gulch beginning today.

Modulux Inc., suppliers of the relocatable classrooms leased in February, was asked to build two 5-by-12 foot entryway canopies in lieu of the damages of $1,200 for delay in delivering the classrooms.

The board nominated Dr. Martha R. Allen, 35 Sequoia Road, as honorary senior citizen of Fairfax for the city's month-long Senior Citizen celebration. Dr. Allen, school trustee from May 1, 1932, to June 29, 1950, was cited for outstanding service to the community.

At its June 1 meeting, the board is expected to approve allocation of $500 for the school-city recreation program for the summer, Sisk said.

Heiress Sued For Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. Dolly Fritz MacMasters, the Nob Hill heiress who is within a week of establishing the six-week residence required by Nevada for divorce, has been sued in Paris for divorce by her husband of three years, the Examiner said today.

The newspaper quoted an attorney for Donald MacMasters as saying the husband was asking for custody of the two children and the home and furnishings in Paris but no money.

Mrs. MacMasters left Paris with the children in April and is in residence at Verdi, Nev.

A Dare Leads To Train Death

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Earl Martinez, 13, and Roy Garland, 16 stood on the tracks as the Illinois Central's crack Panama Limited passenger train rushed toward them.

"We had a dare to see who would stay on the tracks the longest before jumping," said Garland.

Garland said he jumped first.

Martinez' foot caught between a rail and cross tie and he was killed yesterday by the train. The accident happened north of Kenner—a New Orleans suburb.

Escape Hole Really Shortcut To Prison

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — The sheriff's office said eight county jail prisoners were caught trying to chisel an escape hole through a wall of the jail last night.

The sheriff's office handed out the report with a smile. Had the hole been completed — it would have led the prisoners into the office of the district attorney, Keith C. Sorenson.

San Rafael Budget Tax Rate 94 Cents

A San Rafael city budget for fiscal 1966 predicated on total revenues of $4,558,590 has been presented to the city council by City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen.

The budget would be financed with the same 94-cent city tax rate that was levied this year and last year. This would produce $855,400 of the total, according to Andersen's figures.

Biggest share of the budget would be financed from sales taxes, the city's share of which in the new fiscal year is estimated at $1,250,000—up $75,000 from that of the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

Other sources are licenses and permits, fines and penalties, interest, rents, parking meter revenue and various subventions from state and other agencies.

The budget calls for addition of 18 city employees in the new year. These include two in public works, one in police, 10 in the fire department (which will open a fifth fire station during the year), one in the park department, and two to take over street painting.

Street painting has been done under contract, but Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles proposes that the city do the work itself hereafter.

Andersen's proposed budget includes $1,965,914 in the general fund, $87,532 in the parks fund, $129,855 in the library fund, $157,825 in the employees retirement fund, $25,000 in the parking meter fund, $17,580 in the equipment and replacement fund, $2,083,884 in the capital improvement fund, and $91,000 in the parking district fund.

Setting up capital improvements in a separate fund is a new approach this year in San Rafael budget-making.

The budget includes an unappropriated reserve of $90,000, part of which will be used for increasing employees' pay scales.

The city manager, in a letter to the city council accompanying the budget, notes that a two and one-half per cent over-all pay increase to cover the cost-of-living raise would require $35,000. A one-step increase of five per cent over all would cost $70,000.

Breakdown of proposed capital expenditures is to be submitted to the council separately, when completed by Orrin Wendling, city finance officer. Andersen notes in his letter that he is recommending against some projects which have been proposed for the next fiscal year because money will not be available for all, despite a year-end carryover estimated at $1,486,580.

Biggest capital outlay during the year will be for the new city hall, for which a million-dollar contract was awarded Monday night.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said he will schedule budget discussions with department heads to try to complete the budget study in time for adopttion by July 1—probably an all-time record for early adoption if he is successful.

Salinas (County seat, Monterey County) means salt marshes, or chain of salt water ponds.

More Police Being Asked For Larkspur

Greenbrae citizens in Larkspur should demand that two more policemen be hired by the city so that two men will be on duty throughout the night, the board of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. decided unanimously last night.

Two additional policemen are included in the budget proposed by City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper. Association directors took the stand in hope of assuring any budget cut would not strike there.

The board also voted to ask the city and the Kentfield School District to join in paying for supervision of Greenbrae School grounds when school is not in session.

The board agreed unanimously on a resolution supporting the proposed $7,750,000 county Civic Center bond issue.

Larkspur Center Plan Study Urged

Plans to move Larkspur city offices to filled land near Corte Madera Creek should be re-examined, the citizens committee on the Larkspur General Plan decided last night.

Designating the old downtown area as "Larkspur Center," the group suggested perhaps it would be better if city government functions were kept about where they are.

In the meeting with planning consultant John David Erickson, the group called for some open space, such as a public square, to give focus to the center area, and also saw a need for more parking.

Attack Case Nets Man, Year In Jail

The maximum one year county jail sentence and three years probation today were meted out to Kenneth Stewart Grove, 32-year-old former Marinwood man accused in Marin Superior Court of statutory rape of a high school girl.

In pronouncing judgment, Judge Thoms F. Keating followed the recommendation of Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, who asked that Grove be found guilty of a felony, and that the year's jail penalty be administered.

The county probation office had recommended six month jail and three years probation. Jerome Duffy, attorney for Grove, unsuccessfully urged that the matter be considered a misdemeanor.

"I think it would be unnecessarily harsh to stigmatize him as a felon," he said.

Grove, now living at 56 Dominican Drive, San Rafael, pleaded no contest to a charge of having sexual relations with a 14-year-old girl in a rented Santa Venetia house starting last September. He is married and has three children.

BROWN SIGNS DRUG CURB BILL

Gov. Edmund G. Brown (center) signs into law a bill designed to curb misuse of the pain-killer drug Percodan by putting it on the list of dangerous drugs, yesterday in Sacramento. Looking on are the measure's author, Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, D-Los Angeles, and Los Angeles County Supervisor Warren Dorn. (UPI Telephoto)

State Tax Reform Bill Faces Tough Sledding In Assembly

Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R - Tracy, expressed doubt that any member of the lower house GOP bloc will support the bill.

His announcement came as the legislature all but doomed major tightening of the state's anti-obscenity statute and lawmakers edged toward a decision on Gov. Brown's $4.03 billion budget.

The Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee turned down two anti-obscenity bills. But the author of one of them, Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, R-San Diego, threatened to ask the full Assembly to reverse the committee decision—a move opposed by Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee slashed $4,032,742 from the administration spending program and scheduled a Friday morning vote on the budget bill. The biggest single cut was in state printing costs.

Monagan's warning of no Republican support meant that the tax bill — sponsored by Unruh and Assemblyman Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland — will likely have to clear the lower house without a two thirds majority of 54.

And that, according to Petris, would mean that key sections of the package—a combination of tax increases and property tax reductions — would be inoperative.

Blind Boy Wins Big Settlement

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifteen-year-old James R. McKiel, permanently blinded by a caustic chemical while cleaning a school lavatory, will receive $250 a month for the rest of his life — plus a $55,000 cash settlement.

McKiel, who had asked $750,000, won the award in Superior Court yesterday.

His suit was against the Catholic Archdiocese of Los Angeles and the Drackett Chemical Sales Co. The latter was ordered to pay $5,000. The remainder is to be paid by Lloyds of London, the school's insurance underwriter.

McKiel lost his sight Jan. 5, 1963 in an accident at the Nazareth House Parochial School, where he was a boarding student.

The suit charged that the boy was asked to do the work without proper supervision and that he was too young to handle the potentially dangerous chemical.

Bagley Lashes Back At Cranston Criticism

By WAT TAKASHITA

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, lashed back at State Controller Alan Cranston yesterday in their running feud over a proposed reform of the inheritance tax appraisal system.

"I am happy that the controller has been forced to admit that reforms are desperately needed," said Bagley. "The changes he now recommends, however, are but a facade to maintain the present political patronage system."

For several years Bagley has been trying to eliminate the system under which the state controller appoints inheritance tax appraisers.

One of his bills (AB 1011) introduced this year provides for self-appraisal of estates by the executor or administrator and his attorney, and transfer of other tasks to the state Board of Equalization.

Cranston suggested several reforms of his own, including:

1. Hiring of inheritance tax appraisers through nomination by the state controller and confirmation by the local probate court.

2. Eliminating or lowering fees in the appraisels of cash, bank accounts and stocks.

3. Establishing qualifications for appraisers, and setting staggered four-year terms of office.

Bagley denied his bill was hastily drawn.

"Our proposal (AB 1011) has been put forward after a two-year study by both the Assembly Ways and Means Committee and the Government Organization Committee," said Bagley. "The legislative analyst's office projects a $3.5 million per year savings, and qualified personnel would protect the rights of all involved.

"He (Cranston) wants to seal his appointees in office by establishing for them a four-year term of office. This would certainly add oil to his political machine, but would also add fat to the political fire that might just engulf the controller."

Queen Pays Tribute To War Victims

BONN (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II today paid solemn and silent tribute to Germany's war dead and the victims of Nazi concentration camps.

The visiting British monarch laid a wreath at a monument raised by the new Germany from the ashes of the Third Reich. The memorial, placed in front of the Museum of Arts, is a bronze plaque four feet high and seven feet long.

Its inscription reads, "In memory of the victims of wars and of the rule of force."

Queen Elizabeth stood with slightly bowed head and clasped hands, staring at the monument while a military trumpeter played "Ich Hatt Einen Kameraden" (I had a comrade).

The monarch last night had said in a banquet toast which was broadcast throughout Germany from the Augustusburg palace: "This tragic period in our relations is happily over." This was a reference to the bitter memories of two world wars.

The music department of San Rafael City Schools is sponsoring the presentation. Teachers from San Jose, Reed, San Rafael, Mill Valley, Fairfax and Sausalito districts will participate.

Non-Student Ejection Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has passed legislation allowing state college university officials to eject any person who "reasonably appears" to be "likely to interfere with the peaceful conduct" of a campus.

The measure, stemming fom demonstrations last year at the University of California at Berkeley, passed 27 to 9 yesterday. It was proposed by Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont.

The bill went back to the Assembly for concurrence in amendments.

Student Attacks Seminary Faculty

"And the ass saw the angel of the Lord standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, and the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field . . ."

Borrowing from this Old Testament tale about the God-fearing animal of a man named Balaam, a 36-year-old San Francisco Theological Seminary student has stirred up a controversy over the San Anselmo school's liberal teachings and involvment in such issues as civil rights.

Senior Robert L. Cleath has attacked the faculty in bulletin board statements and articles in the campus newspaper, Challenge. He signs his writings with pen name, "Balaam's Ass."

Dr. Theodore A. Gill, seminary president, said yesterday that the controversy which Cleath has generated could be good for the school "if carried out in the proper mood." But Gill was not sure he found the tone of Cleath's comments to be in this mood.

Cleath, a doctor of philosophy who formerly taught at University of California's Santa Barbara campus, complained in a bulletin board statement last week that he had heard "only a denial or refutation" of "the virgin birth, the vicarious atonement, the bodily resurrection or the second coming of Christ" in his classes.

His strongest student support apparently comes from Dr. Watson M. Lacy, who holds a medical degree from Stanford University. Gill said Cleath and Lacy "came here as much to educate as to be educated."

Admitting he is in "the distinct minority" at the seminary, Cleath has termed himself a "conservative Republican who doesn't disagree with Goldwater's philosophy."

He said he chose the pseudonym because of his resistance to "teaching in a Presbyterian institution which are contrary to the Presbyterian creed."

Dr. Arnold B. Come, dean of the seminary faculty, however, described Cleath's comments as "a rather deliberate and sort of nasty attack."

Gill added, "One thing we try to protect is the students' freedom to speak out on real issues, even if they are trying to do us in."

Harold DePue Gets San Mateo School Position

Horld R. DePue, 45, former superintendent of the Kentfield School District and the last superintendent of the confederated Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax School Districts, was last night appointed superintendent of the San Mateo Elementary School District.

He will assume the $20,000 a year post Monday.

DePue was superintendent of the confederated school districts three years, 1957-60. When the confederation dissolved, he was hired as superintendent of the Kentfield district.

He resigned his position there in June, 1961, to become superintendent of the Oxnard Elementary School District in Ventura County, a position he has held until now.

Police Dog Bill Shelved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature again has refused to bar police from using dogs to control humans.

The Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee—as it did two years ago—sent to between-sessions study yesterday a bill by Assemblyman Willie L. Brown, D-San Francisco.

It would have made illegal use of dogs a misdemeanor, but would have allowed the use of dogs at night to patrol stores and warehouses.

Senior Citizen Art

Arts and crafts prepared by senior citizens at the San Rafael Community Center will be on display at the Emporium in the Northgate Shopping Center from today through Saturday.

Remedial Reading Program Is Approved

San Anselmo School District will launch a $14,000 remedial reading program and aid to the educationally handicapped next fall, the district board decided last night.

The board took the the action prior to consideration in detail of the budget. During budget discussion, trustees held up decision on whether to defer part of the repayment of a state loan, which would save about 15 cents on the tax rate.

This saving would offset an expected increase in the general operations tax by the district, according to Supt. Stephen Parodi, who urged that the board defer the repayment.

Parodi was ordered to start recruiting two teachers for the special reading program, which will concentrate effort in primary grades, except for especially severe problems of older pupils.

Entire cost of the program --s will be borne by the school district the first year, but part of the cost will be reimbursed by the state in following years, the superintendent explained.

The San Anselmo School District Board Also:

1. Passed resolutions to clear the way for sale of $485,000 of school bonds for construction of the Red Hill School and an addition to Hidden Valley School.
2. Agreed to continue the student accident insurance program.
3. Heard a letter for the Citizens Committee for Sensible Unification, and agreed informally that future study of unification should be carried out by the County Committee on School District Organization, not an ad hoc citizens' group.
4. Hired Mrs. Valeris Carlson to teach at Brookside School and Mrs. Bette Hollis for Sleepy Hollow School.
5. Accepted resignations from Mrs. Patricia Wagner, Brookside School and Richard E. Thurston, Sleepy Hollow School.

Sausalitan's Trial For Arson Continues

Testimony in the arson trial of Robert F. Kempt, 33, of Sausalito and a co-defendant went into its second day today in Sonoma Superior Court.

Kempf, of 595 Bridgeway, and Michael Mika allegedly burned a house in Sonoma Dec. 16. The jury trial is before Judge Charles J. McGoldrick. Kempf is represented by the public defender's office and Mika by attorney George Walker of San Francisco.

The Sausalito 1960 official U.S. census was 5,331.

Assessment Districts Meeting Set

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has scheduled a public hearing for 3 p.m. June 1 to review the county policy governing formation and operation of special assessment districts.

The board might rule out any further formation of single-owner assessment districts. The City of Novato has adopted such a policy and has requested the county to follow suit.

CHANGES URGED

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost is recommending several policy changes. His proposals do not include banning the single owner district, but, "I would not be unhappy if they adopted such a policy," Frost said.

His resolutions would add a flat $500 fee for county work on the assessment district. Present fees include $20 for processing bond issues and a half of one per cent of the construction cost estimated for the special district. County forces handle all bonding, funds and payments for the districts.

Frost proposes that any subdivider putting in improvements under an assessment district intending to transfer them to another district or company get approval of the district or company on the work before any payments are made by the county.

TRACT SEWERS

This would prevent the situation where sewer lines are installed in a tract, but not accepted by a sewer district because they do not meet the district standards.

Frost also recommends that engineering reports provide a reserve for contingencies in the estimates, that incidental costs over the construction costs be limited to engineering fees, attorney's fees and bond charges, and that there be no assessment district formed to acquire previously constructed facilities.

All his recommendations are aimed at protecting buyers in new tracts who often are not aware of assessment district taxes and are not expert enough to judge the quality of work done.

"He struck me many times. He did a lot of drinking."

The 42-year-old singing star testified also that Luft, 46, had tried to take their two children from her by force and had used "profane language before both me and the children."

Sausalito Rejects Request To Delay Planning On Road

The Sausalito City Council turned down last night a request that it await a school board study before having the city engineer prepare a precise plan for Rodeo Avenue.

Councilmen voted unanimously to proceed with precise planning of the road, which passes close by Bayside School and spills into Nevada Street.

"We wish the plan to reflect two lanes only and that proper safeguards for pedestrian safety, and traffic lights if needed," said Mayor Jan Paul Dyk.

David E. Freedheim, a trustee-elect of Sausalito School District, said he spoke for the three trustees-elect and said "I believe for the present board," in asking the council to delay action.

"We are against a four-lane highway and in favor of the Spring Street exit as being less hazardous for children," said Freedheim.

Roy Starbird, city planning commissioner, also urged the council to await the school study.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Endorsed the $7,750,000 bond issue to be voted upon in a special election June 8 for completion of the second stage of civic center, following a presentation by Peter H. Behr of the county board of supervisors.
2. On suggestion of Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck, voted support of legislation to authorize local peace officers to act as such in any part of the state.
3. Voted to endorse legislation supporting property tax relief for senior citizens.
4. Took no action on a request from Richard W. Christian, president of the company which publishes the Sausalito Sentinel, a monthly newspaper, that city council meetings be changed from Tuesday to Monday evenings to "give accurate and up-to-date news coverage of city council activities."
5. Asked Brown for a new television ordinance and "perhaps a separate ordinance setting fees for Television Cable Service" following a letter from Sylvester J. McAtee, 122 Santa Rosa Avenue, who said fees have been raised. Council does not now regulate rates.
6. Accepted low bid of $10,741 by Maggiora, Ghilotti and Madsen, Inc., Corte Madera, to excavate a portion of Langendorf Park, Easterby Street and Woodward Avenue, and place fill in the corporation yard.
7. Continued to June an appeal by Dr. Helen Jambor, 258 Glen Drive, for planning commission denial of a variance to permit her to continue to use her dwelling as a duplex.
8. Agreed to resubmit its request for "701 program" planning funds to the state office of planning for $24,844, of which the state would provide $15,000 and the city $9,844. Money is to be used for a city map, sign ordinance and aerial photography.
9. Accepted .45 of an acre of excess state land at Currey Avenue and Currey Lane to the city of $1.
10. Agreed in principle with spending $200 for an added summer tennis instruction program to be given free each Monday for 10 weeks.

The council, which meets at 7:30 p.m. today as a finance committee on fiscal 1966 budget, will meet again next Wednesday at 8 p.m. to discuss employees salaries as they pertain to next year's budget.

Chamber Employs New Secretary

Barbara Bosl, 21, of Sausalito was hired yesterday as executive secretary of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. She is expected to begin work on a part-time basis June 1 in the office at 3030 Bridgeway.

Miss Bosl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bosl of 1725 Bridgeway, is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and University of California and is now working for Bank of America in San Francisco. She will continue her studies this summer at University of California.

President Launches Fight Against Mail-Order Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration today opened its fight for a bill to curb mail-order traffic in guns with a charge by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach that the National Rifle Association has used "misleading" and "preposterous" arguments against the measure.

Katzenbach, lead-off witness before the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee, devoted a considerable part of his prepared statement to a point-by-point rebuttal of NRA objections to the legislation.

The principal provision of the bill would prohibit unlicensed persons from transporting, shipping or receiving firearms in interstate or foreign commerce.

The attorney general said that the NRA, in a letter urging its 700,000 members to pressure congressmen and senators to oppose the bill, warned that "if the battle is lost, it will be your loss and that of all who follow."

Said Katzenbach: "It is impossible for me to understand the NRA's view of what battle is being fought and what the stakes are. In my view we are all joined in a nationwide battle — a battle against rape and robbery and muggings and murder — and the stakes are public order and safety for every citizen."

The proposed legislation would require retail gun dealers to limit sales of hand guns to residents of their states, raise the annual license fee for dealers and manufacturers and give the secretary of the Treasury discretion on who should be licensed to manufacture, import or deal in deadly weapons covered by the Federal Firearms Act.

Katzenbach also referred to the mail-order, Italian-made rifle used by Lee Harvey Oswald to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

"As long as I live," he said, "I can never forget that it was a mail-order rifle—sent to a post office box, that had been rented under an assumed name, by a man with an established record of defection and mental instability—that killed President Kennedy."

Church Merger Plan Is Backed

LONDON (AP) — The bishops and clergy of the Church of England voted overwhelmingly today in favor of continued negotiations to form one church with the Methodists.

A two-stage program is envisaged: first, separate churches which would recognize each other's clergy and take communion together; then later the two churches would become organically one.

Now the next move is up to the Methodists, who hold their annual conference in July.

Yield Sign Held 'For The Birds' By Supervisor

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted against changing the stop sign at Trestle Glen Boulevard and Paradise Drive to a yield sign.

"Yield signs are for the birds," said Board Chairman Peter H. Behr.

Tiburon city councilmen have been trying since November to get county agreement to change the sign. Agreement is necessary because the intersection is on the city-county boundary.

Councilmen recently agreed the county was "absurd" in requiring board action on such a matter.

Fire Meeting Set

The Novato Fire District board will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today to discuss plans for the proposed fire station in San Marin.

Marijuana Case Figure Is Arraigned

John Sturge Steinert, 18, of 26 Hazel Avenue, Mill Valley, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a felony charge of possession of marijuana.

The public defender's office was appointed to defend him and further proceedings scheduled for this afternoon.

Steinert originally was booked in county jail May 3 as a runaway, but jailers said during a routine shakedown they found what appeared to be remains of marijuana in his coat and shirt pockets.

No complaint was filed pending tests by a San Francisco police laboratory, and Steinert was released. However, officers said the laboratory identified the substance as marijuana. The complaint was filed last Friday.

Steinert was re-arrested by sheriff's officers on a warrant Monday. He is being held in lieu of $550 bail.

$3.80 PER PUPIL

School Phone Bill Is Set At $13,351

By JEFF GREER

Last school year, San Rafael High School District taxpayers footed a $13,351 telephone bill for two schools serving 3,478 students — some $3.80 per student.

In the same 1963-64 school year, Tamalpais High School District's telephone bill for three schools plus administrative offices serving 5,110 enrollment was $16,134, for a per-pupil cost of about $3.15.

Mount Diablo Unified School District in Contra Costa County paid $19,156 telephone bills for six high schools serving 9,847 students—an average cost of $1.93 per pupil.

San Rafael High and Terra Linda High are expected to have a combined bill by June 30, of some $19,000 this year. Board of education members were taken aback last week when they learned that the district administration proposes budgeting $17,100 for fiscal 1965-66 telephone service to the two high schools, plus $11,400 for the elementary schools.

Of the three districts, San Rafael's is the only one that uses one central switchboard, with extensions to all schools in the district. Tam has a separate switchboard at each school; so does the Mount Diablo district.

The single, central switchboard, serving both elementary and high schools, means that the two San Rafael districts pay $1,700 a month in telephone line company charges without ever dialing a number, according to Charles L. Condrotte, schools business manager. However, he argued, the central switchboard saves the payroll costs of an operator and standby help at each school—and thus represents a saving.

Following last week's budget discussion, San Rafael school representatives met with telephone company experts — and came up with the answer that San Rafael's system is still the least expensive one possible, Condrotte told the Independent-Journal.

The San Rafael district's charges took a terrific jump this year because of two factors, Condrotte explained. Moving the administrative offices from the San Rafael High School "clear across town" to the former E Street School, added costs for extra trunk lines to the high school and lengthened leased circuits to most of the other schools served. Also, he said, the district had to change to a switchboard capable of handling three-digit numbers, because of the addition of so many new extensions.

Many of the calls made from Terra Linda High involve message unit charges, thus hiking the bill, he added.

Novato Unified School District, which also had a central switchboard in operation last year, paid a total bill of $8,432.40 for service to the high school, one junior high, five elementary schools and the district office. Average daily attendance for the entire district was 4,751 pupils. About $1.80 per pupil, both high school and elementary, was the average telephone bill.

San Jose School Board Receives Five Resignations

Letters of resignation were received from teachers Norman Ross at Meadow Park School and Mrs. Elaine Post at San Jose Intermediate School; custodian Harry Lehmann at Pacheco School, and Mrs. Faye Settlemyre and Mrs. Barbara Sparrow of the district office, according to Supt. Ralph D. Giovanniello.

He reported the three construction projects in the district, the multi-use rooms at Loma Verde and San Jose Intermediate schools and the six-room addition at Loma Verde School, were progressing according to schedule.

Next meeting of the board will be at 8 p.m. June 14.

Savio Admits Failure To Vote In November

BERKELEY (UPI) — Free Speech Movement sparkplug Mario Savio testified yesterday he did not vote in last November's election.

Savio, 22, was on the stand in the trial of 155 sit-ins among the 775 arrested last Dec. 3 at the administration building on the University of California's Berkeley campus.

ed, in nearer "unsightly developments" in Tamalpais Valley, Tiburon and other areas of southern Marin.

He then went on to make his own position clear. There was no legal sanction against his active participation in the meeting despite commitments to the Frouge concern.

This opening salvo set a lively scene and for the rest of the evening comments came pouring fast.

Mayor Wornum had proposed to allot equal time to both sides. But that fell flat when he threw out an invitation for Marincello supporters to speak first.

Not a murmur stirred the air.

Councilman White stepped in Sheeks's wake and denied the council's alleged inconsistency. "It is the right of a city to take action on any development that may, directly or indirectly, affect it," he said.

Planning director Harvey Bragdon outlined the 2,138-acre Frouge project. He said he felt it would not be an economic burden on the county. The meeting was then thrown open.

Donald J. Batchelder, a member of the city's architectural advisory commission, thought the project was a highly abstract representation of a city, but said "no one seems to know what it will be like."

He maintained you cannot decide on figures whether it is going to be charming, boring, bright or dull.

Naphtali Knox, also a member of the architectural advisory committee, noted the cluster density rate proposed was above the 3.5 dwelling units per gross acre county limit. "If you open the flood gates, other developers will be waiting in the wings," he said.

The proposed high-rise apartments came under heavy fire, but one voice claimed the cluster plan would preserve the rural aspects instead of "gobbling up the land."

Finally a seven-point list of recommendations was accepted in principle by both council and planning commission. It will probably be approved formally at a budget meeting Wednesday to be presented to the county planning commission on June 7 when it discusses the proposed development.

Items which Mill Valley wants the county to study are:

Density: The Marincello plan is two or three times more than the present county limit.

Apartments: These form 60 per cent of the dwelling units; too much, the city feels. Also, there is concern about high rise apartments.

Autonomy: Some 60 per cent would remain under one ownership—that of Frouge Corp. It was questioned how this would affect government.

High School: One will be needed. Who pays?

Roads: Adequate access to Marincello not demonstrated. Concern was felt about traffic impact on Mill Valley.

Economy: Scepticism about the economic base of the proposed community.

Councilman William M. Secor was absent.

Man Gets Jail In Forgery Case

A six-month county jail term was given Ray Vernon Mitchell, 33, today by Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court for two counts of forgery.

Mitchell, 605 Glenwood Avenue, Mill Valley, passed forged checks for $138.30 each at Food Villa and at Jolly Store in Fairfax last Nov. 5.

Sausalito May Test Barrier On Busy Road

A sidewalk safety device to be installed near the "Jack London house" in Sausalito will be investigated by police and public works departments, the city council agreed last night.

Action followed comments of Mary Lindheim, ceramist, who lives in the house at 221 Bridgeway. She asked that the device be considered along southern and eastern walks of Bridgeway at the corner of Richardson Street.

"Three children were nearly killed on the sidewalk recently," she said.

She suggested extension of reinforced concrete posts to form a protective barricade on Richardson between Second Street and Bridgeway and to continue along Bridgeway to Tiffany Beach. She also recommended consideration of red blinker lights and a night and day trial check by an officer for possible further controls.

Sausalito To Test Merchant Parking

A parking validation program to benefit merchants and customers was approved last night for a six-month trial period by the Sausalito City Council.

Merchants, under the plan, would buy 100 parking tickets at 10 cents each and give them to customers who could use them at Vina Del Mar parking lot, where there are ahtendants. Merchants, presented evidence by a customer that parking had been paid for, could give customers that amount of credit on purchases.

The council turned down a suggestion by Robert C. Campbell, acting president of the Village Fair Assn. that the parking lot across Bridgeway from Village Fair also be provided with parking attendants.

Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin replied that she could not see taking out parking meters recently installed in the lot across from Village Fair. "I'm sure people walk all over town," she said.

Campbell reported that 12 merchants in Village Fair favored and 23 opposed the parking validation program.

U.S. Quits 'Teach-In'

BERKELEY (AP)—The State Department yesterday said it was pulling out of the Viet Nam "teach-in" slated for next weekend by the University of California because the event will be a protest of U.S. policy rather than a debate.

Also out of the Berkeley lineup will be Gus Hall, general chairman of the Communist Party, USA, who declined an invitation because his appearance might "create problems about the speakers' list." He did not explain further.

Two Berkeley political science professors, Robert A. Scalapino and author Eugene Burdick said they also declined to speak because the Berkeley teach-in sponsors admittedly are conducting a protest not a debate.

Cameraman Dies After Fall In Surf

LIHUE, Hawaii (AP) — Walt Disney cameramen Robert King Baggott was thrown into the surf during the filming of a movie off Kauai Island yesterday and died of shock and hemorrhaging, an autopsy has revealed.

Baggott, 47, of Northridge, Los Angeles County, was hurled from a 16-foot outboard boat when it was hit by a wave. He had been helping to film "Lieutenant Robin Crusoe, USN."

The autopsy report said Baggott's internal bleeding had been due to four broken ribs.

Also pitched into the water was Peter Ellenshaw, winner of a special effects Oscar this year for his work on Mary Poppins. But Ellenshaw reached shore unharmed.

Baggott was unconscious when he was pulled to the beach by Percy Kinimaka but he died a little later.

RECORD PROFITS

U.S. Prosperity Gladdens Tax Man

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — There's nothing like a 51-month stretch of prosperity to gladden the heart of a federal tax collector.

Record corporate profits and record personal incomes are bringing the U.S. Treasury a windfall of $1.5 billion this fiscal year. It anticipates a like amount in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The $3 billion is revenue that the Treasury hadn't foreseen when it drew up its budget last January. Cuts in federal income tax rates both for individual incomes and corporate earnings are now being offset in sizable amounts by the increased totals on which to levy the new, if lower, rates.

And the windfall has led the Treasury to agree to share some of its good fortune with the individual and corporate taxpayers. The share will be in the form of a greater than previously planned cut in excise taxes, paid at retail by customers, or levied at manufacturers' level of some items.

The 51-month business expansion, which this month is setting a peacetime record of its own, has flowered this year in higher than expected profits and incomes.

Right now, for instance, the Commerce Department figures that corporate gross profits are running at a record annual rate of $62.6 billion. The increase of $5.6 billion in these pretax earnings from the annual rate of $57 billion in the final three months of 1964 is pure gravy for the Treasury.

Even with corporate income tax rates dropped this year from 50 per cent to 48 per cent, the Treasury will take in a sizable hunk of money, close to $31 billion.

The corporations aren't complaining because they're glad both for the lower rate and for the record profits.

Confidently, the Treasury expects that this business spending, along with increased outlays by individuals with larger incomes, will keep the business expansion going far past this 51th month.

And with the expansion should come still higher corporate profits and larger totals of personal income.

Things could go wrong with all these fine hopes. The expansion rate probably will slow during the traditional summer lull.

But right now the news is all reassuring: records falling month by month, the chance that this summer's slowdown will be less marked than average, the probability that the momentum of the long expansion will keep things going for some time.

And then there are the new stimulants now taking form: the cut in excise taxes that could spur private and corporate spending and the increased government outlays that projects of the "Great Society" imply.

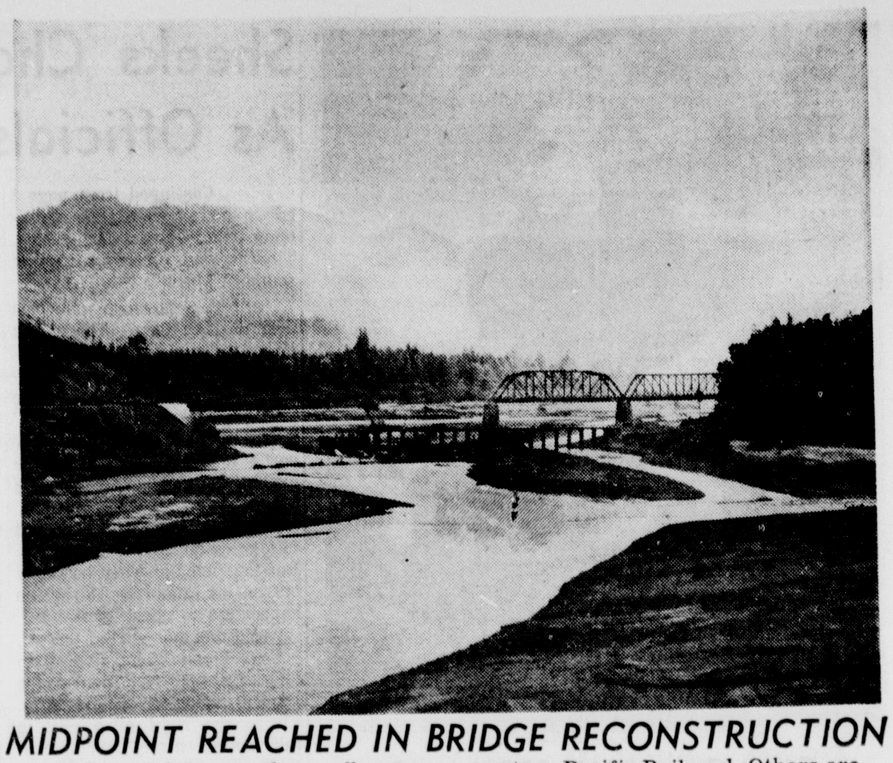
Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. treasury bonds were unchanged.

Earnings Up During April

SAN FRANCISCO — Consolidated Freightways has reported net earnings of $637,000 in April, equal to 25 cents per share, on sales of $21,190,000.

Both figures are up from a year ago, when the company earned $525,000, or 21 cents per share, on sales of $18,175,000.

For the first four months of 1965 net earnings of $2,108,000, equal to 82 cents per share, compare with $1,222,000 and 48 cents per share last year. Sales of $78,119,000 are up 16 per cent from the $67,327,000 of a year ago.



MIDPOINT REACHED IN BRIDGE RECONSTRUCTION

This crossing near the confluence of the Eel River and the South Fork of the Eel is one of three bridge expected to be completed by the American Bridge Division of United Steel Corp. next month for Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Others are located at Alderpoint in Humboldt County and at Island Mountain, Trinity County. Previous bridges were lost as a result of flood damage last winter.

Supervisors Ponder Marinwood Zone Bid

A change to professional zone asked on a .6 of an acre site near Las Gallinas Avenue and Miller Creek Road in Marinwood occupied Marin County supervisors for an hour yesterday.

In the end, the matter was continued until next week so the planning department could analyze the need to increase such zoning.

The planning commission had recommended the change, but supervisors received a letter from Gerald G. Hoytt who said his land, already zoned for professional use across the street, was being purchased by a group of doctors for offices.

Yesterday's applicant, Douglas M.Christensen, said his property now zoned for apartments,was going to a group who intended to build a clinic.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Voted 4-1, with Supervisor Peter H. Behr dissenting, in favor of a telephone dictating device requested by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen for night and weekend dictation. Installation will cost $45 and annual rent will be $450. The board agreed to a six-month trial.

2. Agreed to discuss salary recommendations for county employees on June 7 and begin discussion of the proposed budget at 1:30 p.m. June 9. There will be an evening session at 8 p.m. June 9. Hearings on the budget will continue through that week and at least one more week, every day except on regular board meeting days.

3. Approved Administrator Alan Bruce's request for permission to leave the country Sept. 2 for six weeks of vacation in Scotland and other countries.

4. Authorized payment of $11,576 to Mrs. Jennie Raffi and $15,016 to Armando and Lillian Y. Ambrosini for right of way needed for widening Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield.

5. Called for bids at 2 p.m., June 7, on Northern Avenue drainage improvement in Tamalpais Valley.

6. Voted $4,500 for extension of leaching lines in Paradise Beach Park where tests showed extremely poor percolation for sewerage.

7. Awarded a $11,379 contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael, lowest of three bidders, for realignment of Novato Boulevard near Bowman Gulch Bridge.

8. Set public hearing at 2 p.m. June 1 on the proposed change of name for Pine Hill Road near Inverness to Kehoe Way in honor of former Supervisor James V. Kehoe, and approved rezoning, from a holding zone to single family residential for the 13-lot Pine Hill Subdivision.

9. Rezoned from agricultural to planned community Alameda Homes Corp.'s 700 acres south of Highway 37 at Black Point.

10. Set hearing at 2:30 p.m. June 14 on proposed annexation to County Flood Control Zone 7 (Santa Venetia) of hillside land to the southeast. Protests to proposed improvements in the zone will also be heard at that time.

11. Appointed Ira Okum superintendent of Juvenile Hall at $870 a month, effective July 1 and Weltha Thurman senior clerk in the Department of Public Social Services (Welfare) at $380 a month effective May 10.

12. Delayed until next week action to keep the Tiburon Flood Control Zone intact for another year to collect, throrugh taxes, a county advance of $6,000. Board Chairman Behr asked the delay to alert the Tiburon City Council, which requested dissolution.

13. Authorized $1 a year lease of Oyster Canal to the National Audubon Society for addition to the Richardson Bay Wildlife Refuge. The society was the only bidder on the lease.

Questions Sent Out On College

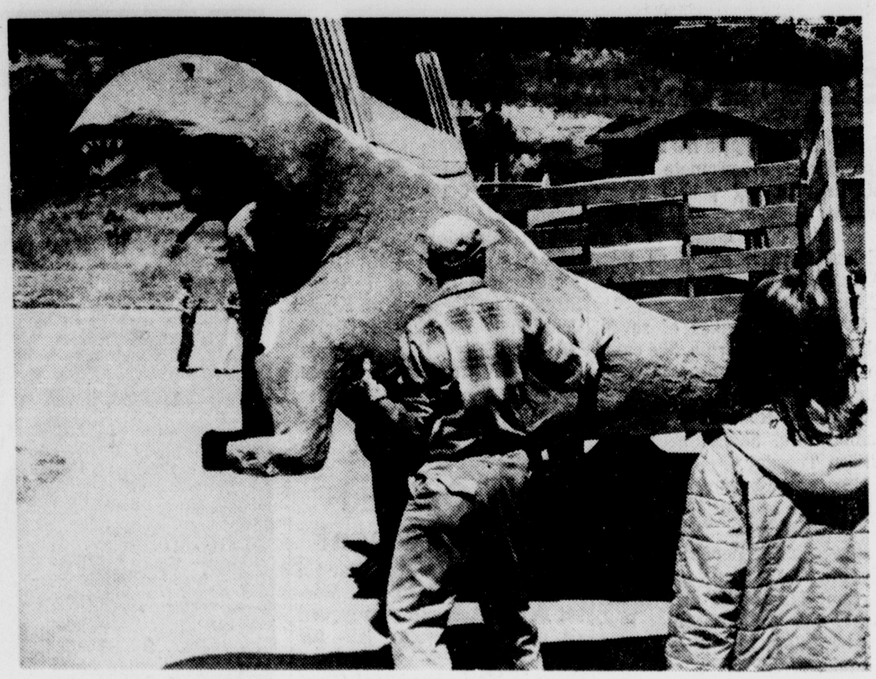
Questionnaires have been mailed to 400 Marin residents, chosen at random, in a survey on attitudes toward programs of the College of Marin.

A similar survey is being made of teachers at the college. The questioning is the work of William Scalopino, acting head of the college's behavioral sciences department, as part of his work toward a doctorate.

But the information will be used to evaluate the college's present courses of instruction and to plan for future, especially whether to emphasize certain areas, such as vocational education, or art, or science.

Questions concern the quality of teaching, whether community needs are being met, effect of class size and suggestions for improvement. Names of persons questioned are kept confidential, but each person has been asked to include information on his education, age, income and family status.

Follow-up questions by telephone will be asked of about 50 persons. Students will then compile the answers.



I'LL NEVER TOUCH ANOTHER DROP — Motorists along Tiburon Boulevard gaped in awe when a chartreuse brontosaurus and a red-orange tyrannosaurus went by in an open truck on their way to Del Mar School for the Reed School District all-arts festival. First and second graders at Tiburon School made the replicas of the pre-historic creatures. Custodian Gordon Bird helps unload one the huge hollow animals. (Independent-Journal photo)

Fraternal Delegate

Thomas J. Ravizza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward I. Ravizza of 224 Ricardo Road, Strawberry Manor, will represent Gamma Omicron Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi at the fraternity's grand chapter congress in the Bahama Islands, Aug. 31-Sept. 3. Ravizza is a junior at University of San Francisco.

DRIVERS' DOUBLE-TAKE

Prehistoric Animals Star At Reed School Festival

A chartreuse brontosaurus and a red-orange tyrannosaurus are stars of the Reed School District all-arts festival which opened today and will continue through Saturday.

"Betty Bronte," the brontosaurus with long eye lashes, and "Big Mouth," the tyrannosaurus with the big whitetoothed smile, tower over the other students exhibits at Del Mar School.

The replicas of the prehistoric animals, each more than five feet tall, were constructed with newspapers over a chicken wire frame, then painted by the pupils in first and second grades of Tiburon School who made them.

They were levered out of the school room doors Monday and taken to Del Mar School on a truck as motorists stared in wonder.

They joined exhibits of painting, drawing, collage, graphics work, paperstuffed animals at the art fair which will include a concert at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Members of the elementary chorus orchestra and the Del Mar choral groups, band and the string ensemble will play.

The art festival will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow and Friday; 9-11 a.m. Saturday.

Charter Streamline Fails In Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — Measures to streamline the city charter and increase school taxes from $2.77 to $3.76 were defeated last night by voters in Oakland.

Seymour M. Rose defeated W. Elwyn Dustan and Ann Root Corneille defeated Electra Kimble Price by narrow margins in school board races.

Innocent Pleas In Drive-In Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two brothers pleaded innocent yesterday to the murder of 16-year-old Rodney Garcia on April 19 at a drive-in near Balboa High School. Trial was set for early July.

Cyclists Arrive In Portland

Cyclists John Veloz, 28, of Muir Beach and Robert Crowther, 32, of San Francisco are whizzing northward, Alaska-bound, held back only by 50-mile-an-hour winds.

The pair arrived in Portland, Ore., Friday, about one-fifth of their 3,477 mile trip to Anchorage, Veloz's wife, Evelyn, said today. They left San Francisco May 1 expecting to make Anchorage by September.

Mrs. Veloz said the cyclists are tanned, in excellent health and have slep outside every night except one when "they smelled so badly they had to stay overnight in a motel to get cleaned up."

They had expected to average 30 miles a day but on one day clocked 83. "Robert managed to cycle into John at one point," Mrs. Veloz added, but "they got John's cycle repaired. . . . They manage to spend no more than $1 a day per person to eat.

"Several people have stopped them en route saying, 'Aren't you the ones from San Francisco going to Alaska?' And a honeymooning couple followed them for a way by car."

Mrs. Veloz said the cyclists' next stop is Seattle, then Vancouver, and then the reportedly hole-pocked Alcan Highway.

Just one thing puzzles Mrs. Veloz. "I received a $2 parking ticket from the Garberville Justice Court. That's on their route but I don't see how they could get a parking ticket with bicycles."

Baptist Group Seeks To Quit Church Council

The American Baptist Laymen for Independence, a newly formed group from San Diego, met yesterday on the eve of the Baptists' 58th annual meeting which opened here today.

A resolution the group passed charges that "activities of the National Council of Churches are aiding the cause of communism." It also said that these "activities" were losing churches and church members for the Baptists.

The pre-convention meeting was attended by some 150 persons. Some 10,000 delegates and visitors from 40 states were expected to attend the opening of the official meeting.

New U.S. Citizen Heading For Europe

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

Now that Bjorn Christian Lyche knows how it feels to be a European living in America, he is going to find out what it is like to be an American living in Europe.

If that sounds confusing, it will come as no surprise to Lyche, who has tried, with some difficutly, to explain his plans to friends.

"A lot of people think it is strange that I am going back to work in Europe now that I am an American citizen," he said.

But to Bjorn, who got his citizenship in April and is within a hair's breath of his Ph.D. in chemical engineering, it seems a logical move.

A native of Oslo, Norway, 40-year-old Lyche came to this country "in two installments." The first time, in 1953, he attended University of Wisconsin on a Norwegian government scholarship and had to return home to get the money.

When he came back in 1957, he headed for California and got a job with Standard Oil Co. in Richmond. Later, he bought his home at 2170 Elderberry Lane, Marinwood. Travelling around the country on his vacations, camping out and meeting as many Americans as he could, he decided to stay and take citizenship.

Meanwhile, he found that Standard was eager for its employees to keep studying. It offered to pay 75 per cent of his tuition and re-arrange his working hours so he could attend class. He enrolled at University of California in Berkeley.

In 1963, Lyche quit work and went back to school fulltime so he could get his doctorate. For his thesis, he chose the field of chemical plant automation.

A man with a doctor's degree in that field has no trouble finding a job, and Lyche had plenty of interviews once he knew his studies would end this summer. He was offered several jobs he liked, but the best was with Dow Chemical Co. International.

Dow liked the fact that he had a European background but also had learned to know the Ameriviewpoint. The company insisted, however, that he gain his citizenship to get the job.

Last week, his older son, Harold, 8, flew alone to Oslo to stay with his grandparents. In a few weeks, Mrs. Lyche whose parents were Norwegian and Leif, 5, will go there too, while Bjorn sells the Marinwood house and stays in Berkeley until he completes his doctorate.

After joining his family in Oslo for the rest of the summer, Lyche will start work in Holland as Dow's European production training manager.

He hopes to come back to the United States, and perhaps Marin, eventually, but says his new employers may send him to almost any spot on the globe.

Pleased with the chance to mix American technical knowledge with international relations, Lyche hopes to give his two sons the desire to promote understanding among people everywhere.

She is the mother of seven, all living in California. She came to the United States in 1926. Among her four daughters is Mrs. Alicia Robbins of San Anselmo. Mrs. Sevilla became a citizen Tuesday.

Others who became citizens in April were Alberto Jose Garcia of 40 Marguerite Avenue, Mill Valley; Mrs. Aenne Baerbel-Harding of 769 Clausing Avenue, Novato; Mrs. Jung Ja Seaman of 459 Via Plano, Novato; Bernard Emile Steger of 50 Oxford Avenue, Mill Valley;

Derek James Crawford of 16 Seadrift Landing, Tiburon; Mrs. June (formerly Shizuko) Hankins of 281 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base; James Harold Isherwood of 107 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera; Peter George Kavantjas of 15 Skyline Road, San Anselmo; Mrs. Ruth Bente Martinsen of 4165 Paradise Drive, Tiburon;

Mrs. Betsy Pye of 63 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley; Richard James Donaldson of 475 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael; Ian McKenzie Burnett of 7 Neame Street, San Rafael; Mrs. Kiyoko Johnson of 505 Entrada Drive, Novato; Edgar Dieter Schmidt of the 78th Air Police Squadron, Hamilton Air Force Base; Mrs. Agnes Smolenska of 25-A Rodeo Avenue, Apt. 21, Sausalito.

Guard School Grad

Marine Lance Cpl. Lawrence J. Bersano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Bersano of 89 Park Drive, San Anselmo, has graduated from the Marin Security Guard School in Arlington, Va. He will be assigned as a security guard at the U. S. Embassy in Karachi, Pakistan.

Arrest Ordered For Ex-Merchant

Gene Kissinger, 38-year-old former manager of Black Market in San Anselmo who served six months in county jail for petty theft, failed to appear yesteday in Marin Municipal Court for an extradition hearing to Kansas.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson forfeited his $100 bail, issued a bench warrant for his arrest, and set new bail at $2,500.

Kissinger is charged in Great Bend, Barton County, Kans., with passing a $75 worthless check last Dec. 24. He also is free on $2,200 bail on another felony charge in Sacramento.

Theft In Jail

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies sadi last night that $334 in cash belonging to prisoners in the public safety building jail had been taken from the jail office.

INTERNATIONAL FIGURES—A metric scale slide rule reads the same in almost any language, which is handy for Norwegian-born Bjorn Christian Lyche, who just received his United States citizenship and will go to work in the Netherlands as soon as he completes his doctorate in chemical engineering. ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

No Malice In Punderland, But Gilmartin Spanked On KSF-OW!

It was a rather innocuous little item, written without a hint of malice in pun-derland. All I wrote was that Russ Hodges said over the radio last week that a pitcher "threw three straight curve balls" and I thought that was kind of funny, for who ever heard of a straight curve ball?

"A typical Gilmartin bum joke," was the way one of my buddies described the item and I agree. But I like those little quips. And if Pope Paul were to accidentally utter anything so pun-derful I would be the first to quote His Holiness.

While the Pope, I am sure, would wince at my corn-fed play on words—and perhaps clamp his proboscis between thumb and forefinger to signify that it stank—I doubt that he would excommunicate me. No papal people hater, he.

However, Mr. Hodges did not take my needle with the good nature I had expected. Having been an admirer of his—and I have clippings to prove my affection—I misjudged the depth of his skin, which turned out to be pretty thin.

RUSS HODGES

I DIDN'T hear Sunday's between-games show, but I understand it was a pip. Mr. Hodges, making like a little ol' whine maker, verbally spanked the living daylights out of little ol' me. Being star subject of a network show is rather flattering, I must admit. It was the greatest exposure I've had since some sharpies caught me short changed in a strip poker game.

I DON'T know whether to thank Russ or throw away my transistor. It's a dilemma, believe me. I think he must have been kidding. A grown man just doesn't get so worked up over anything so innocuous. Or if a grown man DOES get worked up over such an itty-bitty jab from a pun-ograph needle he certainly doesn't bellow so loud and so long over such an expensive toy like KSF-OW. How would you like to pay the freight for Mrs. Hodges' little boy Russ bawling out Mrs. Gilmartin's little boy Jim over a network show? The sponsor of Sunday's program must have felt like the chump who bought the Brooklyn Bridge.

I UNDERSTAND Mr. Hodges invited me over to that playpen he calls a broadcasting booth to see how well I can do in his profession. How would you like to pay for THAT? I'll accept his invitation, but I must warn him I'm pretty expensive. If he'll pay my price I promise I'll buy him another security blanket to replace the one he tore up in his temper tantrum Sunday.

AND, BEING a fan of Russ Hodges the sportscaster—not to be confused with Russ Hodges, the thin-skinned cry baby—I will try to emulate his professional talents—right down to the last "Bye, bye, baby!" And those straight curve balls.

Sadecki Gets First Win As Cards Dump Phils 8-2

By LEONARD A. GRANATO
UPI Sports Writer

It just may be that Ray Sadecki is a slow starter and the slumping St. Louis Cardinals have been waiting for him to get rolling.

Last season Sadecki lost his first five starts and wound up with 20 victories. So, after seeing him lose his first four decisions this season, small wonder that his teammates crowded around him with congratulations after he defeated Philadelphia 8-2 last night for his first triumph.

The victory put the Cardinals barely over .500 and lodged them in a tie for fourth with the Phillies and Braves.

Sadecki went the distance, scattering five hits. He fanned five and walked only three.

In other National League games the Cubs outlasted the Giants 7-6, Milwaukee edged the Mets 4-3 and Houston halted Los Angeles 4-1. Pittsburgh and the Reds were rained out at Cincinnati.

The Cardinals backed Sadecki with an 11-hit attack. Julian Javier had three hits in four trips, driving in two runs. Tim McCarver and Bill White each had two RBI's.

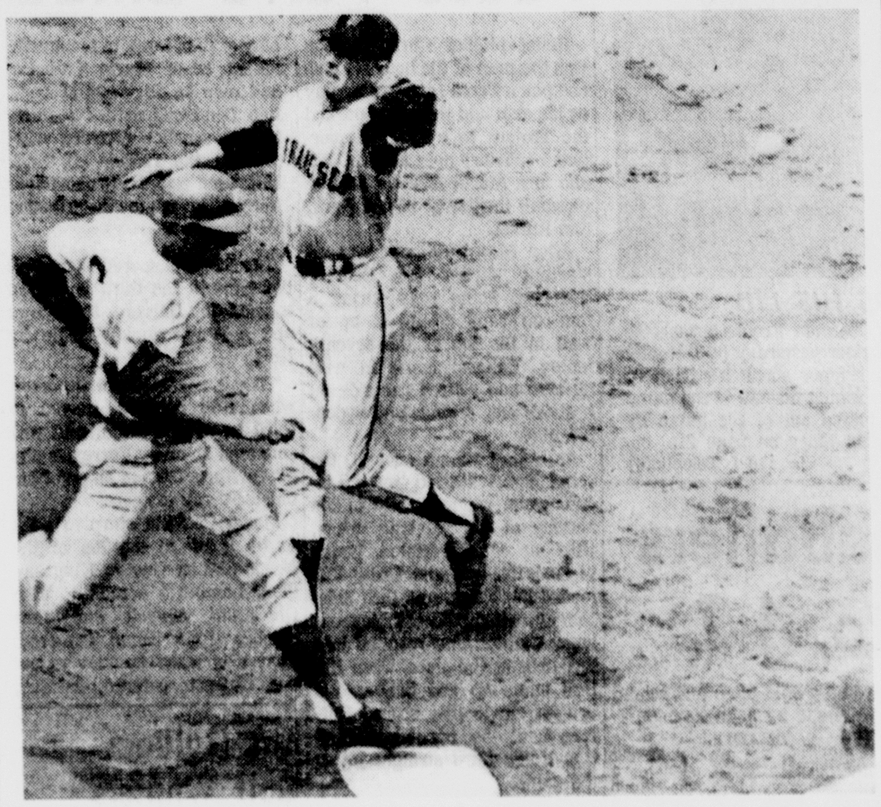
Swoboda and Rico Carty of the Braves had hit two-run homers in the second that resulted in a 2-2 tie. Bolling doubled in the go-ahead run in the fourth and singled in the eventual winning run in the eighth. Tony Cloninger went the route for his fifth victory.

Ken Johnson pitched six and one-third innings of no-hit ball against the Dodgers before Ron Fairly's grounder hit first base and bounced into the outfield for a double. Johnson, relieved by Hal Woodeshick in the ninth, picked up his third victory against one loss.

The Astros got two runs in the third on an error, a walk, a sacrifice and Bob Aspromonte's two-run single. John Bateman had a solo homer for Houston. Dodger starter Jim Brewer was the loser.



SANFORD ERROR—Chicago Cubs' Dick Bertell reaches first base safely after beating out a bunt against San Francisco yesterday. Giants pitcher Jack Sanford threw wildly to first, past Hal Lanier covering, allowing a runner to score all the way from first. That was the margin of difference as the Giants last 7-6.

Yanks Nip Red Sox In 12th

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

It's those bases on balls that give pitchess nightmares.

Take Dick Radatz of the Boston Red Sox, for instance. Last night against the Yankees he struck out six consecutive batters but walked the lead-off man in the bottom of the 12th inning and Tom Tresh tripled him home with the winning run in a 4-3 Yankee victory.

The Monster had come into the game in the ninth inning in relief of Dave Morehead, who had pitched no-hit ball for six innings. It was the first time the Yankees beat Radatz in his six decisions against them.

Ray Barker, who had broken Morehead's no-hitter with a single, homered to lead off the ninth. Radatz came in and gave up the tying run on singles by Horace Clarke, Bob Schmidt and Bobby Richardson.

Then the Monster struck out Mickey Mantle, Joe Pepitone and Barker in the 10th and Clete Boyer, Pedro Ramos and Schmidt in the 11th. The American League record for consecutive strikeouts is seven.

Then came the walk to Phil Linz, a pop-up and Tresh's smash that hit the auxiliary scoreboard in right centerfield, allowing Linz to leg it all the way in.

In other league action, Cleveland edged Baltimore 1-0, Washington pounded Detroit 15-9, Chicago beat Kansas City 5-4 and Los Angeles defeated Minnesota 3-1.

Fred Whitfield's single in the sixth inning drove in Joe Azcue from third base with the only run as Cleveland pitcher Jack Kralick picked up his first victory against two defeats. Don McMahon finished the last two innings for Kralick, who broke a blister on his pitching hand. Robin Roberts went the distance in defeat. It was his third loss against four victories.

Frank Howard had a grand slam homer in the Washington triumph, and Willie Kirkland drove in four runs with a home run and a bases-loaded single.

Ron Patten, a pro at the Diablo Country Club for the past six years, has been named head golf pro at the Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael.

The new Peacock Gap pro's golf interest was fostered at an early age since his father, "Pat" Patten, is the head golf pro at Orinda Golf and Country Club.

Ron Patten was assistant pro there prior to a two-year hitch in the Army. He attended St. Mary's College.

Patten has been too busy lately as a golf pro to do much competing in tournaments, but in 1961-62 he qualified for the Bing Crosby Pro Am. In 1963 he set the golf records at Richmond Country Club where he stroked a 63.

Tire Crisis Appears Over At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The big tire crisis appeared over today for pole-sitter A. J. Foyt and seven other drivers who qualified for the May 31 500-mile auto race on Goodyear tires.

J. A. Loulan, manager of Goodyear's racing tire development program, said yesterday that "problems" which developed in practice Monday were being corrected and added flatly that "we are not pulling out of the race."

In practice at moderate to high speeds with full fuel loads Monday, Foyt and two other drivers who qualified last weekend on Goodyear tires ran into trouble with rubber flaking from their tires.

Loulan said the trouble had been traced to a flaw in the molding operation and that new tires were being rushed here from Akron, Ohio.

"All cars qualified on Goodyear tires will be in the race," Loulan said. In all, eight of the 21 cars which qualified on the first weekend used Goodyear tires. The other 13 qualified on Firestone tires. The other qualifiers who ran into trouble in practice Monday were veteran Don Branson and rookie Billy Foster.

Before Loulan announced that the trouble had been cleared up, another Goodyear spokesman had said that if the problem were not resolved the firm might ask to withdraw the tires.

That could have created problems since United States Auto Club rules require that cars run in the race on the same type of tires used in the qualification trials.

How Long Can Mays Bat .400?

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Mays is ripping National League pitching at a .400 plus clip but both he and the San Francisco Giants are holding their breaths in anticipation of a slump.

As great as the Say Hey Kid is, in recent years he has run into periods of drought, a non uncommon occurrence for an aging player. Willie is 34.

Last season Mays had a similar start but finished the year with a .296 average, driving out 47 home runs and driving in 111 runs.

Currently, Mays is hitting .403 with 14 home runs and 29 RBI. Somewhere along the line Willie is going to get tired and he knows it.

The question was put forth to him why he doesn't try a timetable, for example, of playing 35 games and resting for five games. Play another 35, rest another five, play 35 more, rest five more and then finish the last 24 games.

Under such a schedule Mays would miss only 15 games. Mays' analytical mind began to function and after thinking it over Willie said "nope, it would never work."

"I need a rest and nobody knows it more than I do," said Mays, "but a layoff of five games might mean not playing for up to six days.

"I'd be afraid I might get rusty, out of the groove or even put on weight. Then, too, you have to think about the team. Some-

Rain And Cubs Beat Giants In Chicago Series Opener

CHICAGO(UPI) — 'Tis sad but true that when San Francisco Giants manager Herman Franks pulls a pitcher this year, he can't be sure that the new hurler will do any better than the one he is taking out.

The inadequacy of the Giant relief corps and the superiority of the Cubs' bullpen gave Chicago a 7-6 win yesterday in a contest called after 7½ innings because of rain.

That halted the Giants' five-game win string. The two teams were to go at it again today at Wrigley Field when Gaylord Perry (2-2) tries his luck against Dick Ellsworth (3-3) who lost a one-hitter to the Dodgers his last time out.

The Giants scored four runs in the first yesterday off Ernie Broglio and Lindy McDaniel as Matty Alou tripled, Jesus Alou doubled him home and Willie McCovey walked. In came McDaniel and Willie Mays promptly launched his 14th homer in orbit.

But Jack Sanford just could not stand the prosperity and got cuffed for one in the first and three in the second, when he gave way to Ron Herbel. It was a sad way for Sanford to spend his 36th birthday.

The Giants grabbed a 6-4 lead in the third when Jesus Alou and Jimmy Hart tagged homers, but from then on rolled over and played dead before Bob Humphreys and Ted Abernathy, the latter exactly the type of bullpen stopper that is conspicuously absent for the Giants this year.

Herbel and Bob Bolin got clipped for three more as Chicago went ahead in a wild third inning that saw Herbel in a running verbal battle with umpire Mel Steiner. When manager Franks sallied forth to back up his young righthander, he was tossed out of the contest for his first expulsion as a manager.

The Giants finally got some respectable hurling when Bill Henry tossed the last two innings, but by this time the hitters were numbed by Humphries and then Abernathy and rains finally took the Giants' final chance from them.

The Giants got most of their trouble from the bottom of the Cubs' order as Dick Bertell had a hit and two walks, Orlando Pena two hits, and pinch-hitter Len Gabrielson a two-run homer.

Herbel (2-3) was the loser and Humphreys (1-0) the winner.

Ken Venturi Will Defend His U.S. Open Golf Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The original field of 2,304 entries for the U.S. Open Golf Championship next month will be trimmed to 418 — plus automatic qualifiers — when preliminary play begins Monday at 55 locations.

Ken Venturi, the ailing 1964 Open champion who said yesterday he definitely will defend the title although "it may turn out to be foolish," heads a list of 31 top-ranked golfers advancing directly into the 72-hole championship June 17-20 at St. Louis.

But other leading professionals and amateurs, including former Masters winner Art Wall Jr., former U.S. Amateur king Labron Harris, Al Besselink, Charles Sifford, Gardner Dickinson, Joe Campbell and Phil Rodgers will be among 2,232 teeing off Monday or Tuesday in local qualifying rounds.

The survivors move into sectional play June 7-8, with the field reduced to 150 for the championship.

Toughest of the 36-hole local rounds set up by the U.S. Golf Association figures to be at Memphis, where 90 touring pros wind up the Memphis Open Sunday then join four amateurs and compete for 40 Open qualifying places Monday.

Venturi, troubled since last winter by a circulatory ailment that restricts the sense of feel in his fingers, particularly in cool weather, notified USGA officials that he will defend. The Californian, won the 1964 Open at Washington.

The City That Knows How Doesn't Seem To Care About Candlestick

CONNOLLY

It cares less about ball park maintenance; is twice as nasty when asked to complete the grandstand seats in deep centerfield, and seems utterly unconscious of the fact bleacherite fans have to squat on circus type seats. I'm referring to the "City that knows how" but just doesn't seem to care San Francisco.

Beefing about the above conditions isn't anything new but it is about time the fans did a little complaining themslves to the City Fathers. Giant management claims they've been doing it right along but to no avail.

Grandstand reserve seats are so rough and splintery women are always complaining of runs in their hosiery. The Giants claim this is a responsibility of the lessors. So nothing is done and the gals continue to suffer.

It costs the fans 75 cents a pop to park, no charge for hiking a mile uphill to the main entrance and another half mile to find your seat. Some time ago there was mention of an escalator being installed. Nothing has happened so ol' kid cardiac continues to annoy the weary.

Day ball games start at 1 p.m. just in time to catch the jet wind streams that come up to spoil games around 3 p.m. This wind swirls and roars, generally until about 7 p.m. when it dies down until about 10:30 p.m., just in time to spoil the finish of the night game.

What can be done about it?

One suggestion is day games could be started at 12:15; night games at 7:30 and Sunday games at 12:15. In this way the wind blizzards wouldn't smack the fans so hard.

These suggestions are for the City of San Francisco. If they do their part, maybe the Giants will change the starting times to help out. Visiting newspapermen marvel at the page of death notices in S.F. papers. If they are regular customers at Candlestick Park they may find the reason why.

SEEMS PRETTY evident the 1965 season is going to be a stormy one for pitcher Jack Sanford of the Giants. To last five innings, as a starter, used to be a cinch for Jack but lately things have been switched. Take yesterday when he had a chance for a free ride and blew it after 1⅓ innings, after being staked to a four-run lead.

Jack may be recovering slowly from an arm operation due to a circulatory condition, but he isn't helping Manager Frank's nervous system. That could easily lead to ulcers.

THERE SEEMS to be a lot of speculation over the fate of Orlando Cepeda, injured Giant first baseman.

Will he be traded, sold, or placed on the voluntarily retired list until complete recovery?

No matter how the S.F. club feels about Cepeda, the fact remains he's next to Willie Mays in the high salary bracket. Right now pennant contending clubs are giving a wide berth to injured stars, and particularly those of the Cepeda pac-check-type.

Maybe the Mets or Houston, both building for the future, might be eyeing a chance to acquire the Baby Bull. I said mebbe!

AGE BEFORE beauty might have been the answer to who's number one man behind Manager Herman Franks. When Ump Steiner tossed the Giant skipper out of the Chicago game, Cookie Lavagetto became temporary pilot. Those who observe closely might see in that move a demotion for Charley Fox, third base coach, who for a time was a toss-up choice with Franks to succeed Alvin Dark. However, it could be that Boss Franks felt he could take Cookie off first base, rather than afford the loss of Fox at third. Just guessing, that's all.

FRANKS FLIPS HIS LID

San Francisco Giants manager Herman Franks argued so strongly with plate umpire Mel Steiner yesterday he litterally flipped his lid. The new Giants skipper shook his head so hard his hat fell off during a third inning dispute in the game against the Cubs. Franks was tossed out of the game by Steiner in the dispute over a pitch. Story on page 21.

San Rafael Nine Stuns Front-Running Redwood

San Rafel's Bulldogs, whose rather toothless 3-5 record disguised their painful bite, ambushed the first place Redwood Giants 7-3 yesterday and tightened the Marin Athletic League's baseball race.

The stunned Giants found their lead over second place Terra Linda reduced to one game. And with two games to play, it's still a hot scramble down to the wire. San Rafael, now 4-5, moved into a fourth place tie with Novato in the standings.

Main Giant-killers for San Rafael were Tim Witt, Jay Widmer and Ken Lampert. Witt drove across three runs—including the decisive third and fourth—with a double and single; Widmer slammed a big three-run homer in the fifth inning to ice the game; and Lampert slugged a solo home run in the third inning to start a three-run rally.

All this was accomplished against Scott Murphy, the ace of Redwood's pitching staff who suffered only his second loss of the league season against six victories.

San Rafael started fast in the first inning when Ken Erdman was safe on an error, Rocky Shone singled and Witt cracked his two-run double for a 2-0 lead.

But, in the third Lampert slugged his home run and, with two out, Shone singled, stole second and came home on Witt's second key hit of the game.

Redwood, tailing now 2-4, halved the deficit in the third when Dan Roby scored on an infield out with the bases loaded, but Bulldog pitcher Joe Cunningham got out of the jam with no further damage and blanked the Giants the rest of the way.

San Rafael's insurance tallies in the fifth came when Shone was safe on an error, Witt walked and Widmer followed with his home run.

Hurler's Fine Relief Work Paces Terra Linda 5-4 Win

Relief pitcher Chris Calhoon was the man of the hour for second place Terra Linda yesterday as his arm and then bat sparked the Trojans to a vitally important 5-4 victory over Marin Catholic in a Marin Athletic League baseball thriller at Albert Park, San Rafael.

After Marin Catholic chased starting pitcher Ed Beckley with two home runs during a four-run rally to tie it up at 4-all in the top of the seventh inning, Calhoon came in with no outs and retired the side on a strike out, a walk and a double play.

As if that wasn't enough, the relief hurler started Terra Linda's game winning rally in the bottom of the seventh when, with one out, he tripled. Walks to Dan Herrera and Craig Hill loaded the bases, and then John Forrey attempted to squeeze home Calhoon, but resulted in a force out at the plate. Then Bill Hall came up and delivered a two-out single that scored Herrera with the winning run. It was Hall's third straight hit of the game.

Terra Linda also came up with the MAL's first triple play of the season in the fourth inning when Marin Catholic had men on first and second. Bob Lombardi drilled a liner to first sacker Herrera who doubled the runner off first and rifled a throw to shortstop Forrey to triple the runner off second.

The Trojans scored their first two runs in the third inning on a double by Herrera, two errors and a run-producing single by Hill.

They made it 4-0 in the sixth when Hall doubled, moved to third on a wild pitch, and was squeezed home by Forrey. A single by Ken Pike and an error enabled Forrey to score.

Marin Catholic stormed back to tie it up in the top of the seventh when George King singled, Lombardi homered, Mike Giacomini singled and then catcher John Komo homered. That was when Beckley exited and Calhoon entered, snuffing the uprising and setting the stage for the seventh inning rally that gave Terra Linda its seventh victory against three losses and pulled the Trojans to within one game of first place Redwood.

Drake Baseballers Top Novato, 4-2

Gary Kerch's two-hit pitching and some clutch hitting by Russ Damos powered the Drake Pirates to a 4-2 victory over the Novato Hornets yesterday at Novato.

In posting his fourth victory of the campaign against two setbacks, Kerch aided his own cause by starting a double play that killed a Hornet rally in the third inning. Both Novato hits were singles.

The Pirates scored three times in the third inning when Mike Miller singled, Tony Glodnis walked, Don Humphrey singled for one run and Damos drove in two more with a double.

In the fifth Damos collected his third RBI with a single that scored Glodnis who had walked and moved along ahead of Humphrey's single.

Novato's first run came in the third when Dave Antonio tallied while Kerch, Will Curley and Humphrey were clicking off a double play.

The Hornets' final tally came in the sixth when Ron Rowell walked, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a single by John Youngs.

body might fill in for me a day or two but not for five games.

"I know when I get tired now," continued Mays. "All I need is a day or two. If I could only do that, everything would be fine.

"I'm not bragging and it's a compliment to my ability but when I'm out of the line-up I don't mind pinch hitting. Only when I pinch hit, I usually have to go in for a few innings on defense and this doesn't amount to much rest.

"I even know, sometimes, when I'm going to a slump," said Mays. "I don't like doubleheaders anymore. They take too much out of you. When we play a Sunday doubleheader and then have a Monday game, it's rough.

"But when we play a Sunday doubleheader and then don't have a game until Tuesday night, well that amounts to two days rest for me."

One of the things Mays misses out on is the All-Star rest. He hasn't missed an All-Star game since 1954 and he won't miss one this year."

"If I missed an All-Star game it would be a great break to get the rest. But if I missed one, I wouldn't be the player I am.

"There were times when I didn't get tired. Doubleheaders, All-Star games, exhibitions didn't mean a thing. But then, youth has a way of covering all those things."

PENDING LEGISLATION

Many Changes In Gun Bill

By Edwin S. Capps

SACRAMENTO (CNS — It is confusing, but not amusing, that the battle against unfair and useless firearms control legislation in Sacramento has been progressing well but one of the worst bills to be devised is pending in Washington.

As often happens in the legislative process, S1592 by Senator Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., was a good bill when it started. As a result, it gained widespread support throughout the land. Much of this support still is going on the basis of the original bill, not having learned of the many amendments which have been added.

Originally, the Dodd bill was aimed at controlling indiscriminate sales of firearms through mail-order houses. It was a direct result of that black day in American history in Dallas in November, 1963.

The National Rifle Association had worked with Dodd during hearings and was supporting the bill. Many others, who felt something should be done to control who purchased guns through the mail, such as Governor Edmund G. Brown, felt national legislation was the only way to proceed.

But look what has happened to the bill now, as it comes up for committee hearings in Washington, D.C., May 20.

In at least a dozen places in the 20-page bill there occurs the language "under such conditions as the Secretary (of the treasury) or his delegate by regulations prescribe." As much an infringement as the bill may be, it would provide for even more stringent regulations if the secretary so desired.

All mail-order sales of firearms, including handguns, rifles and shotguns would be banned in interstate commerce. This would apply equally to the ranchers in remote areas who normally would order guns from such outfits as Sears & Roebuck, through the catalogue.

A competitive pistol shooter would have to get a permit from each state he might travel through, or have the pistol transported for him under conditions set by the secretary. It's only a short jump from that to requiring a permit for the Californian who does his deer hunting in Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho or Montana.

Handguns could not be sold to anyone under 21, and shotguns or rifles could not be sold to anyone under 18.

The dealer, in any over-the-counter sale, would be responsible that the buyer had not violated any provision of the act or would not be likely to violate any.

A person shipping a firearm by common carrier would have to give written notice to the postmaster general of the carrier.

A person could not ship or receive any firearms or ammunition which might have been stolen or which he might have reasonable cause to believe were stolen.

The fee for dealer's licenses be increased from $1 to $100. Sportsmen who do their own reloading would have to purchase a $1000 reloading license if they reloaded ammunition for anyone but themselves.

Gun collectors would be required to have dealers' licenses.

And so on, and on. But who is naive enough to think that any of these regulations is going to stop the stick-up artist who needs a gun?

Baseball Expansion Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six House members joined today in a request to baseball Commissioner Ford Frick for expansion of major league baseball and establishment of teams in Buffalo, Milwaukee, Dallas-Fort Worth and one other unnamed city.

They proposed that there be three major leagues of eight teams each instead of the present two with 10 teams each.

The request, which also went to the heads of the American and National Leagues, was made by Reps. Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y., Earle Cabell, D-Tex., James C. Wright, D-Tex., Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and Clemente J. Zablocki, D-Wis.

"By their control over substantially all baseball players, the owners of the existing clubs can largely determine whether and when another club or clubs can enter the business of baseball," they said. "Congress and the nation are watching how the owners will use their privilege."

They proposed:

1. New major league franchises for the 1966 season for Buffalo, Dallas-Ft. Worth, Milwaukee and whichever other city is ready to qualify.
2. A fair system for providing the new teams with players.
3. Extension of pooling of television revenues.
4. Distribution of the expansion clubs among three eight-team leagues.

In New York, Frick said he had received a copy of the resolution "in a private letter from one of the congressmen and that I feel I should answer him with a private letter before I comment in public."

Revival Of Ancient Yacht Race

Marin's biggest sailing ships will pour on all sail Saturday in a resumption of the Master Mariner's Regatta, the first such race since 1891.

The regatta was the first race organized on the Pacific Coast when it was first run in 1867, pitting brigantines, schooners and other working craft against each other in a battle of giants.

Ships will sail from the starting point off the St. Francis Yacht Club, head for Sausalito, then to Fort Point, around Blossom Rock, to Angel Island and end the race off Aquatic Park.

Under the inverted starting system, boats with various handicaps will leave the starting point at different times, all geared to finish at about the same time off the park. Boats will begin racing at 12:30 p.m.

The race is sponsored by the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Propellor Club of the United States, San Francisco chapter, whose shipping line members each will sponsor a boat in the race.

Most crews will be decked out in yachting attire of yore. Skipper Robert M. Allen of Strawberry will have old fashioned sailing medals dangling from his 1900-vintage blazer as he commands his 47-foot schooner Venus, a backyard-built ship.

Olguin Decisions Former Champ

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Sacramento lightweight Joey Olguin won a unanimous 10-round decision last night over former champion Joe Brown.

Brown, a 138 - pounder who fights out of Houston, Texas, went into the ring an 8-5 favorite, but was unable to take advantage of his old punching power and experience edge.

Fairy Tale Over, Says Arkansas Grid Coach

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Frank Broyles, the University of Arkansas football coach, admits there is something grim about him this spring, all because a fairy tale came true.

The fairy tale happened last season when the Razorbacks rolled over 11 straight opponents for a perfect football season.

But much remains to be said.

"We've got more stories to be told in September than ever before," says he, meaning some would-be Razorbacks have to prove themselves — not this spring, for it's too late, but in September, on the eve of the campaign.

Two major problems faced Broyles when spring practice started.

They were:

1. Filling eight vacated positions in a defensive unit that blanked its last five foes last year in regular season.
2. Replacing quarterback Fred Marshall who led the Razorbacks to the Southwest Conference championship and a Cotton Bowl victory over Nebraska.

Neither problem was solved in the 20 days of practice allowed under NCAA rules.

Broyles says injuries to key players hampered defensive progress.

"People we were counting on missed as many as 10 to 12 practices. It's hard to evaluate them when they didn't get a chance to practice," Broyles said.

The quarterback slot is still up for grabs. Jon Brittenum, a 1964 redshirt, may have the inside track with his all-around ability, but the passing of Ronny South and the running of Harry Jones must be reckoned with before a choice is made.

Two years ago Broyles could not settle on one field general and Arkansas finished with a 5-5 record. Last year, with Marshall in control, the Razorbacks had a perfect season.

Broyles said all three quarterbacks improved considerably during the spring. They will have 17 days in September to impress Broyles enough to earn a starting berth on a team that holds the nation's longest major college football winning streak, 12, when it meets Oklahoma State at Little Rock Sept. 18.

Yacht Races Scheduled For This Weekend

Prizes will be awarded after the last race at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere.

By MOLLY MARIN

More teas, luncheons and supper dances have been added to the party roster for the Marin debutantes through the summer months. . . .

Hostesses will be Mrs. Bastian and her daughter, Ellen, who bowed at the first Marin Ball in 1962. On June 29 a luncheon is planned for Claire Ward by her grandmother, Mrs. Edward B. Ward of Belvedere.

JULY PARTIES ADDED to the calendar include a tea on July 14 for Susan Solinsky given by Mrs. William Carewe and Mrs. V. Purn Vorhees at the Vorhees home in Ross. Cigarette Smokers Who Quit Finding Themselves Hungry!

Cigarette sales went on the skids on the January day last year when U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry released his report that in the opinion of the best experts, the government could muster, cigarettes can cause cancer.

United Press International

A bartender in Los Angeles brooded "I quit for six months and gained a pound a day for the first 16 days. I developed a horrible appetite.

"I began smoking again when I got excited at a ball game and a friend shoved a cigarette at me. I've been smoking now for almost six months and I've lost about 18 pounds. I'd like to quit again but I can't see putting on that weight."

IN SAN FRANCISCO a tobacco dealer exhulted "They aren't going to stop smoking. The few that do kick it are being replaced by lots more just starting."

This is the story of what's happened to the nation's cigarette smokers since the great cancer scare of 1964 cooled off. In a nutshell, Americans are smoking more than ever before.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS of Americans swore off. "How to stop" schools and seminars applied the Alcoholics Anonymous treatment to anxiety-ridden nicotine addicts. If a lady was seen puffing a pipe or lighting up a cigar, it was accepted as the healthy, fashionable thing to do.

That didn't last long. Two and half months after Terry's bombshell, a United Press International survey indicated cigarettes were coming back. Now, a year and four months after the report, another UPI survey indicates tobacco men never had it so good.

Of 40 states surveyed, state tax returns from 23 indicated cigarette sales were running better than the record pace of 1963, when 524 billion cigarettes went up in smoke. In nine states sales were at the 1963 level. In only eight states were they down.

IF NOTHING ELSE, it has changed the nation's smoking habits, perhaps permanently. The majority of cigarette smokers no longer get their tobacco straight. It's filtered. Even though many doctors refuse to say a filter makes a cigarette safer, filters now account for 61 per cent of the trade. Menthol cigarettes, a specialty item only a few years ago, now makes up 10 to 15 per cent of the market.

ALL THIS IS LITTLE consolation to those who want Americans to kick the cigarette habit. Despite the discouragingly high sales figures, the anti-cigarette forces have made some progress.

In all likelihood, cigarette sales would be even higher if it weren't for the surgeon general's report and the campaigns which followed.

California state officials figured that under normal circumstances there would have been a 4 per cent increase in tobacco sales in the state last year. There was, in fact, no increase.

It was much the same story in other states. The total advance rarely amounted to much over 2 per cent.

INDUSTRY SOURCES said cigarette sales, keeping pace with population increases, should go up about 3 per cent every year. On this basis, the cigarette boom had been slowed a little, but certainly not stopped. Terry himself said the anti-cigarette forces have just begun to fight.

Last January, on the anniversary of his report, Terry admitted the over all decline in smoking had been small but he still maintained "at least 18 million Americans are now ex-cigarette smokers."

THE SURGEON GENERAL'S report on cigarette smoking dissuaded thousands of Americans from cigarette smoking, but ex-smokers report a new problem—the tendency for an increased appetite for food to replace the nicotine habit. Here Mrs. Reuben Broday, newest member of the Humidor Club of Chicago shows why she has taken up cigar smoking. (UPI Telephoto)

San Francisco—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new, easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Use Of Wedding Ring Traced Back To Egyptian Courtship

Couples on the altar-bound path cover many centuries of tradition on their way. Courtship customs as we know them today were practiced in one form or another long, long ago.

When the engagement is announced, a gift of a diamond ring starts the couple off, if the young man can afford it. This custom harks back to medieval Italians who thought the gem had power to maintain everlasting bliss.

BUT RINGS WERE exchanged—for both engagement and wedding—long before. Primitive man wove a ring made of cord around the waist of the woman he wanted—symbol of binding them together.

Egyptians were the first to use wedding rings in the marriage vow . . . and their rings were made of iron. Other early rings were made of brass, rush, leather and even wood.

The fact that the ring is a circle has always had significance . . . that "mutual love and hearty affection should roundly flow from one person to the other . . . continually and forever," as one 17th-century writer put it.

Why are these rings worn on the third finger of the left hand? Because it was once believed that the "vena amoris" ran from this finger to the heart.

ON THE WAY TO the altar, the bride-to-be amasses a trousseau, a tradition started in France, where brides were purchased from their fathers, but given a "trousse" (little bundle) as compensation. The trousseau hardly differed from a dowry, which originally was an indirect way of paying back the bridgroom for the money or goods that he gave his father-in-law to buy a bride.

In many places today, bridal finery and linens—or trousseau—are collected for girls even as early as five years of age.

Superstition cloaks the bridal trousseau, too. Here's one: if a bit of handwork—even one stitch—is placed by the bride-to-be on every piece that goes into the hope chest, happiness and good fortune will be hers throughout life.

Replacing the cattle, horses and land of olden days, the modern trousseau includes silverware, china, crystal, kitchenware and linens.

BEFORE SHE MARRIES, the engaged girl is likely to be the guest of honor at a bridal shower. This custom originated with the Dutch. It happened by chance when a rich man, whose daughter married a poor miller, refused to give a dowry. Friends of the miller, were sorry for the couple without any worldly goods so they got together and decided each would give a gift, meagre though it be, and that they would all give their gifts at one time, so as not to make them appear to be too trifling.

The wedding ceremony as generally conducted in the Western world today has its origins in religion, and is performed in accordance with the religious custom of the bride and groom. But among many primitive peoples, the mere act of eating together constituted marriage. In the Fijis for instance, the marriage ceremony was considered complete as soon as the pair had eaten from the same dish.

OTHER MARRIAGE rites are also interesting: The custom which prevailed among North American Indians was that the woman gathered together a small bundle of rods, piled them before the man's tent, built a fire, and made a meal cake for him. When and if he ate the cake, they were bound together in wedlock.

Then there are the superstitions surrounding the wedding. The practice of throwing rice after the departing bride and groom originated in primitive times. Among early peoples, rice and grain were emblems of productiveness. Rice was not always the grain used. An old Greek custom was to pour flour and sweetmeats over the bride and groom, to symbolize an abundance of all that is sweet, good and desirable. The early Anglo-Saxons used wheat and other people used corn.

THE OLD SHOES that we tie to the back of the bridal car are supposedly tied to an old Egyptian custom. Legend has it that the father of the bride used to give her sandal to the prospective bridgroom, symbolizing the girl's "transfer" to a new man's care.

WEDDING BELLS originated in England. In medieval times it was customary for the church bells to peal as the bride entered, and again when she left the church. This custom has survived and is still in use today.

You've heard the expression, "Happy is the bride the sun shines on." Primitive men recognized the power of the sun and believed, therefore, that the bride who married on a sunny day would be happy and prosperous.

RESOLUTION NO. 4036 N.S.
RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MILL VALLEY, GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED "HIGH SCHOOL-TIDELANDS ANNEXATION"

WHEREAS, the City of Mill Valley has heretofore filed with the Secretary of the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin a proposal for the annexation of the territory more particularly described in EXHIBIT A attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference, and

WHEREAS, said proposal included a map and specific legal description of the boundaries of the territory proposed for annexation, and

WHEREAS, the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin did thereafter prepare a report upon said proposed annexation with respect to the definiteness and certainty of the proposed boundaries, the nonconformance of proposed boundaries with lines of assessment or ownership, the creation of islands or corridors of unincorporated territory and other similar matters affecting the proposed boundaries, and

WHEREAS, in said report the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin did approve said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, the City of Mill Valley has heretofore filed with the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County a notice of intention to annex the territory more particularly described in EXHIBIT A, and

WHEREAS, said notice contained the specific boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed, and

WHEREAS, the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County, after public hearing, did approve said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, thereafter and on January 18, 1965, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley did adopt its Resolution No. 4026 N.S. giving notice of said proposed annexation, and

WHEREAS, said Resolution No. 4026 N.S. did fix a time and place when and where the City Council of the City of Mill Valley would meet to hear written protests against the proposed annexation made by any person owning real property within the territory, and

WHEREAS, the City Clerk of the City of Mill Valley did thereafter cause notice of said public hearing to be given in the manner required by law, and

WHEREAS, thereafter the Cilty Council of the City of Mill Valley did on March 1, 1965, hold said public hearing and did determine at said public hearing that written protests filed were inadequate to prevent the annexation then pending, and

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley did thereafter adopt its Ordinance No. 624 annexing said territory, and

WHEREAS, GEORGE LEO ZARO, individually, and as a limited partner of ALCAN MARIN, LTD., a partnership, did file In the Superior Court of the State of California In and For the County of Marin a Petition for Writ of Mandate in Civil Action No. 42363, contending that the action of the City Council of the City of Mill Valley in consummating said annexation was invalid for certain reasons, including the following:

(a) That the City Council of the City of Mill Valley was allegedly without jurisdiction to adopt its Resolution No. 4026 N.S. because certain proceedings for the incorporation of some of the same territory were alleged to be pending;

(b) That the City Council of the City of Mill Valley was without jurisdiction to hold its public hearing on said proposed annexation and to adopt its Ordinance No. 624 for the reason that the City of Mill Valley was allegedly required to give notice of said hearing to the State Lands Commission of the State of California, and

WHEREAS, said GEORGE LEO ZARO has contended that because of said claims he was deprived of a fair and proper hearing with respect to said annexation,

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, ORDERED AND DECLARED AS FOLLOWS:

1. This Resolution is adopted and the public hearing hereinafter mentioned is set solely for the purpose of affording to GEORGE LEO ZARO and any and all other owners of property within the area proposed to be annexed and any and all other persons interested therein an additional opportunity to be heard with respect to said proposed annexation and to eliminate any question as to whether such persons were afforded a fair and legal opportunity to be heard on said matter in the proceedings previously had with respect thereto.

2. The boundaries of the territory sought to be annexed by these proceedings are more particularly described in EXHIBIT A attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

3. Said annexation shall be designated the "High School-Tidelands Annexation".

4. The legislative body of the City of Mill Valley has initiated the proceedings for the annexation of said territory on its own motion without requiring a petition. Said proceedings will be conducted pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939.

5. The reasons why the City of Mill Valley desires said annexation are as follows:

(a) Said territory, because of its location and other features, should be governed in its development by the same zoning and planning regulations which govern territory within the City of Mill Valley.

(b) Because of its location, said territory will receive the benefit of and should therefore participate in supporting the municipal services of said City.

6. Notice is hereby given that on the 21st day of June, 1965, at 8:00 o'clock P.M. of said day, or as soon thereafter as said matter may be heard, in the Council Chambers in the City Hall, Mill Valley, California, the City Council of the City of Mill Valley will again meet to hear written protests against the proposed annexation made by any person owning real property within the territory.

7. The City Clerk is hereby directed to cause a copy of this Resolution to be published in the manner prescribed by Section 35311 of the Government Code of the State of California, and said Clerk is further directed to give such other notice of the proposed annexation as may be required by law.

8. The adoption of this Resolution shall in no way affect the validity of or constitute a rescission of Resolution No. 4026 N.S. or Ordinance No. 624 of the City of Mill Valley or any of the proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution or Ordinance.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a meeting of the City Council of the City of Mill Valley on the 3rd day of May, 1965, by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen Wickham, White, Sheeks, Mayor Wornum
NOES: None

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Good Idea To Learn To Use Body Rather Than Abuse It

VAN DELLEN

Growing old involves both mind and body. We do not die as a result of the passage of time but from disease and accidents. The difference between living and existing at 70 often can be traced to misspent early years. Heredity and luck also play a role.

It is better to prevent aging than to patch up the ravages. If the spirit is willing, physicians may be able to maintain the flesh into old age via medical know-how. Some body cells reproduce themselves but not the cells of the nervous system, muscles, and heart. These must last a lifetime and can be spared by paying a little attention to everday living.

FOOD IS ESSENTIAL, but fasting from time to time might be good for us. Most Americans eat too much and could get along on half their daily intake. The quality of food is important and the diet should be balanced to allow the body to carry out normal functions and meet the demands imposed by infections. Excess weight is an added physical burden. Stored fat requires nourishment which in turn demands more blood vessels and puts an additional burden on the heart. Hardening of the arteries is associated with too much fat in the diet.

The body must be used and not abused. Exercise is important because muscles deteriorate, bones become more porous, and the blood vessels lose tone when inactive. The body is stimulated by activity and the tissues function better. Too much work is not advisable when it leads to overfatigue. The body must rest and repair the damage inflicted by abuse and excesses.

EMOTIONAL pressures, such as tension, strain, and worry, raise blood pressure, cause ulcers, and stimulate compulsive eating. Senility is caused by circulatory deficiencies of the brain, but the more common mental disorders are traced to lack of challenge, forced retirement, and feeling unwanted, useless, and out of touch with the modern world.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

VARICOSE VEINS

K.G. writes: I have had trouble with varicose veins. Would surgery help? My friends tell me not to have an operation because drugs can accomplish the same thing. What do you think?

REPLY

Surgery offers the only permanent cure. Take the advice of a physician who has had more experience than your friends with this condition. There are no drugs that eliminate varicose veins.

Behr Speaks For Civic Center Bonds

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr told the Mill Valley Rotary Club yesterday that "the cost of the Sonoma County Courthouse, now under construction, was $2 greater per square foot than the proposed cost for the new Civic Center wing."

"This is proof of the emphasis on economy which has characterized our approach to this new facility," Behr said to the luncheon meeting at the Mill Valley Golf Club, urging passage of a $7,750,000 bond issue for the new Civic Center wing.

Greenbrae School Principal Named

Leonard Heid was chosen Monday night to become principal of Greenbrae School after he and one other candidate were interviewed in closed session by the Kentfield School District board.

Heid, now principal at Ione Olson School in Marina School District in Monterey County, will start in the fall semester at $13,000 a year.

TELEVISION REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV, which can perform such wonders as transmitting color via the Early Bird satellite from Eruope, apparently has trouble correcting a routine list of on-camera credits despite a half-week's notice.

This remarkable fact came to light last night at the start of the network's "The Best on Record" special, which featured performances by some winners of the recording industry's 1965 Grammy Awards, and which listed Louis Armstrong in the opening credits.

Armstrong was to have sung "Hello, Dolly", for which he won the "best vocal performance, male" award. But because of his reported need for dental surgery, he was not able to appear on the hour — a fact which was known to NBC last week and has been in print since.

Yet not only was his opening credit unchanged, misleading and a false come-on, but the pre-planned warmups for him were also included, obviously because of technical reasons, among them the set guest-star introduction by Carol Channing, but still inexcusable.

What happened was that after Miss Channing's introduction, the show took on a pieced-together look when Jimmy Durante appeared to sing "Hello, Dolly" for Louis. This got the hour off to a shaky start, not because of Durante's presence, which is always welcome, but because the whole thing looked sloppy and, obviously, because viewers were not, in fact, hearing the record that won the award for the best vocal performance.

The fact is that, with news and public affairs broadcasts and Early Bird making viewers intensely aware of the quick adaptability of television to technical situations, it is intolerable to accept anything less from video entertainment. This was not a last-minute problem. An NBC spokesman told me of the substitution last Friday.

THE NBC-TV series of specials entitled "Of Men and Freedom" last night presented its second documentary, "The Middle Ages," and, like the first, "The French Revolution," it was a skimpy, pedestrian, paralyzing bore of an hour, coldily impersonal and genuinely insignificant. Someone is bound to give it an award.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV's coverage of next month's planned two-man, four-day Gemini space flight will include live special reports preceding every one of the network's programs during the length of the mission ... Same network's "Wild Kingdom" series, which deals with animals and primitive peoples and places, will return next season.

Broemmel Set To Explain Job

Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, target of criticism for this year's large increases in property assessments on the Tiburon peninsula and in other areas, will explain his methods of operation on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Appearing as guest of Kitty Oppenheimer, Broemmel will answer questions telephoned in by listeners. The hour-long program will be taped for re-play at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Leydecker Hits Aid To Chambers

At nearly every meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors recently, the practice of contributing county money to chambers of commerce and other similar groups has come under attack.

Yesterday Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker went on the attack again, saying the results of the contributions to chambers should be analyzed.

"So far I don't see any appreciable results," Leydecker said. He said, however, that he had an open mind and would be pleased to see evidence to the contrary.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who has attacked the system a rptiromeetis ,gnerqcedy tem at prior meetings, wondered if county contributions might be made on a percentage basis for each chamber's budget.

San Rafael was named for St. Raphael.

SCHOOL 'BARNYARD'

This Little Lamb Is Teacher's Pet

By ELLEN DIETSCHY

Once it may have been a girl named Mary who had an education-seeking lamb. Now it's a sixth-grade teacher at Laurel Dell School, San Rafael, who brings a lamb to school.

The lamb's short, kinked, fleece is tan instead of snow-white but she does go wherever teacher Walter Benson goes, and comes when someone calls her name, Katy.

The three-week-old lamb was bought at an auction for Benson, who is now in his sixth year of bringing barnyard animals into the classroom to teach students how to care for them, according to the principal, Mrs. Lee Heise.

"Many of these youngsters haven't been close enough to barnyard animals before to realize they can be tamed," said Benson, who admits having a "bug" for teaching science with live specimens.

The lamb has a lot of company in Benson's classroom.

There is a grey and white rat who gave birth to several more last week. A caged rattle snake, a gopher and a king snake share their aquarium home with an alligator lizard. And there is a South American boa constrictor.

A tame lamb in a classroom with 35 rambunctious sixth graders might generate concern for the animal's safety in many cases. This is not so in Benson's class, according to Mrs. Heise.

"They have the routine for taking care of Katy down pat," she said.

Benson has a volunteer clean-up crew, called into action often during the day, since three-week-old lambs are seldom house-broken.

Other groups take turns giving milk to Katy in a soft drink bottle topped with a rubber nipple.

"The youngsters are really learning to assume responsibility for the lamb's care, not only in the classroom but also when they get their parent's permissin to bring the lamb home for a weekend," Benson said.

"After I get a note from a parent saying it's all right for the child to have Katy for the weekend, I load the lamb's 'home,' —a refrigerator packing box— and the lamb into my station wagon Friday after school and deliver them to the student's home. Monday morning, before school, I bring the crate and the lamb back to school.

"During class time, Katy usually finds a comfortable place, out from under foot, where she snoozes. If she starts cavorting in the room, I put her in the refrigerator crate to calm down.

"She rarely causes us any trouble at all," Benson said.

But the students and I have an understanding. The moment their attention wanders from classwork to Katy, the lamb goes into her box until recess.

"I do think my neighbors in the 100-block of Brookside Drive in San Anselmo, after seeing Katy in the backyard, were extremely relieved to learn I was not starting a sheep ranch."

Use Of Citrus Marmalade Brightens Breakfast Table

Cooks who enjoy having their own batches of preserves on hand may be interested in putting up some marmalade. If you are a marmalade fan, you know how delicious the homemade product is on hot buttered toast or English muffins.

The following recipe, using oranges, lemons and grapefruit, was tasted in our kitchen and produces a pleasant preserve. Because citrus fruits are high in pectin, they jell well. The trick in making marmalade is to have the fruit tender, and this recipe gives directions for achieving this result.

Marmalade-making does take time because several processes are involved. But if you gain satisfaction from being a "from scratch" cook, you'll probably think the results worth the effort.

CITRUS MARMALADE

- 2 large navel oranges
- 2 large lemons
- 1 large grapefruit
- Sugar and salt.

Wash and dry oranges; cut into 4 to 6 lengthwise wedges. Discard any seeds and the stringy white centers. Slice paper-thin.

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes; slice sections into smaller pieces and add (without juice) to orange-lemon mixture. (Drink juice! Discard grapefruit peel, dividing membranes and any seeds.)

Measure the combined prepared fruit; there should be from 4 to 4½ cups; add 3 cups of hot water for each cup of fruit. Cover and let stand in a cool place overnight.

The next morning, boil gently until lemon peel is tender—30 to 45 minutes. (The test for lemon peel is given because it takes a little longer than orange peel to become tender.)

Divide the fruit mixture into 2 batches. To do this, dip up cup by cup from the bottom of the kettle so that the liquid and solids are evenly distributed. For each cup of prepared fruit, add 1 cup sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt.

Cook each batch separately: stir over moderate heat until sugar dissolves, then boil rapidly until barely at, or not quite at, the jellying stage—this usually takes from 15 to 20 minutes. Quickly skim off any foam and pour boiling hot marmalade to within ⅛-inch from the top of pint or half-pint fruit jars. Place dome lids on jars; screw bands tight. Invert jars for 2 or 3 minutes, then stand upright to cool. If fruit rises in jars, wait until syrup begins to thicken, then shake jar to redistribute fruit. Makes 4½ to 5½ pints. (Prepare jars and lids according to manufacturer's directions.)

Molded Ham Salad Pleases At Luncheon

When you have a pretty special molded ham loaf ready for luncheon, it's easy to approach the occasion with a feeling of confidence for its success.

Tomato sauce gives a good base for this ground ham loaf, advises widely-known meat authority Reba Staggs. Capers and horseradish add interesting flavor touches to sharpen its taste.

There are enough vegetables in this loaf to give it crunchiness, so it might be served with spiced pears or peaches and small muffins or toast triangles such as raisin or rye. An easy dessert would be brownies a la mode served with iced tea or coffee.

PARTY BEST HAM SALAD

- 2 cups ground cooked ham
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- ⅓ cup cold water
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1 cup water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- ¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
- ¼ cup drained pickle relish
- ½ cup thinly sliced celery
- 1 hard cooked egg, sliced

Soften gelatin in ⅓ cup cold water. Combine tomato sauce and 1 cup water in saucepan and heat to boiling. Add softened gelatin and lemon juice and chill until slightly thickened. Stir in ham, capers, horseradish,, mayonnaise, onion, green pepper, pickle relish and celery. Arrange sliced egg lengthwise in a slightly greased 9x5-inch loaf pan. Pour in ham mixture. Chill 4 to 5 hours or until firm. Unmold. Serves 6 to 8.

'Smashing' Sundae Is Ginger Peach-y

Considering the fact that Californians consumed almost 63 million gallons of ice cream (the read McCoy) last year, it becomes apparent that ice cream is a favored dessert in our part of the country. With this in mind we present this Ginger Peach Sunday which, to use today's vernacular, has proven to be a "smashing" success with teen-agers and all-other-agers as a grand finale for a party dinner or for snacking anytime. Recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

GINGER PEACH SUNDAE

- 3 to 4 fresh ripe peaches OR 1 can sliced cling peaches, well drained
- 1 cup maple syrup
- 2 tablespoons chopped crystallized ginger
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream

Peel and slice peaches. Combine syrup, ginger and walnuts. Add peach slices and let stand a half hour or so. Spoon over scoops of vanilla ice cream.

Deep Dish Apple Pie Cheese

MEATBALLS FRANCES

- 1 pound ground lean beef chuck
- 1 tablespoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 slice bread
- 1 to 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Turn the beef, onion and salt into a mixing bowl. Cover the bread with 1 cup cold water; squeeze out the water from the bread and reserve. Add the bread and ½ cup of the water squeezed from it to the meat mixture; mix thoroughly with fork and fingers. Form into about 30 balls, using 1 tablespoon of the mixture for each. In a 10-inch skillet, melt the butter over moderate heat; Add the meat balls; brown on all sides; reduce heat and cook through. Serve with spaghetti and tomato sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

County Moving To Meet Mental Health Demands

By coincidence, several events have occurred in Marin to focus local attention on mental health services during this Mental Health Month of May.

A memorial lecture fund was set up last week for the late Dr. Ernest J. Long, who was clinical director of the Marin Mental Health Center at Ross.

The Center is an outpatient program of the Marin Mental Health Foundation. In January of 1964, this private, non-profit organization opened the first outpatient clinic in the community to serve patients near their homes, as opposed to sending them away to far away institutions.

Men like Dr. Long and groups like the Mental Health Foundation demonstrated the value and pointed out the need of this psychiatric service at the local level.

Since its opening, the Center has served 349 patients, for an average of 28 per month. One-third of these were children and adolescents.

To supplement this private clinic, the county's Short-Doyle clinic opened last January under the direction of Dr. Clyde Miller of the Community Mental Health Services. This clinic provides outpatient psychiatric services for those unable to pay for private care.

The county's concern with the growing need for psychiatric services is not stopping there. Marin General Hospital District directors last week began eyeing the possibility of a million-dollar mental health facility on the hospital grounds.

All of these developments point to a growing recognition, both among private and public agencies, of the importance of local mental health care.

It is also encouraging to see that the public and the private agencies are working in harmony to supplement each other rather than to compete and clash.

Dr. Miller of the county agency reports that there may be some duplication between the county program and the one at Ross. But he believes Marin can more than absorb both services.

Furthermore, within the foreseeable future, it is unlikely that a public program can meet all the treatment needs of those who cannot afford the care of physicians in private practice.

Private agencies can supplement public programs by offering patients and referral sources a choice of service. Also, private agencies can help increase the quality of service to the community.

We take this occasion, Mental Health Month, to laud the efforts, both in the public and private sectors, to provide Marin residents with mental health care—care on a personal level close to home, where other members of the family, close friends, and familiar surroundings can aid in a patient's recovery.

New Zealand Tea Plant

Marin's cool, damp climate resembles that of New Zealand in many ways. Thus, a number of New Zealand native plants thrive here.

One of these, the New Zealand Tea Plant, or Leptospermum, has been blooming in Marin gardens since February and will continue flowering for at least another month. A large evergreen shrub, the New Zealand Tea Plant has pink or red blossoms interspersed with the small, dark-green, needle-like leaves along its branches.

The profligate manner with which it blooms and blooms and its generally handsome appearance, make it a favorite of many Marinites.

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The bottom dropped out of the case against the topless-costumed waitresses in San Francisco's North Beach area.

THE ASSEMBLY Committee on Criminal Procedure, after considering several bills to outlaw topless bathing suit shows and topsy-curvy waitresses, decided the whole area needed a careful study.

But James O. Reimel, state director of alcoholic beverage control, said this has not deterred him in his drive to proceed against licensed premises which employ waitresses or barmaids with only half a costume. As a matter of fact, disciplinary action against two of the North Beach spots currently is pending.

Reimel said he has authority, under the Constitution, to require that waitresses be properly clad. He emphasized he will not take action against entertainers who might leave little to the imagination, so long as they stay on the stage.

"Some of these entertainers, however, are coming down into the audience afterward, often with clothes on," Reimel said, "and accepting drinks from patrons. This is nothing more than the old B-girl routine and will not be tolerated."

So Reimel said he will continue to file accusations against licensees who use topless-clad waitresses and also will take action against premises which feature "phoney fashion shows."

WOMEN ARE NOT allowed behind the bar in premises licensed for on-sale liquor sales, unless they are owners or part-owners of the bar. However, women are permitted to dispense beer from behind the bar in premises licensed only for beer.

"This has been a problem, too," Reimel said. "These girls work behind the bar on raised platforms and they're taking more and more clothes off as time goes on."

Because of the sensitive nature of the alcoholic beverage business, the ABC director has discretionary powers in issuance of licenses and taking action against licensees which are not affected by certain court findings.

If a licensee is charged with sales to a minor, but wins acquittal on the charges in a municipal or superior court, the department still may take action against him. Many have argued that this amounts to double jeopardy and there have been numerous attempts in the Legislature to change this law.

A bill to do this, in fact, is currently before the Legislature, by Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan, R-Chula Vista. It has been approved by the Assembly and now is before the Senate.

This might be the year that such a bill is approved, but it will become law only over Reimel's serious objections.

AS FOR THE topless-clad waitresses, some showing has been made and many lawyers will argue that the mere abbreviation of a costume is not a showing of lewd or dissolute conduct, as defined in the penal code. Reimel, of course, must disagree.

In an industry in which there are specific requirements that bars must have a certain amount of light, that they may not become resorts for perverts, and that female employees may not accept drinks purchased for them by customers, it would be a bit ridiculous to permit semi-nude cocktail waitresses to be moving among the customers.

Junior Cotillion's Leader Pens Thanks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

May I take this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed so generously to the success of the Junior Cotillion Trophy Ball held May 8 . . . to benefit the Campership Fund of the Easter Seal Society? It seemed appropriate that the efforts of my Junior Cotillion students, their parents and friends would make possible the experience and benefits of summer camp for some crippled children.

In particular I want to thank our Mayor Paul Bettini for awarding the trophies . . . assisted by the Dance Masters of America's northern California president, Mrs. Gladys Blankenship and Ed Mulligan, one of baseball's all-time "greats."

Very special thanks go to Don Keown of the Independent-Journal and Bill Thompson of KTIM for their support . . .

Greatest thanks of all go to my students who demonstrated to our guests that there are young people who can really dance . . . standard dances . . . with apparent enjoyment and skill.

Policeman Defended For Use Of Weapon

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In regards to May 12th editorial and Letters to the Editor how easy it is for us to sit in judgment on the police officers who daily risk their lives for us.

Let's face it . . . Today's criminal knows very well that the police officer's weapon is fast becoming obsolete, he really doesn't need it and our crime rate proves it. After all, these burglars, car thieves and felons are just confused and misunderstood.

In the case of Ferranti it really doesn't matter that in his flight he nearly caused several highway fatalities. The officer should have used quiet diplomacy.

When are we going to wake up to the facts of life? With the criticism and abuse heaped on our policemen, it is a miracle we have any at all.

Dancing Teacher Frolich Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Bravo to your Don Keown for recognition of Mrs. Bari Frohlich, director of the Junior Cotillion of Marin. Mrs. Frohlich's resolute efforts to teach preteen and teen-agers proper deportment, and proper dancing skill and style, deserves encouragement from all responsible adults.

Most adults have been misled into lumping together all teenage dances with sloppy attire, fist fights, and such fad dances as the swim, jerk, monkey, etc. The model youngsters found in Mrs. Frohlich's classes and dances are not publicized simply because they are so well behaved.

Parents would do well to observe her classes and see properly dressed youngsters behaving as young ladies and gentlemen, and smoothly dancing foxtrot, waltz, cha cha cha, swing and others. It was quite typically a Frohlich gesture that when she recently staged her annual Cotillion Ball on May 8, all net proceeds were donated to the crippled children's fund of the Easter Seal Society.

Marincello's Major Threat Is In Crime?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The debate on Marincello so far has concentrated largely on the aesthetic aspects . . . to the exclusion of the more important social ramifications.

The greatest curse of excessive density of population is not what is does to the landscape, but what it does to the people involved. There is that anonymity that permits people to act their worst. . . .

San Francisco certainly is not the worst city in the world. But . . . in San Francisco it is not safe to walk alone on the streets at night. . . . One does not open the front door incautiously. . . . Especially in those sections like the Panhandle, where the apartments front on the "green belt," it is best to lock yourself in your car if you have to drive there at night. Otherwise, even while you are halted at a stop light, you might find yourself in real trouble. . . .

It is a weird, unhealthy way of life. This weird way of life never has come to Marin because we have not allowed the population density that breeds it. Despite all the money that is being spent in the present effort, we still have faith that our officials have sufficient integrity so that they will not tamper with this safeguard.

No Marincello For Beautiful Marin

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . The incomparable beauty of our county. To preserve it for our children, un-Frougeized, is the sole motivation of Marincello opponents. Contrary to your recent editorial, no "unsavory" motives impel us to opposition.

But what motivates Frouge (and Gulf Oil)? Simple: To make money. No matter what it does to Marin. With the cold shrewdness marking a business venture, which it is; with unlimited money; and a calculated campaign to put Marincello over on Marin residents, Frouge has bought the services of numerous "consultants" . . . has flooded local newspapers with advertising and press releases to gull us, our Supervisors and Planning Commissioners into believing the unbelievable—that Marincello is inevitable and

(1) will be "the most beautiful planned community in the world"; (2) will return millions in taxes to the county; (3) will be near-invisible with its skyscrapers; (4) will not add to traffic problems with its 31,500 residents; and other fanciful fables.

To erect in the uniquely beautiful Marin headlands area 53 16-story earth-to-sky towers, would be a desecration to haunt us and our children forever. . . .

We are confident that our Supervisors and Planning Commissioners will withstand the lavish brainwashing, blandishments, pressures and influence-peddling of the Frouge-Gulf organizaion; will safeguard the overriding public interest and reflect the sound judgment of Marin residents, by disapproval of this drastic, irreversible character-change for Marin.

BENNETT CERF

WE HAVEN'T heard too much lately about Charley Weaver—or his letters from his ma back home in Mount Idy. But he reported receipt of this new one from the good lady: "Birdie Rodd is pretty upset. Saturday night somebody broke into her house and stole her bathtub. She says whoever did it can keep the washrag, soap, and tub—but she would like to get back her Aunt Minnie."

BOB SATRE, indefatigable researcher of American Revolution data, claims that a British soldier, on the eve of the Battle of White Plains, tripped while he was raiding a well-stocked chicken coop. He fell heavily to the ground, where he was pinned down by a belligerent Rhode Island Red until the Chinese cook employed by the American owners burst upon the scene. "Ho, ho," chuckled the Chinese cook, "Chicken catch a Tory!"

Steel, Aerospace Union Crises Threaten LBJ's Summer Calm

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Substituting for Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson's hands-off policy toward big labor disputes faces a severe test this summer in two critical industries—steel and aerospace.

A strike in either industry would be a severe blow to Johnson's domestic, defense and space programs, and early trouble signs indicate tough sledding in both sets of negotiations.

THE DOUBLE-BARRELED crisis—if it crystallizes—will come at the height of the summer heat in August and could melt the White House resolve to let labor and management work out their own problems.

The steel industry is already balking at a pointed White House hint that it can afford to raise wages 3 per cent without a price hike.

In aerospace, militant union spokesmen predict a crisis if their demands for a union shop —plus a big wage hike—aren't met.

THE STEEL TALKS—resuming May 18 after a May 1 strike deadline was narrowly averted —cover more than 400,000 members of the United Steelworkers Union, AFL-CIO.

Talks in the aerospace industry involve some 150,000 members of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO International Assn. of Machinists.

The earliest new steel strike deadline is Sept. 1, with Aug. 1 the date for serving notice to the 10 major firms involved.

Aerospace contracts with Douglas, Lockheed, Boeing and North American expire at various dates from July to September but auto workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock views August as the critical month.

Steel and aerospace union leaders complain recent contracts have not kept pace with White House guidelines, which judge noninflationary wage hikes on the basis of man-hour productivity increases. For industry as a whole, the figure suggested by the president's Council of Economic Advisers is 3.2 per cent.

In a special report on steel, the council suggested 3 per cent as the guidelines.

THIS NETTLED steel industry officials, who contend it gave union negotiators extra ammunition to carry back to the bargaining table. But the Steelworkers Union says the guideline figure is too low—it wants 17 or 18 cents an hour. Wages and fringe benefits now average $4.40 an hour.

The auto workers say aerospace production and maintenance workers at $2.95 an hour lag behind average wages of $3.07 in the auto industry. The machinists have already laid down a demand for 57 cents an hour spread over three years.

But it is the demand for union security that is expected to trigger the most trouble in aerospace.

The union shop would require all workers covered by the contracts to join the union.

THE AUTO WORKERS are willing to settle for the agency shop, under which every nonmember would have to pay the equivalent of union dues but would not have to join the union.

Congressional hearings scheduled soon on the repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which permits the states to outlaw the union shop, will doubtless heighten the tension in the aerospace talks.

In both steel and aerospace, any strike would shut down the entire industry—not just a few firms.

If this happens, President Johnson might claim the national interest is being injured and he could step in to halt the strike.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Job Corps Criticized By Lawmakers, Boys

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Encouraged by Shriver's backdown to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's demands for a bigger voice in New York's anti-poverty program, an increasing number of congressional delegations are lambasting Shriver for failing to consult them on projects for their states.

Sen. Clinton Anderson, D-New Mexico, a former Cabinet member and one of the president's original political supporters, notified the White House, "If Sarge Shriver hasn't any more control over this program in other states than he has in New Mexico, it's a mess."

HE SARDONICALLY reported, "Shriver never needed any help on a single appointment in New Mexico. His organization is terrible and his aides apparently made all the appointments. He can't run the Peace Corps and the poverty program at the same time and expect to do a half decent job with either organization."

To underscore his complaint, Anderson had all members of the New Mexico delegation sign a letter to Shriver, with copies to the White House, stating:

"We are disturbed that we were not notified of the Office of Economic Opportunity's approval of Camp Luna in San Miguel County as a job corps conservation camp.

"We can well appreciate the president's desire to announce a new series of conservation camps at his press conference. We have no quarrel with that. Following the press conference, our office received inquiries as to which facilities had been approved for New Mexico. We had no information on which to base replies.

"Earlier, one of our offices (Anderson's) inquired of the Office of Economic Opportunity as to the status of Camp Luna; there was no indication that action was imminent. It was not until an hour and a half after the press conference, and after a good deal of telephoning, that we were able to obtain the information from OEO.

"WE STRONGLY suggest that in the future, if the White House should make announcements on other OEO activities in our state, your liaison people promptly notify our offices."

The legislators were less diplomatic in their telephone calls. They made it clear to aides of the president that they wanted to be consulted in advance on poverty projects in their states, and all major appointments cleared through their offices.

Other Democratic congressional delegations have served similar notices on Shriver and the White House. They frankly warned that if the administration expects their help in voting larger amounts for these programs, they must be given a "voice" in the projects and hiring within their states.

Humphrey Is Target Of Kennedy Strategy

By LYLE WILSON
U. P. International

That Johnson-Kennedy feud you have been reading about is no feud at all but merely a perfectly legitimate play by the power-hungry Kennedys to regain the White House when LBJ moves out.

THE KENNEDYS are shooting at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. They have disliked Humphrey for years and now more than ever because Hubert got the vice presidential job Bobby wanted. The Kennedys appear to be thinking in terms of 1972 when it is properly assumed that President Johnson after two terms will attempt to hand over the White House to Humphrey.

Any idea that the Kennedys aspire to block LBJ's renomination in 1968 is ridiculous. It is not possible to prevent the renomination for a second term of even an unpopular president. For proof, examine the political history of 1932 and 1948 when Herbert Hoover and Harry S. Truman, respectively, were renominated.

Johnson would not flinch from a Johnson-Kennedy feud. He invited trouble on that front last year when he disqualified Robert F. Kennedy for the vice presidential nomination. Later LBJ connived with Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York to prevent Robert Kennedy from accumulating a political power base in New York State. The Johnson-Wagner effort is a flop so far.

NOW JOHNSON is tossing Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. into the political ring with Kennedy. He has designated Frank Jr. to be chairman of a five-member Equal Opportunity Commission (EOC).

Roosevelt had been serving obscurely as undersecretary of commerce by appointment of the late John F. Kennedy. Chairmanship of EOC will invite political attention to Roosevelt and increase his availability for nomination to high state office in New York. He is a legitimate New Yorker and he wants to be governor.

FDR Jr. possesses a magic name. His pedestrian political record does not match his initials. After his father's death but while his politically powerful mother was alive and active, New York Democrats refused in 1954 to nominate FDR Jr. for governor. He won the nomination for attorney general, however, and was defeated by Republican Jacob J. Javits, now a U. S. senator and then a member of the House of Representatives.

ON HIS RECORD so far, Robert F. Kennedy should be able to seize control of the New York Democratic organization from the second- and third-raters now in charge. Frank Jr. and his inherited political glamor may help them to check Bobby. But Kennedy will remain the ablest operator in the New York State Democratic Party.

What Bobby needs now to help him in 1972 to send Humphrey back to full-time chairmanship of Americans for Democratic Action is a solid power base in New York State. Of course he needs brother Teddy's Massachusetts, too. So far the Kennedys are doing all right. It is their misfortune that to stop Humphrey they must affront Johnson. That is a dangerous play.

Civil Rights Protest Tactics Filtering Down To Family Level

WASHINGTON — The real problem with all the sit-ins, stand-ins, teach-ins, etc., is that college students are not the only ones involved. They're now trickling down to high school and even grammar school students.

At the Alice Deal Junior High School in Washington eighth-graders have not only protested the quality of the food in the cafeteria, but have also demanded the right to chew gum in school as well as to have television and music at noon.

IT'S NO SECRET that American youth is in revolt. Even in my own family I've seen the effects of all the newspaper coverage of the various protest movements on my three children.

In the morning, for example, we have a lie-in, with all three children refusing to get out of bed to get ready for school.

Using an umbrella, which is the nearest thing to a cattle prod that we've got, I usually manage to make them move.

When they're finally dressed, we are then faced with a sit-in at the kitchen counter. Our sit-in is different than the civil rights sit-in in that, while we are willing to serve them breakfast, they're protesting the fact that they have to eat it.

If we yell at them, they scream, "Police brutality!" and leave the house in a huff.

THE NEXT demonstration usually takes place around 3:30 in the afternoon when the kids start picketing the house. They usually do their picketing where we've just planted new grass seed or tulip bulbs.

The big difference between our children's picketing and civil rights picketing is that in civil rights picketing the dogs are on the side of the police, while at our house the dogs are on the side of the pickets—and if we try to move the pickets away the dogs will growl and jump us.

Some of the larger issues that the pickets feel strongly about are baths before dinner, or, on the other hand, baths after dinner, our reactionary policy against skate boards, and the fact that they have to change their school clothes before they go out to play.

There is also a feeling that their rights are being violated because we make them put their bikes away before they come in.

In the evenings the demonstrations consist of sit-ins in front of the television set. Every time we try to drag them away, they link arms and start to sing "We Shall Not Be Moved." When we start prodding them again, they go limp and we have to carry them off.

THE FINAL PROTEST takes place between 9:30 and 10 o'clock at night, when they hold a stand-in in the hall and refuse to go to bed.

This is the time when we would prefer a lie-in, but they insist on remaining on their feet until we practically knock them down.

Once again the forces of law and order in our house are charged with brutality and an unwillingness to treat them as equals.

There is no doubt that all the children in the counry are being affected by the civil rights and college demonstrations and no one knows where it will end.

JUST THE OTHER DAY my eight-year-old found out what a boycott was, and now none of the children are speaking to us at all.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Peter Lind, bartender in San Rafael for two years, opened a tavern at 1541 Fourth Street, named the 40 Thieves.

Rehabilitation of Tamalpais High School won support of voters but a $640,000 bond issue for expansion failed.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, locked the senate in its chambers for more than an hour while he argued and cajoled senators into passing his bill to take the Golden Gate Bridge into the state highway system. (It later failed in the Assembly.)

Today is Wednesday, May 19, the 139th day of 1965 with 226 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

Dame Nellie Melba, the Australian operatic soprano, was born on this day in 1859.

On this day in history:

In 1536, Anne Boleyn, wife of Henry VIII of England, was beheaded in London.

In 1940, William Allen White, the editor of the Emporia, Kan., Gazette, helped organize the Committee to Defend America by aiding the Allies.

In 1945, more than 400 U.S. Superfortress bombers soared over Japan, attacking Tokyo and laying mines in vital sea lanes.

In 1964, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama won 42 per cent of the votes in a primary election in Maryland. It was one of several primaries Wallace entered and the voting was viewed as reaction to civil rights activities.

A thought for the day—Greek playwright Epictetus said: "No man is able to make progress when he is wavering between opposite things."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Attack The Weak Spot Rather Than Strength

When the opponents bid three suits but never suggest notrump you may usually assume that the unbid suit is their weak spot.

Lead the unbid suit on the principle that the opening lead should attack weakness, not strength.

Opening lead — ♡ 2

West paved the way for his own downfall when he failed to open diamonds, the unbid suit. A diamond lead would develop four tricks for the defender: two diamonds and their two aces.

ACTUAL HEART

South played the jack of hearts from dummy at the first trick, losing to the queen. Unable to attack diamonds from his side of the table, East returned a trump.

Declarer won in dummy with the king of clubs, ruffed a heart, and drew two rounds of trumps.

LED SPADE

Then he led a spade to dummy's king. East wisely refused the trick, whereupon South ruffed another heart, dropping East's ace.

Declarer next led another spade. East had to take the ace this time, since otherwise dummy could cash a good heart.

But now East could not keep dummy out of the lead. If East returned a spade, dummy would obviously gain the lead with a high spade.

REST EASY

When East desperately returned a low diamond, declarer let it ride around to dummy's queen. The rest was easy.

West might have had reason to fear a diamond opening lead if his diamonds had been headed by the king.

But there was nothing dangerout about leading from J-x-x-x when the bidding made it clear that the opponents had nothing much in the suit.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond.

You have only 13 points in high cards, but you also have three tens and a nine. Open a borderline hand when you have good intermediate cards.

Marin's Civic Center Becomes Art-Lovers' Showcase

The Marin County Civic Center is playing host this month to the natural offspring of its own dazzling design.

Looming in the corridors and popping up behind the plants in the center's interior gardens is the new breed of sculpture.

The exhibit of sculpture, with the sweeping curves of welded steel and bronze that are the trademark of the avante garde art, has been somewhat ominously named "The Growing Edge of California Sculpture" by its sponsor, the Marin Museum Assn.

But when viewed in the context of the architecture of the building itself, the sculpture is not ominous; it is hardly unusual.

The center and the exhibit are, artistically, two of a kind and—because of this—complement each other to the extent that people passing through might well ask:

"Where does the building end and the sculpture begin?"

STUDY IN CONTRAST—Mrs. Gordon Lowe and Mrs. Marston Hecht inspect the work adorning the Civic Center fourth floor west deck. Entitled "Vestigo," it is by Henri Marie-Rose, and is priced at $750. Its squared, chunky form contrasts strongly with the long, curving lines of the unique building, adorned with innumerable spheres and semicircles.

SAINT AND STEED—A more representational work by Henri Marie-Rose is this metal "Saint Denis." Its neighbor in the Marin Museum Assn. exhibition at the Civic Center is sculptor Robert Howard's "Horse," a spirited, small mobile that has fascinated viewers.

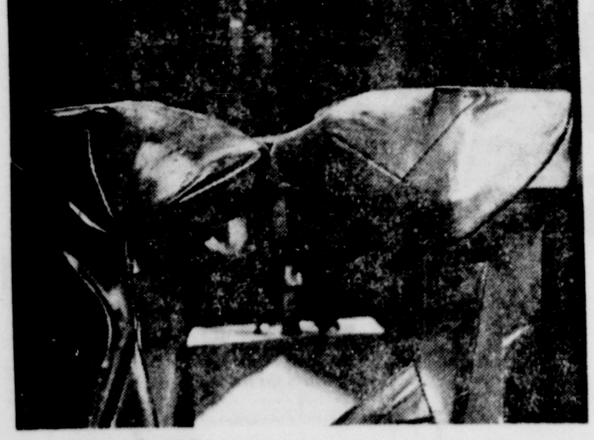
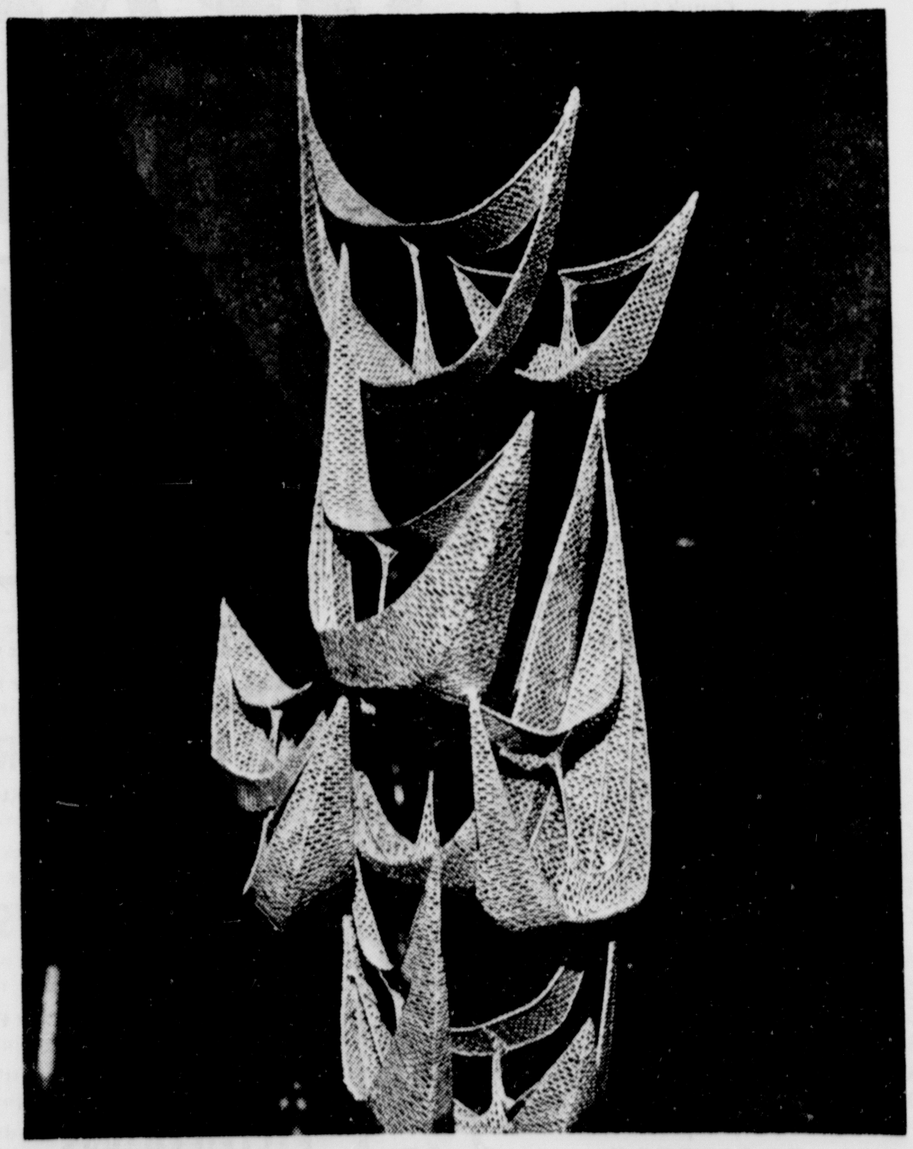
AMONG THE FLOWERS—Brilliantly lighted from the curving roof of the Frank Lloyd Wright skywell, the sometimes static, sometimes mobile works of "The Growing Edge of California Sculpture" are remarkably set off by the sweeping lines of the building and the forms and colors of living plants. After close-up inspection of the sculptors' works, the viewers may get additional views of them from many other positions.

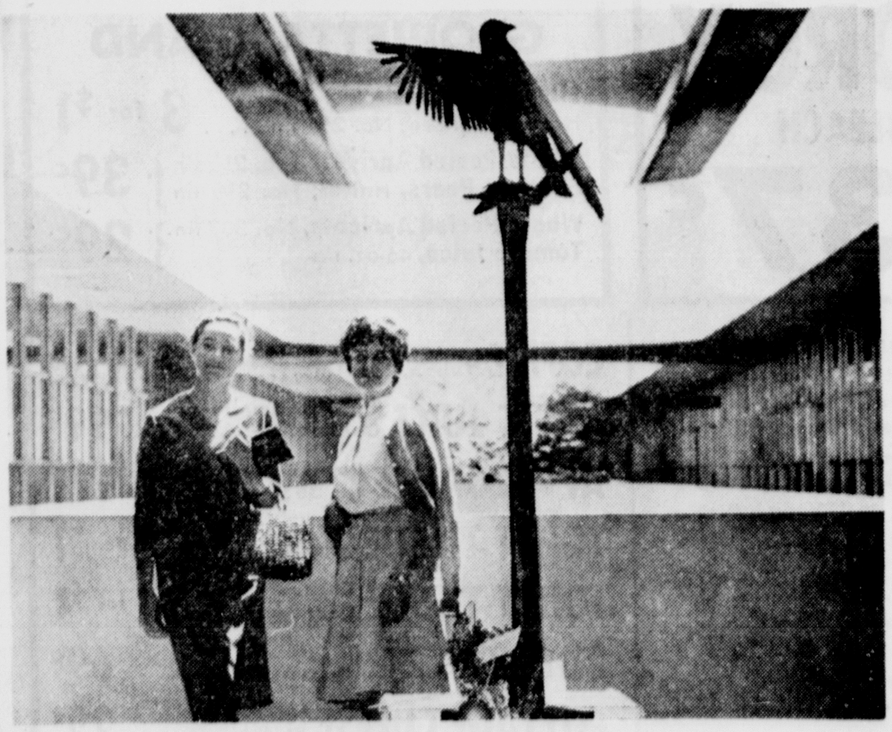


UNIQUE MATERIAL—"Two Figures," by Mel Henderson, is fashioned of leather, a material usually more favored by craftsmen than by full-fledged artists. The sculpture, shown on the first floor of the Civic Center, is priced by the artist at $225.

LUNCHEON COMPANIONS — Among the more monumental works in the Civic Center "May In Marin" display is this anodized aluminum creation, named "Exulation" by its creator, Anthony Melendy. The Los Angeles sculptor received a $250 award from the exhibition's judges, for his entry in the show sponsored by the Marin Museum Assn. The tall composition accents the open-air lunchroom and fountain outside the building's third level. Its price tag is $5,000. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)



GOSSAMER METAL — One of the highlights of the many pieces on display among the plantings in the first floor light well of the Civic Center is "Sails," created of welded iron by Priscilla Kapel and valued at $1,000. Some of its viewers have agreed with the title, some have expressed a feeling of flamelike quality in the forms of the work.



ANCIENT BUT MODERN—Robert Kingsbury's creation in wood of "Hawk With Dead Finch" on the Civic Center's second floor is admired by Miss Linda Koehler and Mrs. Robert Adams. The stylized bird forms suggest to some onlookers the murals and sculptures of ancient Egypt. The sculptor's price on the work is $700. Few sculptors create works they think will regularly be viewed from far above, and some may have been surprised by what happened to their forms and outlines when seen from the third deck light well of the Civic Center (left photo). Art-lovers, though, are happy with the opportunity to view many of the sculptures thus.

Veterans Continue To Hit Memorial Auditorium Plans

Veterans criticism of plans for the Veterans memorial auditorium to be built at the Civic Center still has not been quieted.

W. P. Duhamel, former county veterans service officer, told the board of supervisors yesterday that the preliminary plans had at least two serious faults which should be reviewed.

He said he wrote the board about it, but was told by Administrator Alan Bruce that the suggestions would not be taken up until June 15.

Duhamel said the proposed ticket office for the auditorium is separated from the main building by a breezeway for autos. This would mean that anyone on foot trying to buy a ticket would have to dodge cars.

He also pointed out that when the building is partitioned with the sloping floor separated from the flat floor area, those using the flat floor area will have no accesss to restrooms.

Duhamel thought these things should be taken up as soon as possible to assure their correction before it is too late. The board, however stuck by its decision to consider all suggestions June 15.

Youth Committee

The Mill Valley Youth Advisory Committee will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall, chairman Richard Parino said today. The meeting was originally set for last night.

San Francisco, Marin May Study Transit

Marin County and the City and County of San Francisco may be getting together, at least on the committee level, over the transportation problem.

Peter H. Behr, chairman of the Marin Board of Supervisors, asked fellow supervisors yesterday if he could be authorized to negotiate for a committee session on mutual transportation problems. They agreed.

$100,000 Suit Filed In Injury

Ralph E. Pherson, 1111 Lincolin Avenue, San Rafael, Monday filed a $100,000 personal injury suit in Marin Superior Court against Regal Stations, Inc.

Pherson, represented by Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini of San Rafael, alleges negligence by Regal Service Station at Lincolin and Fifth avenues in San Rafael caused him to fall on gasoline-slick pavement last Sept. 8.

He suffered body injuries and shock, the suit charges.

Non-Com Is Honored

Sgt. 1/c James D. Reddick, former administrative noncommissioned officer of the safety division, sixth region, Army Air Defense Command, Fort Baker, received a certificate of achievement for his duty from Sept. 21, 1962, to April 30 when he retired.

Half Of Family Slated For Europe Trips

Half of the Theodore E. Smith family of 457 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax, will visit Europe this summer under the Experiment in International Living program.

Roberta E. Smith, 16-year-old junior at Sir Francis Drake High School, will live with a family in France, and her sister, Rosemary, a senior at University of California at Santa Barbara, will live with a family in Poland.

Roberta is to leave New York June 29 for a two-month stay. Rosemary will start on her trip June 12, the day after graduation.

Roberta was selected for the trip by the Experiment in International Living Committee at Drake High School, who raised $600 for trip expenses at a rummage sale in February. She is vice president and past president of the student art club and a member of the Drake Diplomats, an international friendship club.

It will be the third trip to Europe for Rosemary, who went to France under the Experiment in International Living after her graduation from Drake High, and studied a year at University of Aberdeen, Scotland.

The two are the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Smith, who are scheduled to remain in the United States this summer.

Angel Island 'Train' Set For Service

An "elephant train" (for lack of a better description) is expected to begin operation on Angel Island next month.

Tiburon resident Milton McDonogh, who operates a ferry service to the island, will manage the train operation over the road which encircles the entire island.

McDonogh explained that the "train" will consist of a small motor-driven vehicle for the driver which will tow behind it a low, open vehicle seating 35 persons. Passenger automobiles are not allowed on the island.

Visitors to the island state park still will not be allowed to walk outside the Hospital Cove area until brush is cleared to cut the fire hazard and until some non-historic buildings are demolished, park supervisor John A. Biggio said. The island draws more than 1,500 persons a weekend during the summer.

County Flood Control Zone Proposal Backed

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday heard several arguments in favor of creating a countywide flood control zone and one argument against it.

The opposition came in a letter from the City of Belvedere, which told the board that Belvedere flood problems are minor and citizens are not willing to pay taxes there in support of flood control work elsewhere in the county.

Supervisors adopted a resolution backing State Senate Bill 1389, which would permit a county to create a countywide flood control zone, and told Frost to attend a hearing in Sacramnto Monday to testify in favor of the bill before the Senate Committee on Water Resources.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said a countywide zone would have the additional advantage of solving his current problem with the cities of San Anselmo, Ross and Fairfax. He has been trying to persuade the cities to join a flood control district to finance maintenance of the Corte Madera Creek project. He has been unable to get cities to agree to this.

Frost said a countywide zone would eliminate the present multiplicity of zones, greatly reduce administrative paper work, make it possible to establish a revolving fund for interim financing, make it easier to explore sources of money other than local taxes, and resolve the problem created through lack of conformity between watershed boundaries and political boundaries.

Fairfax G.I. Honored

Strep Infections Lead Disease List

There were 75 cases of streptococcic infections reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

Other communicable diseases reported during the week were measles, 14; gonorrhea, 6; syphilis, 4; mumps, salmonella, serum hepatitis and amebiasis, one each.

San Rafael Schools Set Music Fete

San Rafael City Schools instrumental music festival at 3 p.m. Sunday in San Rafael High School gymnasium will be dedicated to the three retiring board of education members.

Featured in the program will be 700 instrumental students from fourth through twelfth grades as well as choirs from San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools.

Supt. of Schools Bert C. Corona will present $1,050 worth of awards and scholarships made possible by Parent-Teacher Assn. contributions and festival ticket sales. There will be special awards in the names of two donors, Vlado Kolitsch and Sharon Johnson.

First section performances will be orchestral, with Terra Linda providing the first movement of Mozart's Symphony No. 40 and San Rafael High playing Puccini's Symphonic Fantasy plus excerpts from "The Bartered Bride" by Smetana.

This will be followed by choral and band performances.

Why so many Dentists Say Clean Dentures This Way...

Special "fast-soak" formula restores original whiteness

Abrasive pastes or hard brushing may scratch dentures... cause 'teeth' to be dropped or broken. But today dentists know how soaking in KLEENITE beats even the hardest brushing with an ordinary dentifrice.

Fast-acting KLEENITE combines three stain-removing actions: (1) detergent; (2) oxidizer; and (3) solvent.

With this special triple-action formula, KLEENITE safely soaks away discolorations and dingy smoke stains... soaks away embedded stains that pastes and brushes can't even reach. Get KLEENITE today at drug counters.
